European Culture is a collection of essays that are transnational and interdisciplinary in scope. Employing a range of innovative comparative approaches to reassess and undermine traditional boundaries between art forms and national cultures, the contributors shed new light on the relations between literature and the visual arts in Europe after 1850. Following tenets of comparative cultural studies, work presented in this volume explores international creative dialogues between writers and visual artists, ekphrasis in literature, literature and design, fashion, architecture, hybrid texts, visual poetry, surrealist pocket museums, poetic photo texts, and text and image relations under the impact of modern technologies. Avant-garde experiments, digital poetry, and the discussion encompasses pivotal fin de siècle modernist and postmodernist works and movements in Britain, France, Germany, Italy, Poland, Russia, and Spain. A selected bibliography of work published in the field is also included. The volume will appeal to scholars of comparative literature, art history, and visual studies, and it includes contributions appropriate for supplementary reading in senior undergraduate and graduate seminars.

"Women, Femininity and Public Space in European Visual Culture, 1789-1914"

Temma Balducci, 2017-07-05 Focusing on images of or produced by well-to-do nineteenth-century European women, this volume explores genteel femininity as resistant to easy codification. Visually is the public? Attending to various iterations of the public as space, sphere, and discourse, sixteen essays challenge the false binary construct that has held the public as the sole preserve of prosperous men. By contrast, the essays collected in Women, Femininity and Public Space in European Visual Culture, 1789-1914 demonstrate that definitions of both femininity and the public were mutually defining and constantly shifting. In examining the relationship between affluent women, femininity, and the public, the essays gathered here consider works by an array of artists that includes canonical ones such as Mary Cassatt and Francis Grant, as well as understudied women artists including Louise Abbéma and Bronzia Koller. The essays also consider works in a range of media from fashion prints and paintings to private journals and architectural designs facilitating an analysis of femininity in public across the cultural production of the period Various European centers including Madrid Florence Paris Brittany Berlin and London emerge as crucial sites of production for genteel femininity providing a long overdue rethinking of modern femininity in the public sphere     The Greenwood Guide to American Popular Culture: Editorial cartoons through Illustration M.
