presidents lady irving stone ,1951 The President's Lady Irving Stone,1951 The story of the devotion of Rachel Jackson to Andrew and a portrait of one of the most colorful eras in American history Tells the story of Andrew Jackson and his wife who had been married before to Captain Lewis Robards The Presidents of American Fiction Michael J. Blouin,2022-11-03

The Presidents of American Fiction brings together American literature history and political science to explore the most influential fictionalized accounts of the presidency from the early 19th century to the time of Trump Of late popular understandings of the presidency are being radically re written consider for example the distinctive myths that accompanied the ascent of the Obama and Trump administrations and many readers of all stripes are radically reimagining the office and its holder Placing these changes within a broader cultural context Michael J Blouin investigates narratives involving fictional presidents from the supposedly factual to the outright fantastical within their distinct literary and historical moments The author considers representative texts including works penned by James Fenimore Cooper from the Jacksonian moment Gore Vidal in the age of Nixon and Vietnam and Philip Roth in the neoliberal period Through detailed readings that question how American presidents function as characters within the popular imagination this book examines the presidency as a complex ever evolving trope and in so doing enhances our appreciation of American literature s inextricable link with American politics The Biography Book Daniel S. Films possess virtually unlimited power for crafting broad interpretations of American history Nineteenth century America has proven especially conducive to Hollywood imaginations producing indelible images like the plight of Davy Crockett and the defenders of the Alamo Pickett's doomed charge at Gettysburg the proliferation and destruction of plantation slavery in the American South Custer's fateful decision to divide his forces at Little Big Horn and the onset of immigration and industrialization that saw Old World lifestyles and customs dissolve amid rapidly changing environments Balancing historical nuance with passion for cinematic narratives Writing History with Lightning confronts how movies about nineteenth century America influence the ways in which mass audiences remember understand and envision the nation's past In these twenty six essays divided by the editors into sections on topics like frontiers slavery the Civil War the Lost Cause and the West notable historians engage with films and the historical events they ostensibly depict Instead of just separating fact from fiction the essays contemplate the extent to which movies generate and promulgate collective memories of American history Along with new takes on familiar classics like Young Mr Lincoln and They Died with Their Boots On the volume covers several films released in recent years including The Revenant 12 Years a Slave The Birth of a Nation Free State of Jones and The Hatefule Eight The authors address Hollywood epics like The Alamo and Amistad arguing that these movies flatten the historical record to promote nationalist visions The contributors also examine overlooked films like Hester Street and Daughters of the Dust considering their portraits of marginalized communities as transformative perspectives on American culture By surveying films about nineteenth century America Writing History with Lightning analyzes how movies create popular understandings of American history and why those interpretations change over time Tennessee Tales the Textbooks Don't Tell Jennie Ivey, Calvin Dickinson, Lisa Rand, 2002-08 Beginning with the legend of how a young Cherokee boy earned the name Dragging Canoe and weaving its way through three centuries this book treats history not as a collection of names and dates but as real life drama filled with strong characters and vivid emotions The Era of the Civil War--1820-1876 US Army Military History Research Collection, 1974 12 - 12 - 12 (Book 2 of John Rachel's End-of-the-World Trilogy) John Rachel, 2015-12-09 12 12 12 is the story of a great nation falling apart and one young man's quest for meaning in the midst of chaos It takes the stuff of reality and pitches it to a high scream Open your mind but cover your ears Knowledge is bliss but it's loud and painful Yet somehow still funny 12 12 12 manages to tell it like it is by telling it like it isn't Granted this is not what actually happened during 2012 But what unfolds is not more implausible Nor is it less implausible It's dark ironic witty at times surrealistic and just plain weird One reviewer calls it laugh out loud brain food for hungry minds Irving Stone Lewis F. Presidential Footprints Del Hambley,2009-03 Presidential Footprints presents a fast read covering the Presidents of the United States of America the major issues that they faced during their Presidency and how well they met their challenge A recurring theme is that things that seem insignificant at the time frequently have a major impact on future events As a result of this theme the author provides the reader with a unique perspective on how minor events not mentioned in a majority of history books have affected the history of our country One is left with a desire to pursue further exploration about the lives of the Presidents and their families William Buhro Retired School Principal Three Plays of Maureen Hunter Hunter, Maureen,2003 Book is clean and tight No writing in text Like New A Feeling for Books Janice A. Radway,2000-11-09 Deftly melding ethnography cultural history literary criticism and autobiographical reflection A Feeling for Books is at once an engaging study of the Book of the Month Club s influential role as a cultural institution and a profoundly personal meditation about the experience of reading Janice Radway traces the history of the famous mail order book club from its controversial founding in 1926 through its evolution into an enterprise uniquely successful in blending commerce and culture Framing her historical narrative with writing of a more personal sort Radway reflects on the contemporary role of the Book of the Month Club in American cultural history and in her own life Her detailed account of the standards and practices employed by the club's in-house editors is also an absorbing story of her interactions with those editors. Examining her experiences as a fourteen-year-old reader of the club's selections and later as a professor of literature, she offers a series of rigorously analytical yet deeply personal readings of such beloved novels as Marjorie Morningstar and To Kill a Mockingbird. Rich and rewarding, this book will captivate and delight anyone who is interested in the history of books and in the personal and transformative experience of reading. Adult Catalog: Fiction Los Angeles County Public Library, 1970
