Anne Stuart RITA award winning author DIAGNOSIS: DADDY Jule McBride, 2011-07-15 Years ago seven mysterious matchmaking millionaires secretly started an adoption agency in Manhattan called Big Apple Babies. Francesca Luccetti wanted it all including motherhood. Except she didn't want or have a man. But when she meets sexy cowboy Winston Doc Holiday Frankie is stopped cold by the fiery heat of sexual desire she finds in his arms. Doc had traded in his ranch but not his boots for the concrete canyons of New York where he's called upon to play hero by a hysterical cabbie with a pregnant woman in his back seat. But it's only after he's delivered the baby that he sees its mom Frankie the very woman he's been unable to get off his mind for months nine months to be exact. Has he just delivered his own baby. A bright star on the romance horizon. Anne Stuart RITA Award winning author Who's Been Sleeping in My Bed? Jule McBride, 2011-07-15 Let's Celebrate A pregnant woman had stolen his identity. After months overseas New York Times journalist Max Tremaine returned only to have the door of his brand new suburban home opened by a sexy pregnant stranger. Apparently the curvy redhead had been living in Max's house draining his bank accounts and using his name for an alias. In fact Maxine Tremaine has become a pillar in Max's community and now she was claiming he was a mere bodyguard hired to protect her from her supposed ex. Going undercover in his own home Max soon realized he'd stumbled onto the scoop of his career. Accused thief Lo Lambert was wanted for far more than stealing Max's identity. Trouble was she and the neighborhood matchmakers were now dead set on her stealing Max's heart. Where Are They?!?! Tere Barron Pinkney,2021-01-21 If you are of the Erma Bombeck era you will love this book It shares the truth of Motherhood in a way that is pleasantly relatable No matter your age the experiences of Motherhood never change ENJOY Christianity Today,1980 Books in Print Supplement,2002 We Have Raised All of You Katy Simpson Smith,2013-11-04 White black and Native American women in the early South often viewed motherhood as a composite of roles ranging from teacher and nurse to farmer and politician Within a multicultural landscape mothers drew advice and consolation from female networks broader intellectual currents and an understanding of their own multifaceted identities to devise their own standards for child rearing In this way by constructing interpreting and defending their roles as parents women in the South maintained a certain degree of control over their own and their children's lives Focusing on Virginia and the Carolinas from 1750 to 1835 Katy Simpson Smith's study examines these maternal practices to reveal the ways in which diverse groups of women struggled to create empowered identities in the early South We Have Raised All of You contributes to a wide variety of historical conversations by affirming the necessity of multicultural not simply biracial studies of the American South Its equally weighted analysis of white black and Native American women sets it distinctly apart from other work Smith shows that while women from different backgrounds shared similar experiences within the trajectory of motherhood no universal model holds up under scrutiny Most importantly this book suggests that parenthood provided women with some power within their often circumscribed lives Alternately restricted oppressed belittled and enslaved women sought to embrace an identity that would give them some sense of self respect and self worth The rich and varied roles that mothers inherited Smith shows afforded women this empowering identity The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2001 Michigan Christian Advocate,1893 Children's Emotions in Europe, 1500 - 1900 Jeroen J. H. Dekker,2024-04-04 This book gives you the historical sensation of coming face to face with the bodily expression and regulation of children's emotions over time The study does this by encouraging you to look through the eyes of well known artists like Albrecht Dürer Domenico Ghirlandaio Jan Steen Antony van Dyck Rembrandt and Titian in early modern Europe and Jean Baptiste Simon Chardin Thomas Lawrence Jean Honor Fragonard Philipp Otto Runge Willem Bartel van der Kooi Paul Gauguin Auguste Renoir and Jozef Israëls in the late 18th and 19th centuries These sources are supplemented by works from less famous artists as well as popular emblem books child advice manuals observations from the emerging child sciences and personal documents Jeroen Dekker observes children's emotions mainly in the child's world and in the domestic emotional space and connects them with history's ongoing underlying discourse on education and the emotions This discourse was developed by theologians philosophers and moralists like Augustine Aquinas Erasmus Descartes Jacob Cats John Locke and Jean Jacques Rousseau by Romantic educationalists like Friedrich Fröbel and Ellen Key and by scientists like Charles Darwin and William James who emphasized the biological instead of the moral fundament of children's emotions The story of children's emotions is told in the context of cultural movements like the Renaissance Humanism the Reformation the Enlightenment Romanticism and the starting Age of Child Science Children's Emotions in Europe 1500 1900 crucially highlights the continuous co existence of regulation oriented and child oriented educational views on children's emotions
