Go West! Bernhard Hemetsberger, Andreas Oberdorf, 2025-03-31 The West is a central concept in public discourse but its meaning is often unclear and open to manifold interpretations and ascriptions of belonging and exclusion Who is part of the West When and where is it located How did its meaning change over space and time Who are the mediators of the West and what is their interest in terms of culture and education The West is often used without any critical questioning though This is also reflected in history of education research especially with focus on transnational or transatlantic issues Here the West is a sort of container term or fuzzy concept that can refer to a variety of historical entanglements and cultural transfers in school systems and education but also to conflicts and crises accordingly This book aims to stimulate a critical reflection and debate on ideas of the West in the history of education by gathering scholars from various fields of historical research With a reflexive historical distance to current political incidents in which ideas of the West are revived the contributions in this book are intended to enable readers to evaluate representations of the West in current academic or public discourses and debates alike

Scheherazade Goes West Fatema Mernissi, 2001-09-16 Throughout my childhood my grandmother Yasmina who was illiterate and grew up in a harem repeated that to travel is the best way to learn and to empower yourself When a woman decides to use her wings she takes big risks she would tell me but she was convinced that if you didn't use them it hurt So recalls Fatema Mernissi at the outset of her mesmerizing new book Of all the lessons she learned from her grandmother whose home was after all a type of prison the most central was that the opportunity to cross boundaries was a sacred privilege Indeed in journeys both physical and mental Mernissi has spent virtually all of her life traveling determined to use her wings and to renounce her gender's alleged legacy of powerlessness Bursting with the vitality of Mernissi's personality and of her rich heritage Scheherazade Goes West reveals the author's unique experiences as a liberated independent Moroccan woman faced with the peculiarities and unexpected encroachments of Western culture Her often surprising discoveries about the conditions of and attitudes toward women around the world and the exquisitely embroidered amalgam of clear-eyed autobiography and dazzling meta-fiction by which she relates those assorted discoveries add up to a deliciously wry engagingly cosmopolitan and deeply penetrating narrative In her previous bestselling works Mernissi widely recognized as the world's greatest living Koranic scholar and Islamic sociologist has shed unprecedented light on the lives of women in the Middle East Now as a writer and scholarly veteran of the high wire act of straddling disparate societies she trains her eyes on the female culture of the West For her book's inspired central metaphor Mernissi turns to the ancient Islamic tradition of oral storytelling illuminating her grandmother's feminized subversive and highly erotic take on Scheherazade's wife preserving tales from The Arabian Nights and then ingeniously applying them to her own lyrically embellished personal narrative Interwoven with vivid ruminations on her childhood her education and her various international travels are the author's piquant musings on a range of deeply embedded societal conditions that add up Mernissi argues to a veritable Western harem A provocative and lively challenge to the common assumption that women have it so much better in the West than anywhere else in the world Mernissi's book is an entrancing and timely look at the way we live here and now By inspiring us to reconsider even the most commonplace aspects of our culture with fresh eyes and a healthy dose of suspicion Scheherazade Goes West offers an invigorating candid and entertaining new perspective on the themes and ideas to which Betty Friedan first turned us on nearly forty years ago Next Level Marriage Kerry A.
