Speculum of the Other Woman Luce Irigaray, 1985 A radically subversive critique brings to the fore the masculine ideology implicit in psychoanalytic theory and in Western discourse in general. Woman is defined as a disadvantaged man, a male construct with no status of her own.

Love and Hate David Mann, 2013-11-12 Love and hate seem to be the dominant emotions that make the world go round and are a central theme in psychotherapy. Love and Hate seeks to answer some important questions about these all-consuming passions. Many patients seeking psychotherapy feel unlovable or full of rage and hate. What is it that interferes with the capacity to experience love? This book explores the origins of love and hate from infancy and how they develop through the life cycle. It brings together contemporary views about clinical practice on how psychotherapists and analysts work with and think about love and hate in the transference and countertransference and explores how different schools of thought deal with the subject. David Mann together with an impressive array of international contributors represent a broad spectrum of psychoanalytic perspectives including Kleinian, Jungian, Independent Group and Lacanian psychotherapists, psychoanalysts and analytical psychologists. With emphasis on clinical illustration throughout, the writers show how different psychoanalytic schools think about and clinically work with the experience and passions of love and hate. It will be invaluable to practitioners and students of psychotherapy, psychoanalysis, analytical psychology and counselling.

Like Subjects, Love Objects Jessica Benjamin, 1995-01-01 In this important book a well-known psychoanalyst and feminist makes a case for what she calls gender heterodoxy, a highly original view of the similarities and differences between the sexes and in the process illuminates aspects of love, sexuality, aggression and pornography.

Narrative Mourning Kathleen M. Oliver, 2020-07-17 Narrative Mourning explores death and its relics as they appear within the confines of the eighteenth-century British novel. It argues that the cultural disappearance of the dead, dying body and the introduction of consciousness as humanity's newfound soul found expression in fictional representations of the relic object or relict person. In the six novels examined in this monograph: Samuel Richardson's Clarissa and Sir Charles Grandison; Sarah Fielding's David Simple; and Volume the Last of Henry Mackenzie's The Man of Feeling and Ann Radcliffe's The Mysteries of Udolpho, the appearance of the relic relict signals narrative mourning and expresses often obliquely changing cultural attitudes toward the dead. Published by Bucknell University Press. Distributed worldwide by Rutgers University Press.

Psychoanalysis: Listening to Love Simonetta Dina, 2018-04-19 This book is about love, about how we fall in love and why we fall in love and about how much we suffer if unable to love or be loved. The need to love and be loved can be read as the prototype of every human need and every relationship between human beings. To be loved is wishing to be seen, known, recognised for what we are in our deepest and most hidden inner self in our wildest desires to live and be free. It is a need for knowledge gratefulness and recognition Literature cinema and our very experience of life tell us about it By listening to love can psychoanalysis add anything further and new to what has already been said by culture art and by our life experiences In psychoanalysis the events of love can be understood by going back to the most primitive forms of human relationships that is to the earliest childhood experiences Kaplan & Sadock's Concise Textbook of Clinical

Psychiatry Benjamin J. Sadock, Virginia A. Sadock, 2008 Ideal for any student or health care professional who needs an authoritative text that is sharply focused on clinical psychiatry this book contains the most relevant clinical material from the bestselling Kaplan and Sadock's Synopsis of Psychiatry 10th Edition and includes updated information on recently introduced psychiatric drugs The Ethical Dimension of Psychoanalysis W. W. Meissner, 2003-02-27 Explores the contributions that psychoanalysis can make to the study of ethics and vice versa Lacan on Love Bruce Fink, 2017-09-05 Quintessentially fascinating love intrigues and perplexes us and drives much of what we do in life As wary as we may be of its illusions and disappointments many of us fall blindly into its traps and become ensnared time and again Deliriously mad excitement turns to disenchantment if not deadening repetition and we wonder how we shall ever break out of this vicious cycle Can psychoanalysis with ample assistance from philosophers poets novelists and songwriters give us a new perspective on the wellsprings and course of love Can it help us fathom how and why we are often looking for love in all the wrong places and are fundamentally confused about what love really is In this lively and wide ranging exploration of love throughout the ages Fink argues that it can Taking within his compass a vast array of traditions from Antiquity to the courtly love poets Christian love and Romanticism and providing an in depth examination of Freud and Lacan on love and libido Fink unpacks Lacan's paradoxical claim that love is giving what you don't have He shows how the emptiness or lack we feel within ourselves gets covered over or entwined in love and how it is possible and indeed vital to give something to another that we feel we ourselves don't have This first ever commentary on Lacan's Seminar VIII Transference provides readers with a clear and systematic introduction to Lacan's views on love It will be of great value to students and scholars of psychology and of the humanities generally and to analysts of all persuasions Alienation and Identity in Romantic Love Gary

Foster, 2024-08-06 The concept of romantic love influenced as it is by the theme within Romanticism of alienation and identification suggests an important connection between love and personal identity Love in this context recognizes both the sense in which one's beloved is a separate human being and is at the same time a constitutive aspect of one's identity Alienation and Identity in Romantic Love explores this connection in the context of discussions of both metaphysical views of personal identity and practical or ethical accounts To this end Gary Foster discusses the work of influential philosophers in both the analytic and continental traditions as well as the findings of sociologists He explores the love and personal identity relationship through moral and narrative perspectives and examines certain aspects of the modern love experience such as the phenomenon of online dating Ultimately Foster finds in Jean Paul Sartre's work a promising approach to understanding this connection through his emphasis on embodied identity Nervous and Mental Disease Monograph Series ,1918
