Contemporary Nigerian Art and Its Classifications Chinedu Christian Chukueggu,1998 Postcolonial Modernism Chika Okeke-Agulu,2015-04-06 Written by one of the foremost scholars of African art and featuring 129 color images Postcolonial Modernism chronicles the emergence of artistic modernism in Nigeria in the heady years surrounding political independence in 1960 before the outbreak of civil war in 1967 Chika Okeke Agulu traces the artistic intellectual and critical networks in several Nigerian cities Zaria is particularly important because it was there at the Nigerian College of Arts Science and Technology that a group of students formed the Art Society and inaugurated postcolonial modernism in Nigeria As Okeke Agulu explains their works show both a deep connection with local artistic traditions and the stylistic sophistication that we have come to associate with twentieth century modernist practices He explores how these young Nigerian artists were inspired by the rhetoric and ideologies of decolonization and nationalism in the early and mid twentieth century and later by advocates of negritude and pan Africanism They translated the experiences of decolonization into a distinctive postcolonial modernism that has continued to inform the work of major Nigerian artists Final African Papers of Simon Ottenberg

Simon Ottenberg,2023-04-13 No About the Book information at this time Playful Performers David Binkley,2017-07-28 African children develop aesthetic sensibilities at an early age roughly from four to fourteen years By the time they become full fledged adolescents they may have had up to ten years experience with various art forms masking music costuming dancing and performance Aesthetic learning is vital to their maturation The contributors to this volume argue that the idea that learning the aesthetics of a culture only occurs after maturity is false as is the idea that children wearing masks is only play and is not to be taken seriously Playful Performers is a study of children s masquerades in Africa The contributors describe specific cases of young children s masking in the areas of west central and southern Africa which also happen to be the major areas of adult masquerading The volume reveals the considerable creativity and ingenuity that children exhibit in preparing costumes masks and musical instruments and in playing music dancing singing and acting The book includes over 50 pages of black and white photographs which illustrate and elaborate upon the authors main points The editors describe general categories of children s masquerades In each of the three masking categories children s relationships to their parents and other adults differ from a close relationship to some independence to almost complete independence No other major work has covered this aspect of African children at this age level The book offers a challenging perspective on young children seeing them as active agents in their own culture rather than passive recipients of culture as taught by parents and other elders It will be interesting reading for anthropologists art historians educators and African studies specialists alike
