Field,Amritjit Singh,Samina Najmi,2022-02-15 Critical Perspectives on Chitra Banerjee

Divakaruni Feminism and Diaspora offers insights into Chitra Banerjee Divakaruni's provocative and popular fiction. In their engaging and comprehensive introduction, editors Amritjit Singh and Robin Field explore how Divakaruni's short stories and novels have been shaped by her own struggles as a new immigrant and by the influences she imbibed from academic mentors and feminist writers of color. Twelve critical essays by both aspiring and experienced scholars explore Divakaruni's aesthetic of interconnectivity and wholeness as she links generations, races, ethnicities, and nations in her depictions of the diversity of religious and ethnic affiliations within the Indian diaspora. The contributors offer a range of critical perspectives on Divakaruni's growth as a novelist of historical, mythic, and political motifs. The volume includes two extended interviews with Divakaruni offering insights into her personal inspirations and social concerns while also revealing her deep affection for South Asian communities as well as an essay by Divakaruni herself, a candid expression of her artistic independence in response to the didactic expectations of her many South Asian readers. Relocating Consciousness Daphne Grace, 2007

This book deals directly with issues of consciousness within works of postcolonial and diasporic writers. It discusses fiction, autobiography, and theory to reformulate a writing of consciousness addressing contemporary cultural theory related to a wide range of dynamic writers and ground-breaking novels. A critical analysis of literature contextualises consciousness understood here as the source of language and human creativity and explores ways in which consciousness is involved in the creative process. Tackling the controversial nature of consciousness itself, the book argues that consciousness must be understood in its philosophical and social contexts. The idea of relocating consciousness calls for a new aesthetics and ethics of living in the diasporic world where we are all to some extent migrant. The book explores notions of consciousness as alternative narrative structures to society while expanding contemporary postcolonial theory beyond the limited dimension of power based on violence to a more visionary exploration of experience based on consciousness as unity in diversity. Themes explored include sacred experience, empowerment, trauma, terror, and the impact of consciousness, cosmopolitanism, and globalisation and the literature of human survival. Written in a lively and accessible manner, the book will appeal to all readers who enjoy being on the cutting edge of contemporary world literature. Salman Rushdie in the Cultural Marketplace Ana Cristina Mendes, 2016-03-23 Taking up the roles that Salman Rushdie himself has assumed as a cultural broker, gatekeeper, and mediator in various spheres of public production, Ana Cristina Mendes situates his work in terms of the contemporary production, circulation, and consumption of postcolonial texts within the workings of the cultural industries. Mendes pays particular attention to Rushdie as a public performer across various creative platforms, not only as a novelist and short story writer but also as a public intellectual, reviewer, and film critic. Mendes argues that how a postcolonial author becomes personally and professionally enmeshed in the dealings of the cultural industries is of particular relevance at a time when the market is strictly regulated by a few multinational corporations. She contends that marginality should not be construed exclusively as a basis for understanding Rushdie's work since a critical grounding in marginality will predictably involve a reproduction of the traditional postcolonial binaries of oppressor oppressed and colonizer colonized that the writer subverts Rather she seeks to expand existing interpretations of Rushdie s work itineraries and frameworks in order to take into account the actual conditions of postcolonial cultural production and circulation within a marketplace that is global in both orientation and effects

Postcolonial Literary Geographies John Thieme,2016-06-10 This book examines how ideas about place and space have been transformed in recent decades It offers a unique understanding of the ways in which postcolonial writers have contested views of place as fixed and unchanging and are remapping conceptions of world geography with chapters on cartography botany and gardens spice ecologies animals and zoos and cities as well as reference to the importance of archaeology and travel in such debates Writers whose work receives detailed attention include Amitav Ghosh Derek Walcott Jamaica Kincaid Salman Rushdie Michael Ondaatje and Robert Kroetsch Challenging both older colonial and more recent global constructions of place the book argues for an environmental politics that is attentive to the concerns of disadvantaged peoples animal rights and ecological issues Its range and insights make it essential reading for anyone interested in the changing physical and human geography of the contemporary world
