greater Asia as well as the UK addressing issues such as modernity and market economies but also caste class and social and linguistic aspects At the same time they reflect on the postcolonial metropolis and postcolonialism in the metropolis by concentrating on an urban imaginary which turns on notions of spatial subdivision and inequality political repression social discrimination economic exploitation and cultural alienation as the continuing postcolonial condition Queer in Africa Zethu Matebeni, Surya Monro, Vasu Reddy, 2018-05-23 African sexualities are dynamic multi faceted and resilient However people with non heterosexual sexualities and gender variant identities are often involved in struggles for survival self definition and erotic rights Queer in Africa forms an entry point for understanding the vulnerabilities of queer Africans as shaped by social cultural and political processes aiming to provide innovative insights about contentious disagreements over their lives The volume mediates Southern and Northern scholarship directing attention toward African centred beliefs made accessible to a wide audience Key concerns such as identity construction and the intersections between different social forces such as nationalist traditionalism and sexualities are addressed via engaging chapters some empirically based and others providing critical cultural analysis Highly interdisciplinary in nature Queer in Africa provides a key resource for students academics and activists concerned with the international support of sex and gender diversity It will appeal to those interested in fields such as anthropology film studies literary studies political science public health sociology and socio legal studies Black Queer Freedom GerShun Avilez, 2020-11-09 Whether engaged in same sex desire or gender nonconformity black queer individuals live with being perceived as a threat while simultaneously being subjected to the threat of physical psychological and socioeconomical injury Attending to and challenging threats has become a defining element in queer black artists work throughout the black diaspora GerShun Avilez analyzes the work of diasporic artists who denied government protections have used art to create spaces for justice He first focuses on how the state seeks to inhibit the movement of black queer bodies through public spaces whether on the street or across borders From there he pivots to institutional spaces specifically prisons and hospitals and the ways such places seek to expose queer bodies in order to control them Throughout he reveals how desire and art open routes to black queer freedom when policy the law racism and homophobia threaten physical safety civil rights and social mobility Emerging Traditions Vicki Briault Manus, 2012-07-10 The monograph explores the linguistic impact of the colonial and postcolonial situations in South Africa on language policy on literary production and especially on the stylistics of fiction by indigenous South Africans writing in English A secondary concern is to investigate the present place of English in the multilingual spectrum of South African languages and to see how this worldly English relates to Global English in the South African context The introduction presents a socio linguistic overview of South Africa from pre historic times until the present including language planning policies during and after the colonial era and a cursory review of how the difficulties encountered in implementing the Language Plan provided for by the new South African constitution impinge on the development of black South African English Six chapters track the course of

English in South Africa since the arrival of the British in 1795 considered from the point of view of the indigenous African population The study focuses on ways in which indigenous authors indigenize their writing innovating and subverting stylistic conventions including those of African orature in order to bend language and genre towards their own culture and objectives Each chapter corresponds to a briefly outlined historical period that is largely reflected in linguistic and literary developments A small number of significant works for each period are discussed one of which is selected for a case study at the end of each chapter where it is subjected to detailed stylistic analysis and appraised for the degree of indigenization or other linguistic or socio historic influences on style The methodology adopted is a linguistic approach to stylistics focusing on indigenization of English inspired by the work of Chantal Zabus in her book The African Palimpsest Indigenization of Language in the West African Europhone Novel 2007 1991 The conclusion reappraises the original hypothesis that the specific characteristi

Africa Writes Back to Self Evan M. Mwangi,2010-07-02 The profound effects of colonialism and its legacies on African cultures have led postcolonial scholars of recent African literature to characterize contemporary African novels as first and foremost responses to colonial domination by the West In Africa Writes Back to Self Evan Maina Mwangi argues instead that the novels are primarily engaged in conversation with each other particularly over emergent gender issues such as the representation of homosexuality and the disenfranchisement of women by male dominated governments He covers the work of canonical novelists Nadine Gordimer Chinua Achebe Ngu gi wa Thiong o and J M Coetzee as well as popular writers such as Grace Ogot David Maillu Promise Okekwe and Rebeka Njau Mwangi examines the novels self reflexive fictional strategies and their potential to refigure the dynamics of gender and sexuality in Africa and demote the West as the reference point for cultures of the Global South

The Columbia Guide to South African Literature in English Since 1945 Gareth Cornwell,Dirk Kloppe,Craig MacKenzie,2010 From the outset South Africa s history has been marked by division and conflict along racial and ethnic lines From 1948 until 1994 this division was formalized in the National Party s policy of apartheid Because apartheid intruded on every aspect of private and public life South African literature was preoccupied with the politics of race and social engineering Since the release from prison of Nelson Mandela in 1990 South Africa has been a new nation in the making inspired by a nonracial idealism yet beset by poverty and violence South African writers have responded in various ways to Njabulo Ndebele s call to rediscover the ordinary The result has been a kaleidoscope of texts in which evolving cultural forms and modes of identity are rearticulated and explored An invaluable guide for general readers as well as scholars of African literary history this comprehensive text celebrates the multiple traditions and exciting future of the South African voice Although the South African Constitution of 1994 recognizes no fewer than eleven official languages English has remained the country's literary lingua franca This book offers a narrative overview of South African literary production in English from 1945 to the postapartheid present An introduction identifies the most interesting and noteworthy writing from the period Alphabetical entries provide accurate and objective information on genres and writers An appendix lists essential authors published before 1945

Postcolonial Stylistics Esterino Adami, 2025-05-05 This accessible introduction to postcolonial stylistics looks at the shared aims of stylistics and postcolonial studies and illustrates how to apply the analytical and theoretical tools of stylistics to a selection of literary and non literary texts from a range of English speaking postcolonial contexts Structured around the five keywords of Language Identity Belonging History and Ecology the book sheds light on the way in which writers from a range of former colonial territories have creatively drawn from such thematic areas to construct complex and committed discourses shows how a rigorous linguistic analysis can help reach a better understanding of the rhetorical mechanisms and cultural dynamics operating in these works underlines how meaning is generated from the interaction between author reader and context how narratives shape and propagate a specific worldview and how metaphor can convey social and political values expands on each keyword by considering texts of different typology such as fiction poetry drama and non fiction accompanied by activities and references includes historical and literary postcolonial timelines and an index of names and topics Comprehensive in its coverage and assuming no prior knowledge of the topics considered the book adopts an interactive and activity based approach to develop readers understanding of linguistic structures and forms through postcolonial texts Offering a new interdisciplinary perspective this is essential reading for students new to stylistics and postcolonial literature

Prophetic Remembrance Erica Still, 2014-12-17 Using the term prophetic remembrance to articulate the expression of a constituent faith in the performative capacity of language Erica Still shows how black subjectivity is born of and interprets cultural trauma She brings together African American neo slave narratives and Black South African postapartheid narratives to reveal the processes by which black subjectivity accounts for its traumatic origins names the therapeutic work of the present and inscribes the possibility of the future The author draws on trauma studies black theology and literary criticism as she considers how writers such as Toni Morrison Charles Johnson John Edgar Wideman David Bradley Sindiwe Magona K Sello Duiker and Zakes Mda explore the possibilities for rehearsing a traumatic past without being overcome by it Although both African American and South African literary studies have addressed questions of memory narrative and trauma little comparative work has been done Prophetic Remembrance offers this comparative focus in reading these literatures together to address the question of what it means to remember and to recover from racial oppression South Africa and the Dream of Love to Come Brenna M. Munro, 2012 Uncovers the story of how the politics of queer sexuality have played out in the struggle for multiracial democracy in South Africa State of Peril Lucy Valerie Graham, 2015 Considering fiction from the colonial era to the present State of Peril offers the first sustained scholarly examination of rape narratives in the literature of a country that has extremely high levels of sexual violence Lucy Graham demonstrates how despite the fact that most incidents of rape in South Africa are not interracial narratives of interracial rape have dominated the national imaginary Seeking to understand this phenomenon the study draws on Michel Foucault's ideas on sexuality and biopolitics as well as Judith Butler's speculations on race and cultural melancholia Historical analysis of the body politic provides the backdrop for careful close readings of literature by Olive Schreiner Sol Plaatje Sarah Gertrude Millin Njabulo Ndebele J M Coetzee Zo Wicomb and others Ultimately State of Peril argues for ethically responsible interpretations that recognize high levels of sexual violence in South Africa while parsing the racialized inferences and assumptions implicit in literary representations of bodily violation

Post-Apartheid Criticism Ives S. Loukson, 2020-10-27 South Africa's post apartheid narrative is one of democracy and equality but its flaws run deep argues Ives S Loukson Disclosing prejudices about whiteness homosexuality and democracy in the staged society he claims the concept of relation as an adequate framework for the embodiment of profane democracy understood in Agambian terms Its fluidity is equated to openness and transparency that are relevant dimensions for profane democracy A demonstration of literary criticism practiced as a fecund interdisciplinary activity Loukson's study lays the foundation for post apartheid criticism different from post colonial criticism Body, Sexuality, and Gender Flora Veit-Wild, Dirk Naguschewski, 2005 Contains reflections on body sexuality and gender in African literary texts While the sections Gifted Bodies and Queered Bodies show new developments in viewing body and sexuality as creative powers the sections Tainted Bodies and Violated Bodies comprise essays that investigate the exposure of the body to physical aggression and other traumatic experiences Claiming the City in South African Literature Meg

Samuelson, 2021-08-23 This book demonstrates the insights that literature brings to transdisciplinary urban studies and particularly to the study of cities of the South Starting from the claim staked by mining capital in the late nineteenth century and its production of extractive and segregated cities it surveys over a century of writing in search of counterclaims through which the literature reimagines the city as a place of assembly and attachment Focusing on how the South African city has been designed to funnel gold into the global economy and to service an enclaved minority the study looks to the literary city to advance a contrary emphasis on community conviviality and care An accessible and informative introduction to literature of the South African city at significant historical junctures this book will also be of great interest to scholars and students in urban studies and Global South studies
