

THE MOBILIZATION OF MUSLIM WOMEN IN EGYPT

GHADA HASHEM TALHAMI

EGYPT was the first country in the Middle East to experience the full impact of Westernization and the accompanying clash of ideologies. In the 1990s, few adhere to the notion that secular and Western-oriented regimes have advanced the case for women. This study is the first to examine the feminist issue in the context of Egypt's democratic crisis, faltering economy, and deteriorating sectarian relations. Using Arabic sources, Ghada Hashem Talhami pursues an authentic, indigenous analysis and produces a cultural study bridging politics, religion, anthropology, and sociology.

Talhami examines the deliberate Islamification of Islamic identity and its ramifications both for Muslim women and for Egypt's Coptic Christian minority. She pays careful attention to the Copts' mobilization of the '50s, '60s, and '70s and their clashes with Muslims, which led to Islamic redefinition of women's rights, and looks especially at the secular feminist reforms initiated by Jihan Sadat, the widow of Anwar Sadat.

Mobilization Of Muslim Women In Egypt:

The Mobilization of Muslim Women in Egypt Ghada Hashem Talhami, 1996 Egypt was the first country in the Middle East to experience the full impact of Westernization and the accompanying clash of ideologies In the 1990s few adhere to the notion that secular and Western oriented regimes have advanced the case for women there This study is the first to examine the feminist issue in the context of Egypt s democratic crisis faltering economy and deteriorating sectarian relations Using Arabic sources Ghada Talhami pursues an authentic indigenous analysis and produces a cultural study bridging politics religion anthropology and sociology Women's Rights in Authoritarian Egypt Hiam Elgousi, 2016-04-20 During the uprisings of late 2010 and 2011 which took place across the Middle East and North Africa women made up an important part of the crowds protesting Women s rights were central to the demands made However despite this in the ensuing social and political struggles these rights have not progressed much beyond the situation under previous governments Hiam El Gousi s book offers an examination of the status of women under Egypt s various authoritarian regimes In exploring the role played by religious scholars in helping to define women s status in society she focuses on personal status laws and health rights In examining the issue of women s rights El Gousi begins with an account of feminism in Egypt the centre of feminist thought in the Middle East at the end of the nineteenth and beginning of the twentieth century Based on extensive research in the country especially at grassroots level El Gousi goes on to analyse the constitutional and legislative rulings which have affected the lives and rights of Egyptian women This book will become a vital primary resource for those studying feminism in the wider Middle East and North Africa Egypt as a Woman Beth Baron, 2005-02-28 This original and historically rich book examines the influence of gender in shaping the Egyptian nation from the nineteenth century through the revolution of 1919 and into the 1940s In Egypt as a Woman Beth Baron divides her narrative into two strands the first analyzes the gendered language and images of the nation and the second considers the political activities of women nationalists She shows that even though women were largely excluded from participation in the state the visual imagery of nationalism was replete with female figures Baron juxtaposes the idealization of the family and the feminine in nationalist rhetoric with transformations in elite households and the work of women activists striving for national independence Women's Roles in the Middle East and North Africa Ruth Margolies Beitler, Angelica R. Martinez, 2010-04-09 This concise content rich volume provides an overview of women s roles in the Middle East and North Africa from the advent of Islam to the present Recent research shows that women in the Middle East and North Africa have played much larger roles in society than previously acknowledged Women s Roles in the Middle East and North Africa explores these roles from both historical and contemporary perspectives describing and analyzing the lives of women in the regions from the advent of Islam through contemporary times The book begins with an introduction that examines the pre Islamic Middle East and North Africa The balance of the chapters are organized thematically and provide detailed country studies for 19 nations Chapters discuss work

Levine,2012 Contradicting the views commonly held by westerners many Muslim countries in fact engage in a wide spectrum of reform with the status of women as a central dimension This anthology counters the myth that Islam and feminism are always or necessarily in opposition A multidisciplinary group of scholars examine ideology practice and reform efforts in the areas of marriage divorce abortion violence against women inheritance and female circumcision across the Islamic world illuminating how religious and cultural prescriptions interact with legal norms affecting change in sometimes surprising ways

Re-envisioning Egypt 1919-1952 Arthur Goldschmidt,Amy J. Johnson,Barak A. Salmoni,2005 Re Envisioning Egypt 1919 1952 presents new and often dismissed aspects of the constitutional monarchy era in Egyptian history It demonstrates that many of the domestic and regional sociopolitical and cultural changes credited to the 1952 revolutionaries actually began in the decades before the July coup Arguing against the predominant view of the pre revolutionary era in Egypt as one of creeping decay the volume restores understandings of the 1919 1952 years as integral to modern nation state formation and social transformation The book's contributors show that Egypt's real revolutions were long term processes emerging over several decades prior to 1952 The leaders of the 1952 coup capitalized on these developments yet earlier changes in Egyptian society fundamentally facilitated their actions and policies This volume includes revisionist discussion of domestic political issues and foreign policy the military education social reform and class as well as popular media art and literature By introducing new approaches to these under appreciated categories of analysis through exploration of untapped sources and by re examining the political context of the time Re Envisioning Egypt 1919 1952 proposes innovative methodologies for understanding this crucial period in Egyptian history casting these years as fundamental to the country's twentieth century trajectory Contributors Tewfik Aclimandos Malak Badrawi Andrew Flibbert Nancy Gallagher Arthur Goldschmidt Mervat Hatem Misako Ikeda Amy J Johnson Anne Claire Kerboeuf Samia Kholoussi Hanan Kholoussi Fred Lawson Shaun T Lopez Scott David McIntosh Roger Owen Lucie Ryzova Barak A Salmoni James Whidden Caroline Williams

Galina M Yemeljanova Baurzhan Zhussupov The Struggle for Egypt Steven A. Cook, 2013-03-21 A half century ago Egypt under Nasser became the putative leader of the Arab world and a beacon for developing nations. Yet in the decades prior to the 2011 revolution it was ruled over by a sclerotic regime plagued by nepotism and corruption. During that time its economy declined into near shambles, a severely overpopulated Cairo fell into disrepair and it produced scores of violent Islamic extremists. In The Struggle for Egypt now with a new epilogue on the post Mubarak era, noted regional specialist Steven A. Cook provides a sweeping and incisive account of how this parlous state of affairs came to be, why the revolution occurred and where Egypt might be headed next. From p. 4 of cover Imagining the Perfect Society in Muslim Brotherhood Journals Kiki M. Santing, 2020-08-24 The investigation of the Egyptian Muslim Brotherhood during the presidencies of Anwar Sadat and the early years of Hosni Mubarak is based on the movement's main journals, al-Da'wa and Liw al-Islam, presenting its history during two relevant periods: 1976-1981 and 1987-1988. These journals show that, contrary to the focus in modern research, a Sharia laws, gender relations or ideas of democracy, the Brotherhood is a much more broadly oriented social-political opposition movement taking Islam as its guideline. The movement's own versatile discourse discusses all aspects of daily and spiritual life. An important adage of the Brotherhood is Islam as a ni'ma (blessing) which is a perfect and all-encompassing system. Faith should play a role in every aspect of daily life, from cooking dinner and housekeeping to education, holidays, enemy images, legislation and watching television. Islam is everything and everything is Islam. In its journals, the Brotherhood provided its unique reflection of the spirit of the age. The movement presented itself as a highly reactive group that responded to current events and positioned itself as a moral, religious and political opposition to the Egyptian regime. The Egyptian Women and Higher Education (1908-1952). Women's Struggle from Academic Deprivation to Community Leadership Mostafa Shaker, 2019-01-16 Master's Thesis from the year 2014 in the subject Gender Studies, language English, abstract: The Egyptian woman has played an important role politically, socially, scientifically and culturally since the ancient Egyptian state. On the political aspect, she was appointed as a queen; socially, she was considered as the other half of the society; on the scientific aspect, there were female scientists who got the appreciation of the world; and on the cultural side, the woman kept in pace with the man in all intellectual activities. The history had witnessed a period of religious fanaticism which was transferred by the society to what was called the Al-Harem Era, which had the greatest effect on retarding the woman's role in all fields of life. However, through the cultural and civilizational communication that resulted from the Egyptian relations with the West countries through the French occupation in 1798 and the educational missions during Mohammed Ali's era, the callings began gradually for bringing the woman back to her natural status through calling for her education, her freedom and her equality to the man. Mohammed Ali was the first one who entered the Egyptian woman into the education, even that the most successful experiences were in Ismail's era. Then these callings increased, the books were issued and the feminist newspapers were established and accordingly the girls joined to the schools and their numbers had greatly increased. As a result new generation of the educated women appeared who dedicated themselves to call for equality and getting their full rights Those women also called for joining the woman to the university and established the feminist department at the university to get the woman a new type of the education which opens all closed doors before her The study period is considered as one of the most important periods in the history of the Egyptian woman since the beginning of her joining to the university education until the end of the royal family era during which the woman got her full educational and scientific rights This study has depended on the historical gradualism for the events it began from the oldest to the modernist with explaining all events surrounding the events which affected in supporting or hampering the experiment of the higher education for the Egyptian woman This study was divided into a preliminary chapter four chapters and conclusion

Islamism and Social Movements in North Africa, the Sahel and Beyond Aurelie Campana,Cédric Jourde,2018-12-07 As North African Middle Eastern and Sahelian societies adapt to the post Arab Spring era and the rise of violence across the area various groups find in Islam an answer to the challenges of the era This book explores how Islamist social movements Sufi brotherhoods and Jihadi armed groups in their great diversity elaborate their social networks and recruit sympathizers and militants in complicated times The book innovates by transcending regional boundaries bringing together specialists of the three aforementioned regions First it highlights how geographically dispersed religious groups define themselves as members of a larger universal Umma while evolving in deeply embedded local contexts Second its contributors prioritize in depth fieldwork research offering fine grained original insights into the manifold mobilization of Islamist inspired social movements in Egypt Libya Tunisia Mali Senegal Mauritania Burkina Faso and Western Europe The book sheds light on the tense debates and competition taking place amongst the different trends composing the Islamist galaxy and between other groups that also claim an Islamic legitimacy including Sufi brotherhoods and ethnic and or tribal groups as well This book was originally published as a special issue of Mediterranean Politics Egypt Robert L. s return indicated a backward step for Muslim women worldwide What she discovered however in the stories of British colonial officials young Muslim feminists Arab nationalists pious Islamic daughters American Muslim immigrants violent jihadists and peaceful Islamic activists confounded her expectations Ahmed observed that Islamism with its commitments to activism in the service of the poor and in pursuit of social justice is the strain of Islam most easily and naturally merging with western democracies own tradition of activism in the cause of justice and social change It is often Islamists even more than secular Muslims who are at the forefront of such contemporary activist struggles as civil rights and women s rights Ahmed s surprising conclusions represent a near reversal of her thinking on this topic Richly insightful intricately drawn and passionately argued this absorbing story of the veil s resurgence from Egypt through Saudi Arabia and into the West suggests a dramatically new portrait of contemporary Islam
