Surviving Race, Ethnicity, and Nationality Jorge J. E. Gracia, 2005-11-01. Surviving Race Ethnicity and Nationality is the first book to explore philosophically the concepts of race, ethnicity, and nationality and offer a systematic and unified theory emphasizing metaphysical and epistemological issues. Gracia argues for a familial historical view of ethnicity and race in the tradition of Du Bois and for a political view of nationality, the roots of which can be traced to the French Enlightenment. Meticulous criticism of Appiah on race, Corlett on ethnicity, and Miller on nationality set the stage for the presentation of Gracia's own analytically precise discussion. Surviving Race Ethnicity and Nationality is an indispensable resource for anyone interested in the distinctive ways that philosophy informs and clarifies our common understanding of these complex concepts.

Confronting Diversity Issues on Campus Benjamin Bowser, Gale S. Auletta, Terry Jones, 1993-08-24. This book provides an analysis of racism and goes on to provide some suggestions as to what can be done to reduce it. The issue is explored from the standpoint of both students and faculty and, in my opinion, is well worth reading and studying. The Academic Bookshelf. No topic causes more concern at today's university than a discussion of diversity in education. Controversies about affirmative action, hiring, admission policies, intercultural relations in the classroom, the role of ethnic studies departments, and changes in the course curriculum all seem to swirl around the changing ethnic composition of the campus. How do we all get along? Tackling this question are authors Benjamin P. Bowser, Gale S. Auletta, and Terry Jones, who suggest some practical strategies for dealing with questions of racism, diversity, and intercultural communication. Their suggestions are addressed to both European American faculty and faculty of color and range from strategies to improve intercultural interpersonal skills to broad structural changes the university needs to undergo to fully embrace its diverse population.

"I'm Not a Racist, But..." Lawrence Blum, 2015-08-01. Not all racial incidents are racist incidents. Lawrence Blum says, "We need a more varied and nuanced moral vocabulary for talking about the arena of race. We should not be faced with a choice of racism or nothing. Use of the word racism is pervasive. An article about the NAACP's criticism of television networks for casting too few minority actors in lead roles asks, 'Is television a racist institution?' A white girl in Virginia says it is racist for her African American teacher to wear African attire. Blum argues that a growing tendency to castigate as racism everything that goes wrong in the racial domain reduces the term's power to evoke moral outrage. In I'm Not a Racist, But... Blum develops a historically grounded account of racism as the deeply morally charged notion it has become. He addresses the question whether people of color can be racist, defines types of racism, and identifies debased and inappropriate usages of the term. Though racial insensitivity, racial anxiety, racial ignorance, and racial injustice are, in his view, not racism, they are racial ills that should elicit moral concern. Blum argues that race itself, even when not serving distinct racial malfeasance, is a morally destructive idea implying moral distance and unequal worth. History and genetic science reveal both the avoidability and the falsity of the idea of race. Blum argues that we can give up the idea of race but must recognize that racial groups historical and social experience has been shaped by having been treated as if they were races Feminist Waves, Feminist Generations Hokulani K. Aikau, Karla A. Erickson, Jennifer L. Pierce, 2007 Feminist Waves Feminist Generations challenges the static figuring of feminist generations that positions the second wave of feminist scholars against a homogeneous third wave Based on life stories from contemporary feminist scholars this volume emphasizes how feminism develops unevenly over time and across institutions and ultimately offers a new paradigm for theorizing the intersections between generations and feminist waves of thought Contributors Sam Bullington U of Missouri Susan Cahn SUNY Buffalo Dawn Rae Davis U of Minnesota Lisa J Disch U of Minnesota Sara Evans U of Minnesota Elizabeth Faue Wayne State U Roderick A Ferguson U of Minnesota Peter Hennen Ohio State U at Newark Wendy Leo Moore Texas A Toni McNaron U of Minnesota Jean M O'Brien U of Minnesota Felicity Schaeffer Grabel U of California Santa Cruz Anne Firor Scott Duke U Janet D Spector U of Minnesota Amanda Lock Swarr U of Washington Seattle Miglena Todorova U of Minnesota Hokulani K Aikau is assistant professor of indigenous politics in the department of political science at the University of Hawai'i at Manoa Karla A Erickson is assistant professor of sociology at Grinnell College Jennifer L Pierce is associate professor of American studies at the University of Minnesota
