Preparing For Peace:

Preparing For Peace John Paul Lederach, 2015-02-01 Since the early 1980s John Paul Lederach has traveled worldwide as a mediation trainer and conflict resolution consultant. Currently the director of the International Conciliation Committee, he has worked with governments, justice departments, youth programs, and other groups in Latin America, the Philippines, Cambodia, as well as Asia and Africa. Lederach blends a special training method in mediation with a tradition derived from his work in development. Throughout the book, he uses anecdote and pertinent experiences to demonstrate his resolution techniques. With an emphasis on the exchange involved in negotiation, Lederach conveys the key to successful conflict resolution: understanding how to guide disputants to transform their conflicts and launch a process that empowers them.

Georges Tamer, 2020-10-26 The eighth volume of the series Key Concepts of Interreligious Discourses investigates the roots of the concept of peace in Judaism, Christianity, and Islam and its relevance for the present time. Facing present violent conflicts waged and justified by religious ideas or reasons, peace building prevails in current debates about religion and peace. Here the central question is: How may traditional sources in religions help to put down the weapons and create a society in which everyone can live safely without hostilities and the threat of violence? When we take the Sacred Scriptures of Judaism, Christianity, and Islam into consideration, it becomes obvious that the term peace and its equivalents in Hebrew, Greek, and Arabic describe at first an ideal state based on the love/mercy of God to his creation. It is a divine gift that brings inward peace to the individual and outer peace resting upon justice and equality. One main task of Jews, Christians, and Muslims in the history is to find out how to bring down this transcendent ideal upon earth. The volume presents the concept of peace in its different aspects as anchored in the traditions of Judaism, Christianity, and Islam. It unfolds commonalities and differences between the three monotheistic religions as well as the manifold discourses about peace within these three traditions. The book offers fundamental knowledge about the specific understanding of peace in each one of these traditions, their interdependencies, and their relationship to secular world views.      Equity Charles Fremont Taylor, 1918      Official
