American Images of China Oliver Turner, 2014-04-16 The United States and China are arguably the most globally consequential actors of the early twenty first century and look set to remain so into the foreseeable future This volume seeks to highlight that American images of China are responsible for constructing certain truths and realities about that country and its people It also introduces the understanding that these images have always been inextricable from the enactment and justification of US China policies in Washington and that those policies themselves are active in the production and reproduction of imagery and in the protection of American identity when seemingly threatened by that of China Demonstrating how past American images of China are vital to understanding the nature and significance of those which circulate today Turner addresses three key questions What have been the dominant American images of China and the Chinese across the full lifespan of Sino US relations How have historical and contemporary American images of China and the Chinese enabled and justified US China policy What role does US China policy play in the production and reproduction of American images of China Exploring and evaluating a wide ranging variety of sources including films and television programmes newspaper and magazine articles the records and journals of politicians and diplomats and governmental documents including speeches and legal declarations this work will be of great interest to students and scholars of US foreign policy American politics China studies and international relations

Union the People's Republic of China and the United States of America New Soviet leaders were determined to build Soviet power and extend Soviet influence Mao's revolutionary ideology so dominated China that there were few levers to move Sino American relations ahead Johnson wanted to ease Cold War tensions by reaching a range of agreements with the Soviet Union on nuclear weapons and establishing relations with the People's Republic of China in order to end its isolation in the world community However multiple events frustrated Johnson's good intentions The Soviet leadership that overthrew Nikita Khrushchev was committed to expanding its military might before negotiating with Washington it also began focusing more and more on the worsening Sino Soviet split Mao Zedong entered into the Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution and China seemed to devour itself Meanwhile the Vietnam War made negotiations among all three great powers more difficult limiting room to maneuver But Johnson persevered and by 1968 the apparent American retreat symbolized by the North Korean seizure of the USS Pueblo and the Communist Tet Offensive in Vietnam along with the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia seemed to change the construct between the great powers Beijing emerging from the worst of the Cultural Revolution increasingly feared Soviet intentions and Moscow wanted to prevent a Sino American rapprochement Although Johnson did not achieve his lofty goals he created the pre conditions that Richard Nixon later harvested for the détente with Moscow and rapprochement with Beijing Johnson's best intentions fell prey to triangles symbols and constraints
