Press And People 1790 1850 Opinion In Three English Cities:

Press and People, 1790-1850 Donald Read, 1975 Newspapers and English Society 1695-1855 Hannah Barker, 2014-06-17 This lively new study covers the dramatic expansion of the press from the seventeenth century to the mid nineteenth century Hannah Barker explores the factors behind the rise of newspapers to a major force helping to reflect and shape public opinion and altering the way in which politics operated at every level of English life Newspapers Politics and English Society 1695 1855 provides a unique insight into the political and social history of eighteenth and nineteenth century England as well as an important study of the history of the media The English Press in the Eighteenth Century (Routledge Revivals) Jeremy Black, 2010-10-18 First published in 1987 this is a comprehensive analysis of the rise of the British Press in the eighteenth century as a component of the understanding of eighteenth century political and social history Professor Black considers the reasons for the growth of the print culture and the relations of newspapers to magazines and pamphlets the mechanics of circulation and chronological developments Extensively illustrated with quotations from newspapers of the time the book is a lively as well as original and informative treatment of a topic that must remain of first importance for the literate historian Visions of the Press in Britain, 1850-1950 Mark Hampton, 2004 Hampton surveys a diversity of sources to demonstrate that British theories of the press were intimately tied to definitions of the public and the emergence of mass democracy in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries The Eternal Paddy Michael de Nie, 2004-08-01 In The Eternal Paddy Michael de Nie examines anti Irish prejudice Anglo Irish relations and the construction of Irish and British identities in nineteenth century Britain This book provides a new more inclusive approach to the study of Irish identity as perceived by Britons and demonstrates that ideas of race were inextricably connected with class concerns and religious prejudice in popular views of both peoples De Nie suggests that while traditional anti Irish stereotypes were fundamental to British views of Ireland equally important were a collection of sympathetic discourses and a self awareness of British prejudice In the pages of the British newspaper press this dialogue created a deep ambivalence about the Irish people an ambivalence that allowed most Britons to assume that the root of Ireland s difficulties lay in its Irishness Drawing on more than ninety newspapers published in England Scotland and Wales The Eternal Paddy offers the first major detailed analysis of British press coverage of Ireland over the course of the nineteenth century This book traces the evolution of popular understandings and proposed solutions to the Irish question focusing particularly on the interrelationship between the press the public and the politicians The work also engages with ongoing studies of imperialism and British identity exploring the role of Catholic Ireland in British perceptions of their own identity and their empire Friends of Religious Equality Timothy Larsen, 2008-02-01 During the middle decades of the nineteenth century the English Nonconformist community developed a coherent political philosophy of its own of which a central tenet was the principle of religious equality in contrast to the stereotype of Evangelical Dissenters The Dissenting community fought for the civil rights of Roman Catholics non

Christians and even atheists on an issue of principle that had its flowering in the enthusiastic and undivided support that Nonconformity gave to the campaign for Jewish emancipation This study examines the political efforts and ideas of English Nonconformists during the period covering the whole range of national issues raised from state education to the Crimean War It offers a case study of a theologically conservative group defending religious pluralism in the civic sphere showing the that concept of religious equality was a grand vision at the center of the political philosophy of the Dissenters Dictionary of Nineteenth-century Journalism in Great Britain and Ireland Laurel Brake,Marysa Demoor,2009 A large scale reference work covering the journalism industry in 19th Century Britain Print Culture Histories Beyond the Metropolis James J. Connolly,Patrick Collier,Frank Felsenstein,Kenneth R. Hall,Robert G. Hall,2016-01-01 Print Culture Histories Beyond the Metropolis focuses attention to how the residents of smaller cities provincial districts rural settings and colonial outposts have produced disseminated and read print materials Authorship, Commerce and the Public E. Clery,C. Franklin,P. Garside,2002-10-02 These essays explore the remarkable expansion of publishing from 1750 to 1850 which reflected the growth of literacy and the diversification of the reading public Experimentation with new genres methods of advertising marketing and dissemination forms of critical reception and modes of access to writing are also examined in detail This collection represents a new wave of critical writing extending cultural materialism beyond its accustomed concern with historicizing the words on the page into the economics of literature and the investigation of neglected areas of print culture

Crowds and History Mark Harrison,2002-06-20 A fresh look at the crowd in relation to the urbanising process and the civic culture it inspired Annual Bibliography of English Language and Literature John Horden,1973 The Politics of Songs in Eighteenth-Century Britain, 1723-1795 Kate Horgan,2015-10-06 Horgan analyses the importance of songs in British eighteenth century culture with specific reference to their political meaning Using an interdisciplinary methodology combining the perspectives of literary studies and cultural history the utilitarian power of songs emerges across four major case studies Political Poetry as Discourse Angela M. Leonard,2010-01-01 Political Poetry as Discourse examines the works of the political poets John Greenleaf Whittier and Ebenezer Elliott drawing comparisons to contemporary hip hoppers who take their words from local newspapers and other discursive sources that they read hear and observe Local presses and news vehicles stand as cultural material forms that supply poets with words particularly words that congeal into patterns of language allowing the creation of a poetic discourse As readers of these poets apply techniques and theories of discourse analysis they reveal how poets borrow lift hijack or resituate words from one or more different genres to use as tools of political change Leonard engages with the critical toolboxes of content analysis semiosis and deconstruction to demonstrate how to critically investigate and interrogate the images sounds and words not just of politically engaged poets but also of any disseminator of culture and news Moving beyond theory into praxis this book becomes a model of its own transgressive premise by thinking analyzing writing and teaching against the grain Its focus on language as unbounded discourse makes this book a relevant and insightful demonstration in democratic pedagogy and in teaching for transformation Late Georgian and Regency England, 1760-1837 Robert A. Smith, 2004-07-08 A guide to historical literature on England between 1760 and 1837 emphasising more recent work Imagining the Middle Class Dror Wahrman, 1995-07-13 Why and how did the British people come to see themselves as living in a society centred around a middle class The answer provided by Professor Wahrman challenges most prevalent historical narratives the key to understanding changes in conceptualisations of society the author argues lies not in underlying transformations of social structure in this case industrialisation which supposedly created and empowered the middle class but rather in changing political configurations Firmly grounded in a close reading of an extensive array of sources and supported by comparative perspectives on France and America the book offers a nuanced model for the interplay between social reality politics and the languages of class

Celebrities, heroes and champions Simon James Morgan, 2021-06-29 Celebrities heroes and champions explores the role of the popular politician in British and Irish society from the Napoleonic Wars to the Second Reform Act of 1867 Covering movements for parliamentary reform up to and including Chartism Catholic Emancipation transatlantic Anti Slavery and the Anti Corn Law League as well as the receptions of international celebrities such as Lajos Kossuth and Giuseppe Garibaldi it offers a unique perspective on the connections between politics and historical cultures of fame and celebrity This book will interest students and scholars of Britain Ireland continental Europe and North America in the nineteenth century as well as general readers with an interest in the history of popular politics Its exploration of the relationship between politics and celebrity and the methods through which public reputations have been promoted and manipulated for political ends have clear contemporary relevance Knowledge Dissemination in the Long Nineteenth Century Marina Dossena, Stefano Rosso, 2016-06-22 Distinctive in its markedly interdisciplinary approach this book presents studies dealing with literary cultural and linguistic history both in Europe and in the US bringing together scholars from different fields while highlighting features that are shared among their contributions It offers new insights into phenomena which have generally been under investigated such as the role played by popular culture music and the arts in the circulation of information in the construction of popular taste and even in scientific popularisation on both sides of the Atlantic As for the choice to focus on the nineteenth century this is dictated by the fact that in those decades for the first time in history scientific technological and social developments accelerated simultaneously It is therefore important to see how such new knowledge was circulated among an ever growing audience by means of different genres and text types bearing in mind that divisions between the literary and non literary were hardly as sharp as they are today The book presents contributions by Robert Louis Abrahamson Nicholas Brownlees Bruno Cartosio Sonia Di Loreto Aileen Dillane Marina Dossena Kirsten Lawson Angela Locatelli William H Mulligan Jr Stefano Rosso and Polina Shvanyukova Childhood and Child Labour in Industrial England Katrina Honeyman, 2016-05-23 The purpose of this collection is to bring together representative examples of the most recent work
