Measuring Your Media Profile Dermot H. McKeone, 1995 Dermot McKeone's book shows how with the aid of today's powerful technology the impact an organization makes in the media can be monitored and evaluated against the competition if necessary Using examples and case studies of high profile companies he describes the various methods available for analysing media coverage both printed and broadcast and discusses the costs and benefits involved He explains how to identify target audiences and choose appropriate messages demonstrating how media coverage translates into corporate image in the marketplace Analysing and evaluating media coverage argues Mr McKeone should be part of a systematic corporate communications programme and it is this strategic perspective that makes his book so valuable

Sport, Literature, Society Alexis Tadié, J.A. Mangan, Supriya Chaudhuri, 2016-04-08 Sport studies and sports history have witnessed a recent substantial increase in publications However the relationship between literature and sport has been little explored Sport Literature Society looks at a wide variety of case studies ranging from Japan to England from India to Australia and covers sports as diverse as cycling football wrestling and boxing It concentrates on historical perspectives The contributors are all academics of international reputation and include historians of sport and literary scholars Literature may shape our perceptions and reactions to sport as much as sport may inform our reading As mimetic practice as aesthetic object as imaginative release sport is analogous to literature and the other arts at the same time it can become the subject of literary visual or musical elaborations Literature often conceptualises the place and role of sport in culture and society Indeed sport inhabits literature in ways that have not been adequately studied Sport studies have investigated the relationships between sport and society education gender nation and class To look again at these relationships through the prism of literature enables us to change our focus and to assess the centrality of sport in culture This book was published as a special issue of the International Journal of the History of Sport Introduction to Business Law Mr. Rohit Manglik,2023-05-23 Introduces legal principles in business Covers contracts liabilities and regulations equipping students with knowledge for commercial and corporate environments Masculine Jealousy and Contemporary Cinema C. Yates,2007-09-12 This study provides new insights into the link between masculinity and jealousy through a study of representations of male jealousy in modern Hollywood cinema It argues through examples of films and their reception in the press that male jealousy has played a key role in the psychocultural shaping of Western masculinities and male fantasy

Louise Jopling Patricia de Montfort,2017-07-05 Louise Jopling A Biographical and Cultural Study is the first in depth study of this nineteenth century painter who was among the first women admitted to the Royal Society of British Artists in 1902 In part an engaging biography of a compelling celebrity figure and social campaigner in Victorian England Patricia de Montfort s book interweaves a vivid and rounded portrait of this Manchester born artist teacher and author with insightful analysis of Jopling s artwork and the aristocratic bohemian social milieu that she inhabited Painted by Whistler and Millais Jopling herself portrayed Victorian era celebrities like the actress Lillie Langtry and her patrons included members of the de Rothschild banking family Her work also included figure compositions interiors landscape and genre scenes Drawing upon Jopling s unpublished diaries notebooks and correspondence as well as her 1925 memoir Twenty Years of My Life de Montfort s study opens the way for a twenty first century rediscovery of this now little known artist who combined professional artistic practice with social activism against the backdrop of an often troubled private life The full scope of Jopling s artistic endeavours are discussed in relation to the cultural framework for fin de si e working women as are her progressive views on education and women s suffrage Biographical sketch of Millie Christine, the Carolina Twin

Anonymous,2025-03-02 Biographical Sketch of Millie Christine the Carolina Twin presents a compelling narrative that intricately weaves the story of Millie Christine a 19th century African American conjoined twin Written in an engaging prose style this biographical account delves into the complexities of Millie s life exploring themes of identity resilience and the spectacle of human curiosity that surrounded her existence The book situates Millie s experiences within the broader context of circus culture and societal attitudes towards disability providing a critical lens on how conjoined twins were both celebrated and marginalized in Victorian America Anonymous the author adeptly captures Millie s journey from her rural Carolina roots to her prominence as a performer in sideshows and circuses This exploration likely stems from a blend of historical curiosity and a desire to give voice to marginalized figures in American history The author s decision to remain unnamed may reflect an intent to direct focus towards Millie s story rather than personal accolades emphasizing the importance of her narrative This book is highly recommended for readers interested in American history the circus arts and the intersections of disability and identity It provides invaluable insights into the life of Millie Christine offering a nuanced portrayal that is often overshadowed in historical narratives In its balance of empathy and critical analysis it is a poignant reminder of the human spirit s capacity to triumph over adversity Northern Ireland at the Crossroads M.

Mulholland,2015-12-22 Centred on the dramatic premiership of Terence O Neill Northern Ireland at the Crossroads examines the most hopeful decade for Ulster Unionism this century O Neill s bold ambition to reach out to catholics inspired optimism but also massive political instability Though concerned with the drama and personalities of high politics this book has much to say on popular attitudes in one of the world s most politicised societies New light is shed on Paisleyism discrimination and the civil rights movement Architecture, Media, Archives Ana Bonet Miró,2024-08-22 Over 60 years on from its inception the celebrated Fun Palace civic project developed in the 1960s by the radical theatre director Joan Littlewood and the architect Cedric Price continues to capture the architectural imagination Despite the building itself never being realized much of the previous analysis of the Fun Palace has been devoted to Price and his drawings The critical role that Littlewood played however remains largely unrecognized by architectural scholarship and a whole area of the project s cultural agenda remains overlooked Architecture Media Archives is the first serious study of the complex relations between Littlewood and Price reframing the Fun Palace as an extended media project and positioning Littlewood more clearly as co designer Drawing on extensive archival material the book considers how due to a lack of institutional support the aims of the Fun Palace to transform the passive mass audiences of post war consumer society into active citizens through forms of self directed pleasure led and open exchange were realized through different sites of information throughout the 1960s From broadsheets pamphlets and journals to films and press news the book addresses the conditions of production circulation storage and reception of these sites and reveals how they not only recorded the transformation of the project but also fundamentally enhanced and informed its meaning in specific ways The book also raises important questions about the agency of the Fun Palace archive in shaping the reception of the project in the decades since its inception presenting its analysis through a novel Fun Palace Reception Index and Chart fundamentally altering our view of the project itself and transforming the way in which we understand the technological and cultural production of the 1960s Suffragette City Elizabeth

Darling,Nathaniel Walker,2019-08-08 SHORTLISTED FOR THE COLVIN PRIZE 2021 Awarded by the Society of Architectural Historians of Great Britain the Colvin Prize is one of the world s most prestigious honors in the field of architectural history The medal is awarded annually to the author or authors of an outstanding work of reference of broad importance to the discipline all modes of publication are eligible including catalogues gazetteers digital databases and online resources Suffragette City was nominated due to the new ways in which its contributors cast light on the work of women to shape the architecture of communities around the English speaking world Suffragette City brings together a collection of illustrated essays dedicated to exploring and analysing cases in which women have resourcefully leveraged or defied the politics of gender to form and reform architecture and urbanism Throughout much of modern history women have been assigned to the margins and expected to play passive social roles Suffragette City draws on nineteenth and twentieth century architectural case studies from the English speaking world including the USA South Africa Scotland India and England to examine places and moments when women stepped into the centre of public life and claimed opportunities to shape the fabrics of their communities Their engagements with the built environment consistently transcended architecture to achieve the level of urbanism as whole networks of relationships came into their purview transforming the architecture of socio political connection as well as the confronting the physical divisions that have historically lain along racial economic and gendered lines Academics researchers and students engaged in architectural history theory urbanism gender studies and social and cultural history will be interested in this fascinating politically charged text

Tom Murphy's Theatre of Everyday Space Moonyoung Hong, 2025-05-08 By the time of his death in 2018 Tom Murphy was widely recognised as one of Ireland's most important modern playwrights Ireland's experience of rapid modernisation emigration and globalisation is vividly captured in his plays challenging generic notions of space place and the nation In particular his drama reconfigures Irish theatre's uneasy relationship with globalisation with the peasant kitchen the pub and the bog having traditionally been exported as the quintessential Irish spaces Focusing on one of Murphy's central innovations his experimentation with theatre and everyday space the book considers the significance of Murphy's work in modern drama more broadly The idea of home has preoccupied modern playwrights since the naturalist dramas of Henrik Ibsen and Anton Chekhov leading theatre scholars to focus on the everyday space of the home to the exclusion of other everyday spaces Murphy's works by contrast offer a new politics of the interior engaging with a diverse range of other spaces such as dancehalls grocery shops pubs hotels offices churches gasworks and airports His drama presents a global sense of the local an emotional map of the shifting geographies of everyday life By applying new theoretical perspectives and showcasing new archival materials inaccessible to previous scholars the book revisits Murphy as an international playwright a cartographer of our modern day global village

Edith Craig and the Theatres of Art Katharine Cockin, 2017-01-26 This new biography explores the extraordinary life of Edith Craig 1869-1947 her prolific work in the theatre and her political endeavours for women's suffrage and socialism At London's Lyceum Theatre in its heyday she worked alongside her mother Ellen Terry Henry Irving and Bram Stoker and gained valuable experience She was a key figure in creating innovative art theatre work As director and founder of the Pioneer Players in 1911 she supported the production of women's suffrage drama becoming a pioneer of theatre aimed at social reform In 1915 she assumed a leading role with the Pioneer Players in bringing international art theatre to Britain and introducing London audiences to expressionist and feminist drama from Nikolai Evreinov to Susan Glaspell She captured the imagination of Virginia Woolf inspiring the portrait of Miss LaTrobe in her 1941 novel Between the Acts and influenced a generation of actors such as Sybil Thorndike and Edith Evans Frequently eclipsed in accounts of theatrical endeavour by her younger brother Edward Gordon Craig Edith Craig's contribution both to theatre and to the women's suffrage movement receives timely reappraisal in Katharine Cockin's meticulously researched and wide ranging biography released for the seventieth anniversary of Craig's death

Revived with Care Peter Malin, 2020-11-29 This book presents a groundbreaking comprehensive study of the modern performance history of plays in the John Fletcher canon excluding his collaborations with Shakespeare It examines how seventeen of Fletcher's plays have been interpreted in British productions In addition the book offers a consideration of the contexts in which these productions took place from the early twentieth century Elizabethan Revival to the more politicized theatrical cultures of the 1960s and beyond Revived with Care opens a window on some of the theatrical developments of the past 135 years in the context of radical changes in the presentation and reception of early modern drama while for theatre practitioners it provides ideas and inspiration for exploring little known but powerful plays in exciting new productions The book will be of great interest to students scholars and practitioners working in the field of theatre and performance studies

The Routledge Companion to English Folk Performance Peter Harrop, Steve Roud, 2021-07-12 This broad based collection of essays is an introduction both to the concerns of contemporary folklore scholarship and to the variety of forms that folk performance has taken throughout English history Combining case studies of specific folk practices with discussion of the various different lenses through which they have been viewed since becoming the subject of concerted study in Victorian times this book builds on the latest work in an ever growing body of contemporary folklore scholarship Many of the contributing scholars are also practicing performers and bring experience and understanding of performance to their analyses and critiques Chapters range across the spectrum of folk song music drama and dance but maintain a focus on the key defining characteristics of folk performance custom and tradition in a full range of performances from carol singing and sword dancing to playground rhymes and mummers plays As well as being an essential reference for folklorists and scholars of traditional performance and local history this is a valuable resource for readers in all disciplines of dance drama song and music whose work coincides with English folk traditions
