Love and War in London Olivia Cockett, 2009-08-03 Olivia Cockett was twenty six years old in the summer of 1939 when she responded to an invitation from Mass Observation to ordinary individuals to keep a diary of their everyday lives attitudes feelings and social relations This book is an annotated unabridged edition of her candid and evocative diary Love and War in London A Woman's Diary 1939-1942 is rooted in the extraordinary milieu of wartime London Vibrant and engaging Olivia's diary reveals her frustrations fears pleasures and self doubts She records her mood swings and tries to understand them and speaks of her lover a married man and the intense relationship they have As she and her friends and family in New Scotland Yard are swept up by the momentous events of another European war she vividly reports on what she sees and hears in her daily life Hers is a diary that brings together the personal and the public It permits us to understand how one intelligent imaginative woman struggled to make sense of her life as the city in which she lived was drawn into the turmoil of a catastrophic war Nine Wartime Lives James Hinton, Mass-Observation, 2010-01-14 A fascinating re evaluation of the social history of the second world war looking at the diaries kept by nine ordinary people in wartime Britain for the Mass Observation social research organization

Wimbledon, Merton & Morden at War, 1939-45 Ruth Mansergh, 2018-10-30 More than 350 bombs fell on Wimbledon during the Second World War killing 150 residents and injuring a further 1 071 Around 12 000 houses were damaged and 810 destroyed Notable people discussed in this fascinating book include Ernest Leonard Harvey who was onboard HMS Suffolk on the night Bismarck was spotted Peter Walley who died when he steered his crashing aircraft away from housing in the area Pat Reid Colditz Castle escapee PoW Ernest Colman's Wimbledon Variation casualties of the Burma Thailand railway and the members of the Mitcham Home Guard who were killed when a German parachute mine hit the Tower Creameries site on Wednesday 16 April 1941 after a relatively quiet couple of weeks This well researched book also includes a list of the lost hospitals of Wimbledon as well as war memorials in the London Borough of Merton findings which have since been added to the Imperial War Museum's website www.iwm.org.uk It also provides an insight into factory worker jobs that have long since bitten the dust Tri ang in South Wimbledon was a national by word for toys until it started making munitions for real And with the outbreak of war Vortexion of The Broadway Wimbledon a manufacturer of public address amplifiers found itself under the direction of the Government for war work Overall this is a poignant testimony to the momentous efforts bravery self sacrifice and determination of the people of Wimbledon during the Second World War who sought to find normality in a reality so far removed from anything they had ever known Reading London in Wartime William Cederwell,2017-11-06 Reading London in Wartime Blitz the People and Propaganda in 1940s Literature presents an expansive variety of writers and genres including non fiction and film approaches to build a comprehensive social picture of the atmosphere during wartime London From blitz and austerity to the nagging insistency of propaganda this volume examines the representation of London in wartime and early post war literature through each writer s unique perspective on the pressures of 1940s city life Exploring the use of London imagery this book considers how literature redirects attention to individual subjective experience at a time of enforced co operation uniformity and community Unlike government information films and news broadcasts which often used London to prop up prevailing clich s and stereotypes and encouraged patriotic support for the war literature had the freedom to express more recalcitrant truths London writing of the 1940s was not a literature of opposition or dissent but in offering more nuanced depictions of the period it was a counterweight to propaganda and the general war temperament In writing the city becomes a more complex place no longer the easy symbol of defiance and stoicism of the shared sacrifice of ration book and war work The English in Love Claire Langhamer,2013-08-22 Love has a history It has meant different things to different people at different moments and has served different purposes This book tells the story of love at a crucial point a moment when the emotional landscape changed dramatically for large numbers of people It is a story based in England but informed by America and covers the period from the end of the First World War until the break up of The Beatles To the casual observer this era was a golden age of marriage More people married than ever before They did so at increasingly younger ages And there was a revolution in our idea of what marriage meant Pragmatic notions of marriage as institution were superseded by the more romantic ideal of a relationship based upon individual emotional commitment love sex and personal fulfilment And yet this new idea of marriage based on a belief in the transformative power of love and emotion carried within it the seeds of its own destruction Romantic love particularly when tied to sexual satisfaction ultimately proved an unreliable foundation upon which to build marriages fatally it had the potential to evaporate over time and under pressure Scratching beneath the surface of the apparent golden age of marriage Claire Langhamer uncovers the real story of love in the twentieth century via the recollections of ordinary people who lived through the period It is a tale of quiet emotional instability persistent subversion and unsettling change At its end the idea of life long marriage was in serious decline And as Langhamer shows this was a decline directly rooted in the contradictions and tensions that lay at the heart of the emotional revolution itself Krieg und Literatur/War and Literature Vol. XIV, 2008 Claudia Junk,Thomas F. Working Memory Marlene Kadar, Jeanne Perreault, 2015-07-31 Working Memory Women and Work in World War II speaks to the work women did during the war the labour of survival resistance and collaboration and the labour of recording representing and memorializing these wartime experiences The contributors follow their subjects tracks and deepen our understanding of the experiences from the imprints left behind These efforts are a part of the making of history and when the process is as personal as many of our contributors research has been it is also the working of memory The implication here is that memory is intimate and that the layering of narrative fragments that recovery involves brings us in touching distance to ourselves These are not the stories of the brave little woman at home they are stories of the woman who calculated the main chance and took up with the Nazi soldier or who eagerly dropped the apron at the door and picked up a paintbrush or who brazenly bargained for her life and her mother s with the most feared of tyrants These are stories of courage and sometimes of compromise not the courage of bravado and hype and big guns but rather the courage of hard choices and sacrifices that make sense of the life given even when that life seems only madness Working Memory brings scholarly attention to the roles of women in World War II that have been hidden masked undervalued or forgotten Dead Woman Pickney Yvonne
