learns about life and death freedom and justice as he comes of age in the Canadian prairies W.O. Mitchell Country Courtney Milne, Ormond Mitchell, Barbara Mitchell, 1999 When W O Mitchell died in February 1998 Canadians all across the country mourned the death of a much loved writer But it was in the West that his loss was felt most keenly For he was one of them a Westerner a man who had grown up in Weyburn gone to University in Winnipeg and then spent most of his life in High River and in Calgary His writing in Who Has Seen The Wind Jake and the Kid The Vanishing Point How I Spent My Summer Holidays and many other books brought their part of the world alive on the page so that millions of readers seemed to breathe fresh Western air as they turned the pages of his works His family represented by his son Orm and daughter in law Barbara were pleased by the idea of an illustrated book that would show W O Mitchell country provided that it included prairie and foothills and mountains This book carefully gives full weight to both parts of what we affectionately call W O Mitchell country And from the outset the Mitchells knew that the excerpts of W O s landscape writing that they would select deserved to be matched by superb photographs produced by an artist of equal skill and sensitivity Enter Courtney Milne the justly famed photographer of landscapes around the world but especially of his beloved prairies Prairie boy and long time admirer of W O s work he jumped at the chance to produce this book With the help of the Mitchell family he tracked down sites that W O had known and written about In addition he combed through his vast treasure store of photographs to try to find the single image that perfectly matched a chosen piece of W O s prose In the end from over 18 000 photographs over 18 000 he and the group assembling this book chose the best 200 none of them published before The result is a magical blend of text and pictures that is greater than the sum of its parts This classic volume sets a new standard for illuminating a writer s words and bringing alive the poetry of earth and sky Open the book Read it You will see High River and the Times Paul Voisey, 2004-01-30 Founded in 1905 the High River Times served a community of small town advertisers and an extensive hinterland of ranchers and farmers in southern Alberta Under the ownership of the Charles Clark family for over 60 years the Times established itself as the epitome of the rural weekly press in Alberta Even Joe Clark the future prime minister worked for the family business While historians rely heavily on local newspapers to write about rural and small town life Paul Voisey has studied the influence of the Times on shaping the community of High River Foreword by Rt Hon Joe Clark PC CC

Writing in Dust Jenny Kerber, 2011-03-17 Writing in Dust is the first sustained study of prairie Canadian literature from an ecocritical perspective Drawing on recent scholarship in environmental theory and criticism Jenny Kerber considers the ways in which prairie writers have negotiated processes of ecological and cultural change in the region from the early twentieth century to the present The book begins by proposing that current environmental problems in the prairie region can be understood by examining the longstanding tendency to describe its diverse terrain in dualistic terms either as an idyllic natural space or as an irredeemable wasteland It inquires into the sources of stories that naturalize ecological prosperity and hardship and investigates how such narratives have been deployed from the period of colonial settlement to the present It then considers the ways in which works by both canonical and more recent writers ranging from Robert Stead W O Mitchell and Margaret Laurence to Tim Lilburn Louise Halfe and Thomas King consistently challenge these dualistic landscape myths proposing alternatives for the development of more ecologically just and sustainable relationships among people and between humans and their physical environments Writing in Dust asserts that reading environmentally can help us to better understand a host of issues facing prairie inhabitants today including the environmental impacts of industrial agriculture resource extraction climate change shifting urban rural demographics the significance of Indigenous understandings of human nature relationships and the complex often contradictory meanings of eco cultural metaphors of alien invasiveness hybridity and wildness Encyclopedia of Post-Colonial Literatures in English Eugene Benson, L.W. Conolly, 2004-11-30 Documents the history and development of Post colonial literatures in English together with English and American literature and includes original research relating to the literatures of some 50 countries and territories In more than 1 600 entries written by more than 600 internationally recognized scholars it explores the effect of the colonial and post colonial experience on literatures in English worldwide The Literary Legacy of the Macmillan Company of Canada Ruth Panofsky, 2012-01-01 Fifth Business and Alligator Pie Stephen Leacock Grey Owl and Morley Callaghan these treasured Canadian books and authors were all nurtured by the Macmillan Company of Canada one of the country's foremost twentieth century publishing houses The Literary Legacy of the Macmillan Company of Canada is a unique look at the contribution of publishers and editors to the formation of the Canadian literary canon Ruth Panofsky's study begins in 1905 with the establishment of Macmillan Canada as a branch plant to the company's London office While concentrating on the firm's original trade publishing which had considerable cultural influence Panofsky underscores the fundamental importance of educational titles to Macmillan's financial profile The Literary Legacy of the Macmillan Company of Canada also illuminates the key individuals including Hugh Eayrs John Gray and Hugh Kane whose personalities were as fascinating as those of the authors they published and whose achievements helped to advance modern literature in Canada Publisher's website
