Race, Social Class, and Individual Differences in I.Q. Sandra Scarr, 1984 Race, Social Class, and Individual Differences in I.Q. Sandra Scarr, 1981 First published in 1981 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company
The Science and Politics of Racial Research William H. Tucker, 1994 Unlike other critiques of the scientific literature on racial difference The Science and Politics of Racial Research argues that there has been no scientific purpose or value to the study of innate differences in ability between groups William Tucker shows how for more than a century scientific investigations of supposedly innate differences in ability between races have been used to rationalize social and political inequality as the unavoidable consequence of natural differences Tucker structures his work chronologically with each chapter describing how research on genetic difference was used in a particular era to support a particular political agenda He begins with the use of science to support slavery in the mid nineteenth century and ends with the effects of Jensenism in the 1970s Highlights include one chapter describing a little known but concerted attempt by a group of scientists to overturn the Brown v Board of Education decision on the basis of expert testimony about racial differences and another that presents a review of the eugenics movement in the twentieth century The author also considers how to balance the rights and responsibilities of scientists concluding that one generally neglected method is to strengthen the rights of research subjects

Federal Programs for Young Children: Review and Recommendations Sheldon Harold White, 1973 Advances in the Psychology of Human Intelligence Robert J. Sternberg, 2014-02-25 First published in 1987 Since the 1960s we have witnessed a remarkable resurgence of interest in the psychology of human intelligence In the late 1960s research in the field of intelligence seemed to have gone into at least partial remission But today a large number of investigators are pursuing active research programs concerning human intelligence Advances in the Psychology of Human Intelligence of which this is the fourth volume contains chapters by leaders in the field that document the progress being made toward understanding human intelligence Intelligence, Heredity and Environment Robert J. Sternberg, Elena L. Ceci, 2009-07-01 Ceci argues that traditional conceptions of intelligence ignore the role of society in shaping intelligence and underestimate the intelligence of non Western societies He puts forth a bio ecological framework of individual differences in intellectual development that is intended to address some of the major deficiencies of extant theories of intelligence The focus is on alternative interpretations of phenomena that emerge when implicit assumptions of intelligence researchers are challenged

Assessing Adolescent and Adult Intelligence Alan S. Kaufman, Elizabeth O. Lichtenberger, 2005-08-05 The classic text now updated with a new interpretive approach to the WAIS III Assessing Adolescent and Adult Intelligence the classic text from Alan Kaufman and Elizabeth Lichtenberger has consistently provided the most comprehensive source of information on cognitive assessment of adults and adolescents The newly updated Third Edition provides important enhancements and additions that highlight the latest research and interpretive methods for the WAIS III Augmenting the traditional sequential and simultaneous WAIS III interpretive methods the authors present a new approach derived from Cattell Horn Carroll CHC theory This approach combines normative assessment performance relative to age peers with ipsative assessment performance relative to the person's own mean level Following Flanagan and Kaufman's work to develop a similar CHC approach for the WISC IV Kaufman and Lichtenberger have applied this system to the WAIS III profile of scores along with integrating recent WAIS III literature Four appendices present the new method in depth In addition to a detailed description

the authors provide a blank interpretive worksheet to help examiners make the calculations and decisions needed for applying the additional steps of the new system and norms tables for the new WAIS III subtest combinations added in this approach. Assessing Adolescent and Adult Intelligence remains the premier resource for the field covering not only the WAIS III but also the WJ III, the KAIT and several brief measures of intelligence as well as laying out a relevant up to date discussion of the discipline. The new theory based interpretive approach for the WAIS III makes this a vital resource for practicing psychologists as well as a comprehensive text for graduate students.

Intelligence and How to Get It: Why Schools and Cultures Count Richard E. Nisbett, 2010-02-08 Nisbett weighs in forcefully and articulately using a thoroughly appealing style to engage throughout. Publishers Weekly Who are smarter Asians or Westerners? Are there genetic explanations for group differences in test scores? From the damning research of The Bell Curve to the more recent controversy surrounding geneticist James Watson's statements, one factor has been consistently left out of the equation: culture. In the tradition of Stephen Jay Gould's The Mismeasure of Man, world class social psychologist Richard E. Nisbett takes on the idea of intelligence as biologically determined and impervious to culture, with vast implications for the role of education as it relates to social and economic development. Intelligence and How to Get It asserts that intellect is not primarily genetic but is principally determined by societal influences.

Debates for sessions prior to 1873 are recorded in The Debates and Proceedings in the Congress of the United States 1789-1824, the Register of Debates in Congress 1824-1837, and the Congressional Globe 1833-1873.

Annals of Theoretical Psychology Joseph R. Royce, Leendert P. Mos, 2013-11-11 As such things happen, several manuscripts in the present volume were under review prior to the ones that appeared in Volume I of the Annals. A major difficulty encountered in the preparation of these volumes, apart from working up to three years in advance of publication, is eliciting appropriate commentary. If this format is to succeed, the commentary must be both engaging to the reader and satisfying to the author. It is not yet clear how successful we have been in this regard, and indeed we do not feel bound to publish commentary with each manuscript that is accepted for publication. Nevertheless, we do invite readers' commentaries on published materials. The contributions by Jan Smedslund and Benjamin Wolman in this volume have been through an inordinately long publication lag. We have been in receipt of both manuscripts since early in 1981, and Dr. Smedslund especially has since clarified and advanced his views elsewhere in print. K. B. Madsen and Joseph Rychlak submitted their manuscripts in the fall of 1981, while Michael Hyland and J. Philippe Rushton had first drafts of their manuscripts accepted for publication in the fall of 1982. We are grateful to our contributors for their expressed commitment to the Annals and assure potential contributors that the delay in publication is a mere matter of getting the series off the ground.
