Race Relations In Transition The Segrega:

The Citizens' Council Neil R. McMillen, 1994 This in depth account of the rise and decline of the Citizens Councils of America details the organization's role in the massive resistance to school desegregation in the South following the 1954 Brown vs Board of Education decision Included are a new preface and updated bibliography A tour de force of research and narration in highly readable style McMillen seems to have read everything the historical record has to offer on the subject and to have known exactly what to make of it Himself squarely on the side of the future he is sensitive to the anguish that prompted the hysteria of the misguided racist By any test a masterful study Journal of Southern History Takes seriously the people who made the movement when ridicule and caricature would have been an easier analytical technique Solidly researched and well written an intriguing story Augustus M Burns Social Studies Race Relations in Transition James Wilfrid Vander Zanden, 1965 Bibliography on the Urban Crisis National Clearinghouse for Mental Health Information (U.S.), 1968 Public Health Service Publication, 1969 Bibliography on the Urban Crisis Jon K. Meyer, 1969 The African American Experience Arvarh E. Strickland, Robert E. Weems Jr., 2000-11-30 Compared to the early decades of the 20th century when scholarly writing on African Americans was limited to a few titles on slavery Reconstruction and African American migration the last thirty years have witnessed an explosion of works on the African American experience With the Civil Rights and Black Power movements of the 1960s came an increasing demand for the study and teaching of African American history followed by the publication of increasing numbers of titles on African American life and history This volume provides a comprehensive bibliographical and analytical guide to this growing body of literature as well as an analysis of how the study of African Americans has changed Representing Segregation Brian Norman, Piper Kendrix Williams, 2012-02-01 As a touchstone issue in American history segregation has had an immeasurable impact on the lives of most ethnic groups in the United States Primarily associated with the Jim Crow South and the court cases Plessy v Ferguson 1896 and Brown v Board of Education 1954 segregation comprises a diverse set of cultural practices ethnic experiences historical conditions political ideologies municipal planning schemes and de facto social systems Representing Segregation traces the effects of these practices on the literary imagination and proposes a distinct literary tradition of representing segregation Contributors engage a cross section of writers literary movements segregation practices and related experiences of racial division in order to demonstrate the richness and scope of responses to segregation in the late nineteenth and twentieth centuries By taking up the cultural expression of the Jim Crow period and its legacies this collection reorients literary analysis of an important body of African American literature in productive new directions Index to Literature on Race Relations in South Africa, 1910-1975 Pieter Jacobus Johannes Stephanus Potgieter, 1979 Ethnic Minorities and Inter-ethnic Relations in Context Karen Phalet, Antal Orkeny, 2017-10-19 This volume is based on papers presented on ethnic minorities and inter ethnic relations in Hungary and The Netherlands which were presented and discussed in three conferences and a series of meetings from 1997-1999. This work builds on comparative studies of the rise of a radical right and the mobilization of anti-immigrant feelings. It presents cross-national comparative research due to the credence that shifting national angles is a powerful strategic tool with which to correct national bias and to uncover submerged or overlooked aspects of specific national cases. The book brings together contributions from Hungarian and Dutch scholars in the field of ethnic minorities and inter-ethnic relations. The two countries are used as exemplary cases of distinct ethno-political patterns in Central and Western Europe. Combining complementary configurational and dimensional approaches to cross-national comparison, the diverse forms of ethnic relations in Hungary and The Netherlands are analyzed and competing explanations of ethno-political conflict or coordination are tested in both national contexts.

Racial and Ethnic Residential Segregation Across the United States Amber R. Crowell, Mark A. Fossett, 2023-08-31. This open access book provides new findings on and insights into trends and patterns in residential segregation between racial and ethnic groups in the United States. It draws on new methods that make it possible to investigate segregation involving small groups and segregation patterns in nonmetropolitan communities with greater accuracy and clarity than has previously been possible. As one example, the authors are able to track residential segregation patterns across a wide selection of nonmetropolitan communities where Black, Latino, and Asian populations are small but can still potentially experience segregation. The authors also track White, Latino segregation from its inception when Latino households first arrived in non-negligible numbers in new destination communities and then document how segregation changes over time as the Latino population grows over time to become larger and more established. Finally, this work shows how segregation of Latino and Asian households is fundamentally different from that of Black households based on the much greater role that cultural and socioeconomic characteristics play in shaping White, Latino and White, Asian segregation in comparison to White, Black segregation.

Racial Discrimination and Public Policy in the United States Richard M. Burkey, 1971. Study of the effectiveness of government policy to combat racial discrimination against Blacks in the USA gives a historical summary of black discrimination and black-white stratification in the USA, identifies the factors that affect the degree of effectiveness or lack thereof of public policies directed against discrimination, demonstrates that there have been changes toward parity in ethnic intergroup relations, proposes research areas relating to the policy-making process, and suggests inquiries into the role of race in that process.

Good Parents, Better Homes, and Great Schools Karen Benjamin, 2025-07-15 Good Parents Better Homes and Great Schools examines how white residential developers planning consultants and their allies in government strategically replaced block level segregation with segregation at the neighborhood level in New South cities such as Atlanta Baltimore Birmingham Houston Raleigh and Winston Salem Going beyond the well known Home Owners Loan Corporation maps of the 1930s Karen Benjamin traces segregation tactics back to the late nineteenth century when this public private partnership laid the groundwork for the nationwide segregation strategies codified by the New Deal This book links the tactics of residential and school segregation to prevailing middle class ideas about what constitutes good parenting ensuring the longevity of both practices By focusing on efforts that specifically targeted parents Benjamin not only adds a new dimension to the history of residential segregation but also helps explain why that legacy has been so difficult to undo
