Ingram, 1972 The Toll of the Bush William Satchell, Kendrick Smithyman, 2013-11-01 First published in 1905 The Toll of the Bush is widely regarded as William Satchell's best work Set in the Hokianga district in the early twentieth century it is an engaging portrayal of pioneer farming and trading on that lonely margin between sea and bush where jealousies and intrigues punctuate the lives of the heroes and heroines Above all the brooding forest watches and waits to exact its toll on those who have sought to tame it Kendrick Smithyman's introduction brings out a parallel in the fusion of the legendary elements and a colonial setting with Nathaniel Hawthorne Archaeology and History of the Chinese in Southern New Zealand During the Nineteenth Century Neville A. Ritchie, 2023-11-01 This revised edition of Dr Neville A Ritchie's 1986 PhD dissertation explores the history and archaeology of the 19th century Chinese mining communities in the Clutha Valley New Zealand Lavishly illustrated with black and white line drawings of Chinese domestic and industrial sites and of the artefacts excavated from them this study offers unprecedented insight into the life and material culture of these male only sojourner communities Widely considered the most comprehensive archaeological study of overseas Chinese miners experience anywhere in the world this volume contains the total summation and analysis of artefacts found in 23 Chinese sites excavated over nine years which included two camps with 40 individual huts and other features a Chinese store and 20 rural sites including miner's huts and rock shelters Considered by the Australian Society for Historical Archaeology to be a seminal work in the field of historical archaeology this 2023 edition introduces Dr Ritchie's groundbreaking work to the next generation of archaeologists The New Zealand Official Year-book New Zealand. Historic Trails of the Far North Edmund Vernon Sale, 1981 Islands of Inquiry Geoffrey Richard Clark, Sue O'Connor, Bryan Foss Leach, 2008-06-01 Many of the papers in this volume present new and innovative research into the processes of maritime colonisation processes that affect archaeological contexts from islands to continents Others shift focus from process to the archaeology of maritime places from the Bering to the Torres Straits providing highly detailed discussions of how living by and with the sea is woven into all elements of human life from subsistence to trade and to ritual Of equal importance are more abstract discussions of islands as natural places refashioned by human occupation either through the introduction of new organisms or new systems of production and consumption These transformation stories gain further texture and variety through close examinations of some of the more significant consequences of colonisation and migration particularly the creation of new cultural identities A final set of papers explores the ways in which the techniques of archaeological sciences have provided insights into the fauna of the islands and the human history of such places Provided by publisher The Wreck of the General Grant Keith Eunson, 1974 New Zealand National Bibliography, 1974
