Irish Writing in the Twentieth Century David Pierce, 2000 Arranged chronologically by decade from the 1890s to the 1990s each decade is divided into two different types of writing critical documentary and imaginative writing and is accompanied by a headnote which situates it thematically and chronologically The Reader is also structured for thematic study by listing all the pieces included under a series of topic headings The wide range of material encompasses writings of well known figures in the Irish canon and neglected writers alike This will appeal to the general reader but also makes Irish Writing in the Twentieth Century ideal as a core text providing a unique focus for detailed study in a single volume

BOOK JACKET Bear in Mind These Dead Susan McKay, 2009-04-02 A moving and timely work which captures the lasting pain and grief of those who lost loved ones during the Troubles Eoin McHugh Sunday Independent Nearly 4 000 people were killed during the Troubles Susan McKay s book explores the difficult aftermath of the violence for families friends and communities By interviewing those who loved the missing and the dead as well as some who narrowly survived McKay gives a voice to those who are too often overlooked in the political histories She has found grief and rage as well as forgiveness This book is a powerful and important contribution to the Northern Ireland power sharing process Only by confronting the brutality of the past can there be any hope that the dead may finally be laid to rest An exemplary undertaking a necessary book which restores humanity to those among the dead who tend to be remembered in terms of statistics alone Susan McKay has gone about her difficult task with bravery and finesse Patricia Craig Independent Peace can only endure if the dead can finally be laid to rest Bear in Mind These Dead is a moving and important contribution to that process Derry Journal Tremendously moving Anyone who wants to understand the sectarian conflict of Northern Ireland must examine the individual tragedies that go to make up the broader narrative This is the grim task to which McKay so admirably applies herself Andrew Anthony Observer

Writing Home Elmer Kennedy-Andrews, 2008 The idea of place and of being displaced is a powerful leit motif in Northern Irish poetry It is here explored in depth from the 1960s to the present day Ideas of home place and identity have been continually questioned re imagined and re constructed in Northern Irish poetry Concentrating on the period since the outbreak of the Troubles in the late 1960s this study provides a detailed consideration of the work of several generations of poets from Hewitt and MacNeice to Fiacca and Montague to Simmons Heaney Mahon and Longley to Muldoon Carson Paulin and McGuckian to McDonald Morrissey Gillis and Flynn It traces the extent to which their writing represents a move away from concepts of rootedness and towards a deterritorialized poetics of displacement mobility openness and pluralism in an era of accelerating migration and globalisation In the new readings of place inherited maps are no longer reliable and home is no longer the stable ground of identity but seems instead to be always where it is not The crossing of boundaries and the experience of diaspora open up new understandings of the relations between places a new sense of the permeability and contingency of cultures and new concepts of identity and home Professor ELMER KENNEDY
