Nils Böckler, Thorsten Seeger, Peter Sitzler, Wilhelm Heitmeyer, 2012-12-13 School shootings are a topic of research in a variety of different disciplines from psychology to sociology to criminology pedagogy and public health each with their own set of theories Many of these theories are logically interconnected while some differ widely and seem incompatible with each other leading to divergent results about potential means of prevention In this innovative work leading researchers on the topic of school shootings introduce their findings and theoretical concepts in one combined systematic volume The contributions to this work highlight both the complementary findings from different fields as well as cases where they diverge or contradict each other The work is divided into four main sections an overview of current theoretical approaches and empirical models application of these theories to international cases including Columbine USA Emsdetten Germany and Tuusula Finland a critique of the influence of the media both in the portrayals of past events and its effect on future events and finally an overview of existing models for prevention and intervention and measures of their success The result is a comprehensive source for current research on school shootings and will provide a direction for future research

Real Effects of Capital Inflows in Emerging Markets Ms.Deniz O Igan, Ali M. Kutan, Ali Mirzae, 2016-12-06 We examine the association between capital inflows and industry growth in a sample of 22 emerging market economies from 1998 to 2010 We expect more external finance dependent industries in countries that host more capital inflows to grow disproportionately faster This is indeed the case in the pre crisis period of 1998 2007 and is driven by debt rather than equity inflows We also observe a reduction in output volatility but this association is more pronounced for equity rather than debt inflows These relationships however break down during the crisis hinting at the importance of an undisrupted global financial system for emerging markets to harness the growth benefits of capital inflows In line with this observation we also document that the inflows growth nexus is stronger in countries with well functioning banks

Policing and Mass Casualty Events Bernard H. Levin, 2007     Sin or Salvation Amy Mahoney, Oliva M. Espin, 2013-10-18 When in therapy women inevitably present both sexual and spiritual issues of importance However there has yet to be brought forth an integrating approach to women's sexuality and spirituality The book fills this gap integrating these two diverse yet connected aspects of therapy This innovative exploration of women's experiences of their sexuality and spirituality is presented from a feminist psychological perspective clearly illustrating the dichotomy that exists in Western culture and offering a unique approach for convergence This book provides therapists with positive and self affirming viewpoints and practical strategies to help harmonize sexual and spiritual issues in women clients The book uses a synergistic perspective to facilitate healing for women s psycho sexual spiritual growth and development Therapists are provided with invaluable tools for personal understanding and clinical practice when considering sexuality and spirituality and how they interact in a client s life This book is crucial reading for psychotherapists counselors social workers educators pastoral counselors and anyone interested in learning more about the intersections between sexuality and spirituality This book was published as a special issue of Women Therapy A Feminist Quarterly Dance as Third Space Heike

Walz,2021-12-06 Dance plays an important role in many religious traditions in rites of passage processions healing rituals or festivals But it is also controversial especially in Christianity Colonial European Christian discourses tend to separate dance from religion s and spirituality This volume explores dance as Third Space following Homi Bhabha s postcolonial metaphor The Inter Dance approach combines interdisciplinary theoretical considerations with case studies International experts examine dance controversies and discourses from the early church to World Christianity as well as in Hasidic Judaism Greek mysteries Islamic Sufism West African Togolese religions and Afro Brazilian Umbanda Christian dance theologies are unfolded and the boundary crossing potential of dance in interreligious and intercultural encounters is explored The volume breaks new ground in how dance as ephemeral performative art embodied thought and gendered discourse can transform studies of religion Designing Transformative Multicultural Initiatives Sherry K. Watt,2023-07-03

Higher education is facing a perfect storm as it contends with changing demographics shrinking budgets and concerns about access and cost while underrepresented groups both in faculty ranks and students are voicing dissatisfaction with campus climate and demanding changes to structural inequities This book argues that to address the inexorable changes ahead colleges and universities need both to centralize the value of diversity and inclusion and employ a set of strategies that are enacted at all levels of their institutions It argues that individual and institutional change efforts can only be achieved by implementing diversity as a value that is embracing social change efforts as central and additive rather than episodic and required and provides the research and theoretical frameworks to support this approach as well as tools and examples of practice that accomplish change The contributors to this book identify the elements that drive successful multicultural initiatives and that strengthen the effectiveness of campus efforts to dismantle systemic oppression as well as the individual and organization skills needed to manage difference effectively Among these is developing the capacity of administrators faculty and student affairs professionals as conscious scholar practitioners to sensitively manage conflicts on campus deconstruct challenging structures and reconstruct the environment intentionally to include in respectful ways experiences of historically marginalized groups and non dominant ways of being in the world The books focus on developing capacities for multicultural competence aligns with higher education s increasing emphasis on civic engagement and institutional goals promote skills to interact in meaningful and responsible ways around difference whether of people ideas or identities Designing Transformative Multicultural Initiatives provides guiding principles and practical strategies to successfully transform higher education to become fully inclusive and advance the success of all constituents and stakeholders

Biology and Conservation of Horseshoe Crabs John T. Tanacredi,Mark L. Botton,David Smith,2009-06-04 Horseshoe crabs those mysterious ancient mariners lured me into the sea as a child along the beaches of New Jersey Drawn to their shiny domed shells and spiked tails I could not resist picking them up turning them over and watching the wondrous mechanical movement of their glistening legs articulating with one another as smoothly as the inner working of a clock What was it like to be a horseshoe crab I wondered What did they eat Did they always move around together Why were some so large and others much smaller How old were they anyway What must it feel like to live underwater What else was out there down there in the cool green depths that gave rise to such intriguing creatures The only way to find out I reasoned would be to go into the ocean and see for myself and so I did and more than 60 years later I still do
