Racial and Ethnic Identity in School Practices ROSA HERNANDEZ SHEETS, 1999-04 Presents work of scholars and practitioners who are exploring the interconnections of racial and ethnic identity to human development for the purpose of promoting successful pedagogical practices and services Ethnicity, Race, and Nationality in Education N. Ken Shimahara, Ivan Z. Holowinsky, Saundra Tomlinson-Clarke, 2001-07-01 This volume explores contemporary issues of ethnic cultural and national identities and their influence on the social construction of identity These issues are analyzed from the perspective of seven nations China Israel Japan South Africa Ukraine Wales and the United States While different these perspectives are not mutually exclusive lenses through which to review the discourse between ethnic and educational dynamics The chapters in this book illustrate how these seven perspectives differ as well as overlap Part I explores ethnicity and race as important variables in explaining minority students academic performance and schooling in the United States and China Part II focuses on ethnic and racial identity issues in Israel Japan and South Africa Part III addresses ethnic and racial identity as it affects racial integration at different levels of education in post apartheid South Africa and the effects on schooling of a rapidly changing ethnic map in the United States Part IV focuses on issues of language and national identity in three countries Ukraine and Wales where a national language is central to nation building and China where 61 languages are in use and bilingual education is essential in enhancing national literacy and communication The guestions this book addresses are highly significant in today s global economy and culture Scholars and professionals in the fields of comparative international and multicultural education and educational policy will find the volume particularly pertinent of Education and Human Development Stephen J. Farenga, Daniel Ness, 2015-07-17 This comprehensive and exhaustive reference work on the subject of education from the primary grades through higher education combines educational theory with practice making it a unique contribution to the educational reference market Issues related to human development and learning are examined by individuals whose specializations are in diverse areas including education psychology sociology philosophy law and medicine The book focuses on important themes in education and human development Authors consider each entry from the perspective of its social and political conditions as well as historical underpinnings The book also explores the people whose contributions have played a seminal role in the shaping of educational ideas institutions and organizations and includes entries on these institutions and organizations This work integrates numerous theoretical frameworks with field based applications from many areas in educational research Handbook of Research on Schools, Schooling and Human Development Judith L. Meece, Jacquelynne S. Eccles, 2010-06-10 Children spend more time in school than in any social institution outside the home And schools probably exert more influence on children's development and life chances than any environment beyond the home and neighbourhood. The purpose of this book is to document some important ways schools influence children's development and to describe various models and methods for studying schooling effects

Key features include Comprehensive Coverage this is the first book to provide a comprehensive review of what is known about schools as a context for human development Topical coverage ranges from theoretical foundations to investigative methodologies and from classroom level influences such as teacher student relations to broader influences such as school organization and educational policies Cross Disciplinary this volume brings together the divergent perspectives methods and findings of scholars from a variety of disciplines among them educational psychology developmental psychology school psychology social psychology psychiatry sociology and educational policy Chapter Structure to ensure continuity chapter authors describe 1 how schooling influences are conceptualized 2 identify their theoretical and methodological approaches 3 discuss the strengths and weaknesses of existing research and 4 highlight implications for future research practice and policy Methodologies chapters included in the text feature various methodologies including longitudinal studies hierarchical linear models experimental and quasi experimental designs and mixed methods The Palgrave International Handbook of Mixed Racial and Ethnic Classification Zarine L. Rocha, Peter J. Aspinall, 2020-01-03 This handbook provides a global study of the classification of mixed race and ethnicity at the state level bringing together a diverse range of country case studies from around the world The classification of race and ethnicity by the state is a common way to organize and make sense of populations in many countries from the national census and birth and death records to identity cards and household surveys As populations have grown diversified and become increasingly transnational and mobile single and mutually exclusive categories struggle to adequately capture the complexity of identities and heritages in multicultural societies State motivations for classification vary widely and have shifted over time ranging from subjugation and exclusion to remediation and addressing inequalities. The chapters in this handbook illustrate how differing histories and contemporary realities have led states to count and classify mixedness in different ways for different reasons This collection will serve as a key reference point on the international classification of mixed race and ethnicity for students and scholars across sociology ethnic and racial studies and public policy as well as policy makers and practitioners Love's Revolution Maria P. P. Root, 2001 When the Baby Boom generation was in college the last miscegenation laws were declared unconstitutional but interracial romances retained an aura of taboo Since 1960 the number of mixed race marriages has doubled every decade Today the trend toward intermarriage continues and the growing presence of interracial couples in the media on college campuses in the shopping malls and other public places draws little notice Love's Revolutiontraces the social changes that account for the growth of intermarriage as well as the lingering prejudices and false beliefs that oppress racially mixed families For this book author Maria P P Root a clinical psychologist interviewed some 200 people from a wide spectrum of racial and ethnic backgrounds Speaking out about their views and experiences these partners family members and children of mixed race marriages confirm that the barriers are gradually eroding but they also testify to the heartache caused by family opposition and disapproving strangers Root traces race prejudice to the various institutions that were structured to maintain white privilege but the heart of the book is her analysis of what happens when people of different races decide to marry Developing an analogy between families and types of businesses she shows how both positive and negative reactions to such marriages are largely a matter of shared concepts of family rather than individual feelings about race She probes into the identity issues that multiracial children confront and draws on her clinical experience to offer child rearing recommendations for multiracial families Root's Bill of Rights for Racially Mixed People is a document that at once empowers multiracial people and educates those who ominously ask What about the children Love's Revolution paints an optimistic but not idealized picture of contemporary relationships The Ten Truths about Interracial Marriage that close the book acknowledge that mixed race couples experience the same stresses as everyone else in addition to those arising from other people s prejudice or curiosity Their divorce rates are only slightly higher than those of single race couples which suggests that their success or failure at marriage is not necessarily a racial issue And that is a revolutionary idea Author note Maria P P Root Ph D is a clinical psychologist and past President of the Washington State Psychological Association Developing Identity in Adolescence Celina Chatman Nelson, Stephen C. Peck, Oksana Malanchuk, Jacquelynne S. Eccles, 2025-09-04 Explores racial ethnic identity development as a life long process of negotiating self context and others perceptions and behaviors from early adolescence to adulthood Guided by early foundational and recent compelling theories on race ethnicity and identity development across the lifespan Celina Chatman Nelson Stephen C Peck Oksana Malanchuk and Jacquelynne S Eccles provide a detailed analysis of their collected research on the Maryland Adolescent Development in Context Study MADICS to demonstrate the diversity of racial ethnic identity profiles and how they change over time MADICS began with nearly 1500 7th graders and their families in the early 1990s following many of them into their early 30s at the turn of the millennium Using mixed method research involving case studies and interview data this book demonstrates racial ethnic identity as multidimensional contextualized and idiosyncratic within a bidirectional iterative and nuanced process Through the presentation of their research findings on Prince George's County youth the authors encourage families schools and communities to have an open dialogue about race ethnicity to promote active reflection not only among developing youth but also within the world we live in today Working with Multiracial Students Kendra R. Wallace, 2006-09-01 Working with Mixed Heritage Students offers a collection of writings that bridges the social science and educational literature related to mixed heritage identity development and schooling in diverse contexts As such it is the first book of its kind to provide a direct focus on multiracial ethnic identity and formal education in the United States based on the scholarship of educational researchers The two common threads linking the chapters are the flexible yet situated nature of ethnic and racial identities among mixed heritage students and the importance of theorizing social contexts when interpreting and representing identity community and belonging In addition to exploring general themes of identity development Working with Mixed Heritage Students addresses theoretical and methodological issues in conducting research on topics related to mixed heritage students as well as implications for teacher preparation and educational practice Ultimately the authors brought together in this volume share a focus on recently mixed heritage students of first or second or third generation multiracial and multiethnic descent This diversity of perspectives on such a complex topic creates a tension within the book one that naturally emerges through interdisciplinary collaboration But it is hoped that this tension is just one of many that will lead to further reflection dialogue and action by researchers and educators working with like populations Race and Colorism in Education Carla Monroe, 2016-12-08 As one of the first scholarly books to focus on colorism in education this volume considers how connections between race and color may influence school based experiences Chapter authors question how variations in skin tone as well as related features such as hair texture and eye color complicate perspectives on race and they demonstrate how colorism is a form of discrimination that affects educational stakeholders especially students families and professionals across P 16 institutions This volume provides an outline of colorism's contemporary relevance within the United States and shares considerations for international dimensions that are linked to immigration refugee populations and Canada By situating colorism in an educational context this book offers suggestions for how educators may engage and confront this form of discrimination Christian Education Curriculum for the Digital Generation Jong Soo Park, 2015-02-16 This book is about exploring and presenting a model of digital based curriculum for Christian education suitable for the digital ways of learning communicating and thinking Park discusses the limitations of analog based curricula most of current curricula and necessities for digital oriented ones Then he provides a new model of curriculum curriculum as software Curriculum as software is a curricular framework for embracing digital culture like open flat network service centered management interactive communication and offline online hybrid learning space It consists of four spiral stages analysis design simulation and service In the process of designing units 4R Movement a new learning theory is utilized to encourage today s young people to construct their own knowledge after critically analyzing various resources of information 4R embeded courses are implemented in the four movements reflection reinterpretation reformation and recreation Building Integrated Collaborative Relationships for Inclusive Learning Settings AuCoin, Dena, 2021-06-25 As a result of the mandates of the Individual with Disabilities Education Improvement Act IDEIA inclusive practices have become the norm for addressing the needs of all learners In addition these mandates require that steps must be taken to guarantee that all students are successful in all school settings regardless of ability Possibly now more than ever educators should be experts in building collaborative relationships for inclusive settings The perceived positive benefits of collaboration among teachers for inclusive settings creates a topic of interest Research has begun to focus on the study of the deep or integrated collaborative relationships between special education and general education teachers and the use of inclusive learning communities to support practice Building Integrated Collaborative Relationships for Inclusive Learning Settings provides background information on special education law inclusion and strategies for integrated collaborative relationships that include the creation of inclusion professional learning communities and a map for intended collaboration Moreover the book provides insights and supports professionals concerned with the evolving environment of schools and education and how to best meet the needs of all learners This book is intended for teachers special education teachers counsellors professionals and researchers working in the field of education and inservice and preservice teachers administrators teacher educators practitioners researchers academicians and students looking to improve their understanding on how to build and maintain practices to support inclusive learning settings Developmental Science Marc H. Bornstein, Michael E. Lamb, 2015-07-24 Developmental Science An Advanced Textbook is the most complete and cutting edge introduction to the field available today Since its initial publication the key purpose of the text has been to furnish inclusive developmental perspectives on all substantive areas in psychology neuroscience perception cognition language emotion and social interaction This edition is no exception as it continues to underscore the dynamic and exciting status of contemporary developmental science In this Seventh Edition Marc H Bornstein and Michael E Lamb once again invite international experts to prepare original comprehensive and topical treatments of the major areas of developmental science which are masterfully woven into a single coherent volume Some chapters in this edition are new and those carried forward from the sixth edition have been extensively revised This volume represents faithfully the current status of scholarly efforts in all aspects of developmental science Ideal for advanced undergraduate and introductory graduate courses the text is accompanied by a website with supplementary material for students and instructors including chapter outlines topics to think about before reading glossaries and suggested readings The Conscious Cultural Worker Khalilah Ali, 2024-04-01 The Conscious Cultural Worker Counter Narratives of Black Women Artivists as Radical Educators uses narrative inquiry and Black feminist and womanist pedagogy to look at the teaching identities and lived experiences of Black women artivist educators in the current neoliberal anti woke moment Their counter narratives are presented as vignettes to look at a certain time in the lives of Black women artists who use rap spoken word or visual art to turn public places like bars clubs galleries lounges and alleys into unofficial educational spaces that the author calls Communities of Reciprocity CoR This book adds to what is known about situated learning teacher identity and the co creation of communities of practice by focusing on the point of view of Black women as conscious culture workers It does this by bringing attention to the fact that culture work is a kind of conversation between creatives as expert practitioners and audiences as spect actors who co create liberatory educative texts In this book Black women work the culture by challenging hegemonic discourse and hidden curricula wherever people who want to learn come together Child Development and Education Teresa M. McDevitt, Jeanne Ellis Ormrod, Glenn Cupit, Margaret Chandler, Valarie Aloa, 2012-08-21 Child Development and Education is a comprehensive child development text written especially for educators It helps students to translate developmental theories into practical implications for teaching and caring for youngsters with diverse backgrounds characteristics and needs The text draws from innumerable theoretical concepts research studies conducted around the world and the authors own experiences as parents teachers psychologists and researchers to identify strategies for promoting young people's physical cognitive and social emotional growth In this Australian edition contemporary Australian and New Zealand research has been highlighted and local educational structures philosophies and controversies have been reflected The Development of the Social Self Mark Bennett, Fabio Sani,2004-07-31 Drawing upon the perspective of social identity theory. The Development of the Social Self is concerned with the acquisition and development of children's social identities In contrast to previous work on self development which has focused primarily on the development of the personal self this volume makes a case for the importance of the study of the social self that is the self as defined through group memberships such as gender ethnicity and nationality A broad range of identity related issues are addressed such as ingroup identification conceptions of social identities prejudice and the central role of social context Based on contributions from leading researchers in Europe Australia and the US the book summarises the major research programmes conducted to date Furthermore the closing chapters provide commentary on this research as well as mapping out key directions for future research With a unique focus encompassing both social and developmental psychology The Development of the Social Self will appeal to a broad spectrum of students and researchers in both disciplines as well as those working in related areas such as sociology and child development Family Engagement in Black Students' Academic Success Vilma Seeberg, 2021-03-15 This timely volume presents powerful stories told by Black families and students who have successfully negotiated a racially fraught affluent and diverse suburban school district in America to illustrate how they have strategically contested sanctioned racist practices and forged a path for students to achieve a high quality education Drawing on rich qualitative data collected through interviews and interactions with parents and kin students community activists and educators Family Engagement in Black Students Academic Success chronicles how pride in Black American family history and values students personal capabilities and their often collective proactive challenges to systemic and personal racism shape students academic engagement Familial and collective cultural wealth of the Black community emerges as a central driver in students successful achievement Finally the text puts forward key recommendations to demonstrate how incorporating the knowledge and voices of Black families in school decision making remaining critically conscious of race and racial history in everyday actions and longer term policy and pursuing collective strategies for social justice in education will help eliminate current opportunity gaps and will counteract the master narrative of underachievement ever present in America This volume will be of interest to students scholars and academics with an interest in matters of social justice equity and equality of opportunity in education for Black Americans In addition the text offers key insights for school authorities in building effective working relationships with Black American families to support the high achievement of Black students in K 12 education Biracial Women in Therapy Cathy Thompson, Angela R Gillem, 2019-07-18 Get a unique perspective on the female biracial experience Biracial Women in Therapy Between the Rock
