Diversity Quotas, Diverse Perspectives Dr Junko Takagi, Dr Stefan Gröschl, 2012-09-01 Legislative and institutional affirmative and positive action policies intended to increase accessibility and the participation of historically disadvantaged groups in employment and education have been with us for some time particularly in Anglo Saxon countries One of the major issues they are intended to address is gender inequality Proponents of these policies have hailed quota initiatives as a key to promoting equal opportunities and reducing discrimination At the same time affirmative action policies and processes have been challenged in courts and have caused controversy in educational establishments highlighting the fact that these practices can have negative consequences Exploring the application of quotas and affirmative action at an institutional or organizational level from a variety of different perspectives the contributions in Diversity Quotas Diverse Perspectives provide an understanding of the complexity and controversial nature of policies and actions in different countries Even within Europe implementation has varied widely from country to country For example while most European countries have employment quotas for people with disabilities there is little consistency among the European Union's member states when it comes to quotas and other policies relating to ethnic minorities in employment and educational settings Focussing here particularly on gender related initiatives but raising questions pertinent to other aspects of diversity the contributions from international researchers investigate variances between and differing justifications for policies The book offers a global perspective on the subject and expands the discussion of it beyond Anglo Saxon contexts      Women, Quotas and Politics Drude Dahlerup, 2013-05-13 This is the first world wide comparative study of the controversial new trends of gender quotas now emerging in global politics presenting a comprehensive overview of changes in women's parliamentary representation across the world This is important reading for all those working to increase women's influence in politics because it scrutinizes under what circumstances gender quotas do increase women's representation and why they sometimes fail These distinguished international scholars also show how gender balance in politics has become important to a nation's international image and why quotas are being introduced in many post conflict countries They present key case studies of Afghanistan Iraq Argentina Sweden South Africa Belgium covering almost all major regions of the world Latin America Africa the Arab world South Asia the Balkans The Nordic countries and Europe New Zealand Australia and the USA and Rwanda which in 2003 unexpectedly surpassed Sweden as the number one country in the world in terms of women's parliamentary representation Using a comparative perspective this book contains analyses of the discursive controversies around quotas it gives an overview over various types of quotas in use from candidate quotas to reserved seat systems and it throws light over the troublesome implementation process When do gender quotas lead to actual increase in the number of women parliament When are quotas merely a symbolic gesture What does it imply to be elected as a quota woman Tackling these and many Tomasson,Faye J.

Crosby,Sharon D. Herzberger,2001 Hailed at the time of its original publication as a thorough and balanced debate of one of America s most vexing political issues Affirmative Action employs a pro and con format to provide a concise introduction to this divisive debate In a new substantive introduction Richard F Tomasson offers a short history of the affirmative action debate and addresses new developments since the book s original appearance In Part One authors Crosby and Herzberger draw on state and federal court decisions federal decrees and university practices to support affirmative action to counter racial and gender bias In Part Two Tomasson cites the same kinds of evidence to argue against affirmative action programs
