"RACE" PANIC AND THE MEMORY OF MIGRATION

Edited by Meaghan Morris and Brett de Bary

"The idea of an Asian-based series that speaks to the international community of cultural studies, and that would be published simultaneously in multiple languages, is quite simply the most interesting development in cultural studies of the past decade."

Race Panic And The Memory Of Migration:

Traces 2 Meaghan Morris, Brett De Bary, 2001-01-01 This book explores complex relations between violence historical memory and the production of ethnicity and race Some essays analyze the panicked othering that has led to violence against Chinese Indonesians and to the little known massacres of Hui Muslims in nineteenth century China and of Cheju Islanders in Korea in 1948 History, Memory and Migration Irial Glynn, 2012-05-04 By conversing with the main bodies of relevant literature from Migration Studies and Memory Studies this overview highlights how analysing memories can contribute to a better understanding of the complexities of migrant incorporation The chapters consider international case studies from Europe North America Australia Asia and the Middle East

Globalization, Migration and Social Transformation Bryan Fanning, Ronaldo Munck, 2016-04-22 In the space of around ten years Ireland went from being a traditional labour exporter to a leading European economy and thus an attractive destination for immigrants from Eastern Europe and further afield This produced a singular social laboratory which this book explores in all its complexity set against the backdrop of globalization Until recently seen as a showcase for the success of globalization Ireland also became a destination for those displaced by the effects of globalization elsewhere Globalization Migration and Social Transformation takes Ireland as a paradigmatic case of social transformation exploring the reasons why emigration was so rapidly replaced by immigration along with the social political cultural and economic effects of this shift Presenting the latest research around the themes of identity social transformations and EU and Irish politics and policy this book offers a rich array of detailed empirical case studies drawn from Ireland which shed light on the experiences of immigrant groups from around the world and the wider processes of social transformation In addition it examines the manner in which the Irish state and the broader political system relate to new migrants and vice versa thus advancing our comparative understanding of how the European Union is responding to the challenge of mass migration Globalization Migration and Social Transformation makes a strong contribution to the comparative literature on immigration and integration diaspora and social transformation in the era of globalization and as such it will appeal to social scientists with interests in migration race and ethnicity globalization and Irish studies

The Irregularization of Migration in Contemporary Europe Yolande Jansen, Robin Celikates, Joost de Bloois, 2014-12-12 Working from an interdisciplinary perspective that draws on the social sciences legal studies and the humanities this book investigates the causes and effects of the extremities experienced by migrants Firstly the volume analyses the development and political cultural conditions of current practices and discourses of bordering illegality and irregularization Secondly it focuses on the varieties of irregularization and on the diversity of the fields techniques and effects involved in this variegation Thirdly the book examines examples of resistance that migrants and migratory cultures have developed in order to deal with the predicaments they face The book uses the European Union as its case study exploring practices and discourses of bordering border control and migration regulation But the significance of this field extends well beyond the European context as the monitoring of Europe's borders increasingly takes place on a global scale and reflects an internationally increasing trend

Traces 3 Thomas LaMarre, Kang Nae-Hui, 2004-01-01

Impacts of Modernities the third volume of the Traces series explores the problem of modernity with an emphasis on the impact of Western modernity on East Asia While the essays generally acknowledge modernity as a problem or even failure in order to challenge modernization and modernization theory the volume presents a number of different approaches to and evaluations of modernity in historical and contemporary frameworks One group of essays looks at the complex relations between modernity and production of space place and identity Contributors consider the spatializing tendencies of modernity looking at how resistance to modernization has tended to rely on the production of national and local identities which may serve to reproduce and reinforce the logic of modernization in new registers Of particular importance is the legacy of comparativism in our contemporary disciplines Other essays explore the historically specific relations that arise between nation empire and representation Contributors reconsider the alleged particularity of national languages and scripts asking whether the insistence on the particular does not already entail an access to the universal and thus maybe to empire Still other essays question whether the prime characteristics of modern power subjection and sovereignty continue to define power relations within the contemporary world order To what extent is it now possible to think power formations and resistance beyond the modern otherwise than modernity authors identifying simply with their ethnic or racial cultural background in opposition to dominant culture The essays in this collection explore ways in which Asian Canadian authors and artists have gone beyond what Francoise Lionnet calls autoethnography or ethnographic autobiography They demonstrate the ways representations of race and ethnicity particularly in works by Asian Canadians in the last decade have changed have become more playful untraditional aesthetically and ideologically transgressive and exciting Jacket Violent Conflicts in Indonesia Charles A.

Coppel,2006-04-07 Indonesia is currently affected by many serious conflicts which have arisen as a result of a variety of ethnic religious and regional tensions Presenting important new thinking on violent conflict in the world s largest Muslim majority nation this book examines a selection of conflicts in detail and discusses the nature of violence and the reasons behind violent outbreaks Chapters include analysis of conflicts in Aceh East Timor Maluku Java West Kalimantan West Papua and elsewhere The contributors provide analysis of political ethnic and nationalistic killings with a concentration on the post Suharto era The book goes on to examine vital questions concerning the way in which violence in Indonesia is represented in the media and explores ways in which violent conflicts could be resolved or prevented The last section turns the focus onto victims of violence and forms of justice and retribution Hong Kong and Bollywood Joseph Tse-Hei Lee,Satish

Kolluri,2016-09-27 This volume examines the transmission reception and reproduction of new cinematic styles meanings practices and norms in early twenty first century Asia Hong Kong and Bollywood offers new answers to the field of inter Asian cultural studies which has been energized by the trends towards transnationalism and translatability It brings together a team of international scholars to capture the latest development in the film industries of Hong Kong and Mumbai and to explore similar cross cultural political and socioeconomic issues It also explains how Hong Kong and Bollywood filmmakers have gone beyond the traditional focus on nationalism urbanity and biculturalism to reposition themselves as new cultural forces in the pantheon of global cinema Function-Based Spatiality and the Development of Korean Communities in Japan David Rands,2014-05-21 Function Based Spatiality and the Development of Korean Communities in Japan utilizes the theoretical model of complex adaptive systems and introduces the concept of function based spatiality to investigate the roles of the urban environments of Tokyo and Osaka in the development of Korean communities in Japan Analysis of distinct Korean communities allows for the examination of urban factors of each city which contributed to the patterns of Korean immigration and community formation By utilizing a comparative narrative of the two cities distinctions between the organic growth of Osaka and the planned city of Tokyo are illuminated Additionally the discussion utilizes the concept of function based spatiality to show how each city interacted with its surrounding regional national and global spheres The functions of Tokyo as a gateway to Western modernization and center of the Japanese state shaped the interactions with Korean immigrants Likewise Osaka s functions as a center of mercantilism and second city played a large role in how Koreans were incorporated into the urban ethnoscares Taken together these two examples provide insight to the dynamics of urban systems on the development of immigrant communities Women and China's Revolutions Gail Hershatter, 2018-09-04 If we place women at the center of our account of China's last two centuries how does this change our understanding of what happened This deeply knowledgeable book illuminates the places where the Big History of recognizable events intersects with the daily lives of ordinary people using gender as its analytic lens Leading scholar Gail Hershatter asks how these events affected women in particular and how women affected the course of these events For instance did women have a 1911 revolution A socialist revolution If so what did those revolutions look like Which women had them Hershatter uses two key themes to frame her analysis The first is the importance of women's visible and invisible labor The labor of women in domestic and public spaces shaped China's move from empire to republic to socialist nation to rising capitalist power The second is the symbolic work performed by gender itself What women should do and be was a constant topic of debate during China's transformation from empire to weak state to partially occupied territory to nascent socialist republic to reform era powerhouse What sorts of concerns did people express through the language of gender How did that language work and why was it so powerful Drawing on decades of Hershatter's groundbreaking scholarship and mastery of a range of literatures this beautifully written book will be essential reading for all students of China's modern history Southwest China in a

Regional and Global Perspective (c.1600-1911) , 2018-01-03 The book Southwest China in Regional and Global Perspectives c 1600 1911 is dedicated to important issues in society trade and local policy in the southwestern provinces of Yunnan Guizhou and Sichuan during the late phase of the Qing period It combines the methods of various disciplines to bring more light into the neglected history of a region that witnessed a faster population growth than any other region in China during that age The contributions to the volume analyse conflicts and arrangements in immigrant societies problems of environmental change the economic significance of copper as the most important export product topographical and legal obstacles in trade and transport specific problems in inter regional trade and the roots of modern transnational enterprise

Islam and China's Hong Kong Wai-Yip Ho, 2013-06-07 Hong Kong is a global city state under the sovereignty of the People's Republic of China and is home to around 250 000 Muslims practicing Islam However existing studies of the Muslim majority communities in Asia and the Northwest China largely ignore the Muslim community in Hong Kong Islam and China's Hong Kong skillfully fills this gap and investigates how ethnic and Chinese speaking Muslims negotiate their identities and the increasing public attention to Islam in Hong Kong Examining a range of issues and challenges facing Muslims in Hong Kong this book focuses on the three different diasporic Muslim communities and reveals the city state's triple Islamic heritage and distinctive Islamic culture It begins with the transition from the colonial to the post colonial era and explores how this has impacted on the experiences of the Muslim diaspora and the ways this shift has compelled the community to adapt to Chinese nationalism whilst forging greater links with the Gulf Then with reference to the rise of new media and technology the book examines the heightened presence of Islam in the Chinese public sphere alongside the emergence of Chinese Islamic websites which have sought to balance transnational Muslim solidarity and sensitivity towards Chinese government's concern of external extremism Finally it concludes by investigating Hong Kong's growing awareness of the Muslim minorities demands for Islamic religious education and how this links with the city state's aspiration to become the new gateway for Islamic finance Indeed Wai Yip Ho posits that Hong Kong is now shifting from its role as the broker that bridged East and West during the Cold War to that of a new mediator between China and the Middle East Drawing on extensive ethnographic research this book thoughtfully charts a new area of inquiry and as such will be welcomed by students and scholars of Chinese studies Islamic studies Asian studies and ethnicity studies
