Preventing HIV in Developing Countries Laura Gibney, Ralph J. DiClemente, Sten H. Vermund, 1999-01-31 Until now planners seeking to create HIV prevention programs in developing countries relied on published interventions successfully implemented in the industrialized world This volume brings together HIV researchers and activists who describe intervention strategies employed primarily in developing countries With the battle to control HIV continuing the contributors provide insights from the field as they summarize implementation problems successes and failures End of chapter summaries and references are key features HIV program planners medical and social workers researchers and activists will benefit from Preventing HIV in Developing Countries     Preventing HIV in Developing Countries Laura Gibney, Ralph J. DiClemente, Sten H. Vermund, 2006-04-11 Globally action to prevent HIV spread is inadequate Over 16 000 new infections occur every day Yet we are not helpless in the face of disaster as shown by the rich prevention experience analyzed in this valuable new compendium Best practice exists a set of tried and tested ways of slowing the spread of HIV of persuading and enabling people to protect themselves and others from the virus Individually features of best practice can be found almost everywhere The tragedy on a world scale is that prevention is spotty not comprehensive the measures are not being applied on anywhere near the scale needed or with the right focus or synergy The national response may concentrate solely on sex workers for example Elsewhere efforts may go into school education for the young but ignore the risks and vulnerability of men who have sex with men Action may be patchy geographically AIDS prevention may not benefit from adequate commitment from all parts and sectors of society compromising the sustainability of the response In some countries matters are still worse there is still hardly any action at all against AIDS and scarcely any effort to make HIV visible It is no wonder that the epidemic is still emerging and in some places is altogether out of control     Dawning Answers Ronald O. Valdiserri, 2003 Dawning Answers looks at the global HIV AIDS epidemic through the lens of its evolving influence on public health theory and practice Losses from the epidemic have been devastating but the many lessons learned have positively influenced other domains of public health and will continue to generate new approaches to health assessment policy development and assurance Students and teachers of public health and preventive medicine will find in this singular volume useful analyses from the various disciplines comprising public health     Handbook of HIV Prevention John L. Peterson, Ralph J. DiClemente, 2000-02-29 The Handbook of HIV Prevention is intended to provide a comprehensive overview of the theories methods and approaches for reducing HIV associated risk behaviors It represents the first single source of information about HIV prevention research in developed and developing countries The Handbook addresses the subject of HIV prevention from two interrelated perspectives First it presents the seminal theories currently used to guide the development and implementation of HIV prevention interventions Second it describes prevention approaches for diverse populations at risk of HIV infection This Handbook provides a compilation of knowledge on HIV prevention by the leading authorities in the field and will be an important resource for students researchers and clinicians in the field

Infectious Disease Epidemiology Kenrad E. Nelson, Carolyn Masters Williams, 2014 Now in its third edition this comprehensive volume is recognized as the most authoritative review of the epidemiology of infectious disease Divided into five sections that cover methods in infectious disease epidemiology airborne transmission diarrheal diseases blood and body fluid as a reservoir of infectious diseases vectorborne and parasite disease the book includes state of the art chapters on methodological issues pathogenesis and comprehensive reviews of virtually all known infectious diseases New to the Third Edition 1 All chapters updated with significant new information 2 HIV chapter completely updated including results of trials of Male Circumcision HIV vaccines female condoms Microbicides and new drugs 3 New chapter on Infectious Disease Eradication e g Smallpox Polio Measles 4 New chapter on Pneumococcal Disease with material on S pneumonia moved from the ARI and Vaccine chapters 5 Influenza chapter updated with new material on H1 N1 and control prevention of Influenza during a pandemic 6 Consolidation of material from the chapters on Outbreaks and Surveillance 7 Nosocomial Infection chapter is shortened and updated with a new section on nosocomial community MRSA 8 Malaria chapter updated with new information on bed nets prophylactic therapy of pregnant women and other high risk populations as well as new detailed examination of the organization implementation and accomplishments of the WHO Roll Back Malaria program and a new description of the 5th Human Malaria parasite P knowlesi and its Epidemiology 9 STD chapter is updated with new information on the rapid diagnosis of STDs using urine PCR methods as well as new information on partner prophylactic treatment of STDs 10 New information in Chickengunya virus Enterovirus 71 Nipah and Hendra virus infections to the Emerging infections chapter 11 Hepatitis chapter is revised with new information on HEV virus 12 New brief chapter discussing the various models of behavioral change that are useful in Infectious Diseases research e g Health Belief model etc

Maternal and Child Health John Ehiri, 2009-10-03 Our current era of globalization war and socioeconomic unrest has revealed public health as a worldwide concern and a major frontier for social justice with maternal and child health at its epicenter Yet there has been a relative scarcity of training resources specifically dedicated to this crucial area Maternal and Child Health Global Challenges Programs and Policies addresses this gap in current knowledge by analyzing the range of socioeconomic and environmental factors health care disparities politics policies and cultural practices that impact the health and safety of mothers as well as the well being and optimum development of their children Individual sections focus on unequal distribution of the world s resources politics and power specific disease concerns programs policies and emerging concerns with a focus on what is currently being done and what needs to be done to improve the health status of women children and adolescents The book s contributors are some of the world s most respected experts carefully selected to represent different global geographic regions and diverse professional disciplines related to maternal and child health from both academic and field practice perspectives Among the topics in this authoritative volume The impact of war globalization gender inequity and harmful traditional practices e.g. female genital mutilation Specific health concerns including tuberculosis malaria HIV and malnutrition Child and adolescent health issues from abuse and neglect to children in difficult circumstances Pregnancy related issues safety abortion and post abortion care teen pregnancy and more Strategies for planning developing and maintaining maternal and child health systems in developing countries The status of global initiatives such as Integrated Management of Childhood Illnesses and the Millennium Development Goals The status of evidence based maternal and child health in the developing world With such a wealth of information on both practical and conceptual levels Maternal and Child Health Global Challenges Programs and Policies is as relevant to students and researchers in the field as it is to policy makers and those working for global health and development organizations It also makes an excellent stand alone text for courses in global health in general and global maternal and child health in particular
