The Coupling Convention : Sex, Text, and Tradition in Black Women's Fiction Ann duCille Associate Professor of English and African American Studies Wesleyan University, 1993-10-19 What does the tradition of marriage mean for people who have historically been deprived of its legal status Generally thought of as a convention of the white middle class the marriage plot has received little attention from critics of African American literature In this study Ann duCille uses texts such as Nella Larsen s Quicksand 1928 and Zora Neale Hurston s Their Eyes Were Watching God 1937 to demonstrate that the African American novel like its European and Anglo American counterparts has developed around the marriage plot what she calls the coupling convention Exploring the relationship between racial ideology and literary and social conventions duCille uses the coupling convention to trace the historical development of the African American women s novel She demonstrates the ways in which black women appropriated this novelistic device as a means of expressing and reclaiming their own identity More than just a study of the marriage tradition in black women s fiction however The Coupling Convention takes up and takes on many different meanings of tradition It challenges the notion of a single black literary tradition or of a single black feminist literary canon grounded in specifically black female language and experience as it explores the ways in which white and black male and female mainstream and marginalized traditions and canons have influenced and cross fertilized each other Much more than a period study The Coupling Convention spans the period from 1853 to 1948 addressing the vital questions of gender subjectivity race and the canon that inform literary study today In this original work duCille offers a new paradigm for reading black women s fiction

The Story of a Marriage Geir Gulliksen, 2018-07-24 A dramatic portrait of the dissolution of a marriage written with brutal and lyrical precision and nominated for the Nordic Prize Jon who is losing his wife to another man is trying to understand what happened to his Great Love by working painfully to see the story from her perspective It begins as he asks her Can you tell me about us As he looks to his past and within himself he begins to question the conventions of masculinity and femininity understanding himself uncommonly as a man who challenges the male role he s deeply embedded in family life and identifies as sensitive vulnerable and nurturing And finally in an effort to understand how his wife could fall in love with someone else he attempts an ultimate act of empathy to tell the story from the other man s point of view raising crippling questions Is it possible to have sex without violating oneself or the other How much of what we think is love is only projection Is it possible to truly know another person With prose unsettling in its precision and emotional heft The Story of a Marriage cracks wide open the familiar story of a failed love as it turns clichéd phrases over and over again until they crumble revealing a bitter hollowness or ringing new meanings

After Intimacy Karl Leydecker, Nicholas White, 2007 Divorce is a conspicuous character trait of modernity commonly portrayed in texts and on screen with its moral and social rationalisation firmly rooted in Enlightenment and Romantic thought The aim of this volume is to bring into focus this contemporary cultural fascination by assembling the variety of academic responses it has started to create Bringing together the reflections of scholars from the UK and North America who have worked in this domain this study offers for the first time a genuinely wide ranging account of the depiction of divorce across the northern hemisphere in a number of media fiction journalism film and television It reaches historically from the intellectual and legal aftermath of the Enlightenment right up to the present day As such the collection shows both the roots of this apparently contemporary phenomenon in nineteenth century literary practice and the very particular ways in which divorce characterises the different narrative media of modernity
