

RACIAL FACTORS IN AMERICAN INDUSTRY

HERMAN FELDMAN

*Professor of Industrial Relations
The Johns Hopkins School of Administration and Finance
Baltimore, Md.*

Raymond B. Foxdick

In his Foreword, says of this book:

"The evidence which the authors have marshalled in regard to present conditions is far from reassuring. Their picture of the economic exploitation of the Negro and the Oriental, of the racial prejudice which determines the work and pay of these 'inferior' races, of the careless descriptions and easy going indifference which fix their status and environment in the communities where they live, is not a picture in which Americans can take any pride.

"Fortunately the authors do not limit their discussion to a portrayal of existing misadjustments. Part II is an outline of social and industrial remedies—a constructive statement on the possible steps to be taken both by the community and by industry.

"If we succeed in achieving some measure of tolerance in the future and leading a fairer economic life for all within our borders, it will be because research of this type has developed an understanding of the problem and a technique for meeting it.

"On the whole I doubt if a more thought-provoking and more significant book has been published in many months.
