Historical Dictionary of Journalism Ross Eaman,2009-03-02 Journalism is the discipline of gathering writing and reporting news and it includes the process of editing and presenting news articles Journalism applies to various media including but not limited to newspapers magazines radio television and the internet The word journalist started to become common in the early 18th century to designate a new kind of writer about a century before journalism made its appearance to describe what those writers produced Though varying in form from one age and society to another it gradually distinguished itself from other forms of writing through its focus on the present its eye witness perspective and its reliance on everyday language The Historical Dictionary of Journalism relates how journalism has evolved over the centuries This is done through a chronology an introductory essay a bibliography and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries on the different styles of journalism the different types of media and important writers and editors

What are Journalists For? Jay Rosen,1999-01-01 He traces the intellectual roots of the movement and shows how journalism can be made vital again by rethinking exactly what journalists are for Jacket

The A to Z of Journalism Ross Eaman,2009-10-12 Journalism is the discipline of gathering writing and reporting news and it includes the process of editing and presenting news articles Journalism applies to various media including but not limited to newspapers magazines radio television and the internet The word journalist started to become common in the early 18th century to designate a new kind of writer about a century before journalism made its appearance to describe what those writers produced Though varying in form from one age and society to another it gradually distinguished itself from other forms of writing through its focus on the present its eye witness perspective and its reliance on everyday language The A to Z of Journalism relates how journalism has evolved over the centuries This is done through a chronology an introductory essay a bibliography and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries on the different styles of journalism the different types of media and important writers and editors

Where Ideas Go to Die Michael McDevitt (Professor of journalism),2020 Ideas die at the hands of journalists This is the controversial thesis offered by Michael McDevitt in a sweeping examination of anti intellectualism in American journalism A murky presence anti intellectualism is not acknowledged by reporters and editors It is not easily measured by scholars as it entails opportunities not taken context not provided ideas not examined Where Ideas Go to Die will be the first book to document how journalism polices intellect at a time when thoughtful examination of our society s news media is arguably more important than ever Through analysis of media encounters with dissent since 9 11 McDevitt argues that journalism engages in a form of social control routinely suppressing ideas that might offend audiences McDevitt is not arguing that journalists are consciously or purposely controlling ideas but rather that resentment of intellectuals and suspicion of intellect are latent in journalism and that such sentiment manifests in the stories journalists choose to tell or not to tell In their commodification of knowledge journalists will for example clarify ideas to distill deviance dismiss nuance as untranslatable and funnel productive ideas into static partisan binaries Anti intellectualism is not unique to American media Yet McDevitt argues that it is intertwined with the nation s cultural history and consequently baked into the professional training that occurs in classrooms and newsrooms He offers both a critique of our nation s media system and a way forward to a media landscape in which journalists recognize the prevalence of anti intellectualism and take steps to avoid it and in which journalism is considered an intellectual profession      Excellence in Online Journalism David A. Craig, 2010-09-24 Like the technologies that support it the craft of online journalism is evolving quickly This timely book helps students develop standards of excellence through interviews with more than 30 writers editors and producers and dozens of examples of strong work The author provides a framework of concepts to show how the field is evolving and challenged by competition staffing limitations and other pressures Discussion is organized around four key elements speed and accuracy with depth in breaking news comprehensiveness in multimedia content open endedness in story development including public contributions and conversation with users Chapter length treatments of these topics bring home the realities of online work to students who also come to appreciate how excellence and ethics online go hand in hand      Controversies in Media Ethics A. Afghan Refugees, Pakistani Media and the State Ayesha Jehangir, 2023-12-20 Drawing on the frameworks of peace journalism this book offers new insights into the Pakistani media coverage of Afghan refugees and their forced repatriation from Pakistan Based on a three year study the author examines the political social and economic forces that influence and govern the reporting practices of journalists covering the protracted refugee conflict between Pakistan and Afghanistan Through a critical discourse analysis of the structures of journalistic iterability of Afghan refugees in Pakistan the author distils four dominant and three emerging frames and proposes a new teleological turn for peace journalism as deliberative practice that is to say practice that by promoting transparency and accountability recognition and challenging dominant power proposed narratives and perspectives resistance encourages public engagement and participation cosmopolitan solidarity The author also privileges an analytical approach that conceptualises the nexus between digital witnessing and peace journalism through the paradigm of cosmopolitanism The author finds routinely accommodated media narratives of security that represent Afghan refugees as a threat a burden and the other that through reinforcement have become an incontestable reality for the public in Pakistan This book will appeal to those interested in studying and practicing journalism as a conscientious communicative practice that elicits the very public it seeks to inform

News Narratives and News Framing Karen S. Johnson-Cartee, 2005 News Narratives and News Framing is a revealing look at how the media's construction of news affects our political economic and social realities In this introduction to the theory behind news framing Karen Johnson Cartee pulls together elements from communication journalism politics and sociology to create a picture of how news forms these realities for the public With its comprehensive reference section and suggestions on how to influence the news agenda this is a beneficial resource for students in political communication media criticism and communication theory Visit our website for sample chapters

Desperately Seeking Ethics Howard Good, 2004-09-08 Trends prevailing in the media suggest a seemingly disintegrating concept of media ethics It is no surprise being ethical is hard work and could very well put a person in conflict with prevailing trends Many of the people cited within the 13 essays of Desperately Seeking Ethics illustrate this from Socrates and Martin Luther King Jr who both died for their principles to reporter David Kidwell of the Miami Herald who chose jail over testifying for the prosecution in a murder trial This is not just another media ethics book Engaging and non conventional it breaks away from the usual text practice of presenting the ethical theories of well known philosophers in watered down form Instead the contributors all of whom teach media ethics select a poem movie song speech or other cultural document analyze it for implied or explicit ethical lessons and then apply the lessons of that work to a specific case that involved controversial media conduct In addition to endnotes each chapter contains questions for discussion and a list of further readings Where possible the contributors have included all or part of the poems speeches and other documents they analyze as sources of ethical instruction and inspiration

Twilight of Press Freedom John C. Merrill, Peter J. Gade, Frederick R. Blevens, 2001-04 This volume provides a critical examination of the trend toward public journalism and considers how press freedom will be impacted by this trend in coming years For scholars and students in journalism public opinion media studies
