Love The Earth An Ecology Resource:

Love the Earth! Barbara Linse, Marty Links, 1991 Young children learn concern for the environment

Shakespeare's Ecology of Natural Resources Sophie Chiari, 2025-11-13 Sophie Chiari analyses how Shakespeare's plays and poems present the transformation of the early modern natural world through environmental shifts and ecological transformation. Using a range of examples from the Sonnets, Love's Labour's Lost, The Tempest, Hamlet, and Henry V, Chiari's ecopoetic study of dramatic language explores Shakespeare's response to the rise of extractive exploitation in Elizabethan and Jacobean England. Chiari expands our understanding of the environment in Shakespeare beyond the so-called green comedies by charting the transition from a pre-capitalist world towards a commodity-based society ruined by the enclosure of the commons. Using examples of water systems, sandscapes, soil, and frost alongside the production of glass and salt in Shakespeare, these materials which are currently underrepresented in Shakespearean ecocriticism signal a commitment to expanding the material turn in Shakespeare studies. Far from being limited to the present era, this book argues that cultural hegemony and the exploitation of soil, water, and ice were increasingly linked in the early modern era, an age of conquest and massive human depredation. By interweaving ecohistoricism, ecopoetics, and material studies, Shakespeare's Ecology of Natural Resources shows how an eco-minded approach focused on the interweaving of trade, territory, and extractivism reveals new layers of meaning in Shakespearean poetics and drama.

World Christianity and Ecological Theologies Raimundo C. Barreto, Graham McGeoch, Wanderley Pereira da Rosa, 2024-10-22 World Christianity and Ecological Theologies invites scholars in religious studies and theology from different continents and contexts to a North-South dialogue on environmental ethics, political ecology, and ecofeminism. Throughout the global pandemic, the connection between environmental rapacity, religion, and political interests has once again called scholarly attention to the important conversation on public religion and global environment-related issues. Acknowledging a deficit among scholars of World Christianity in addressing environmental concerns and the field's limited language for framing those concerns, this book aims to bring the fields of study of World Christianity, religion, and ecology into a sustained conversation with the goal of expanding the theoretical horizons of these fields. World Christianity and Ecological Theologies reiterates that all Christian theologies are contextual as they shape and are shaped by specific historical and cultural circumstances. It aims at showcasing the ways in which the intersection of religion and ecology is approached by scholars in religious studies and theology in the Global South or by those in conversation with them in the Global North, pointing to what can be generated if these bodies of scholarship are engaged as dialogue partners to investigate new patterns of religious environmentalism.

Interdependence : The Meshing of the World's Economy and the Earth's Ecology Ottawa Jim MacNeill Senior Fellow Institute for Research on Public Policy,Physical Planning Pieter Winsemius Senior Fellow former Dutch Minister of Housing, and Environment,Taizo Yakushiji Professor of Technology and International Relations Saitama University,1991-08-01 Over the last year the world has seen some cataclysmic changes Eastern Europe is no longer yoked with Soviet communism Germany is again a single powerful nation and Russia itself is pursuing a free market economy at an almost frantic pace Yet as we focus on the triumph of democracy it is easy to overlook the potentially catastrophic changes that face the world environment changes that are inextricably linked to the workings of the political and economic institutions of our time

Beyond Interdependence builds upon the Brundtland Commission's landmark report Our Common Future a book that has been hailed as the most important document of the decade on the future of the world and has sold over one half million copies in nineteen foreign languages. Dr Jim MacNeill the principal author of both works has in this latest study extended the Commission's analysis of the critical relationships between the global environment the world economy and the international order. Together with his eminent colleagues Pieter Winsemius and Taizo Yakushiji MacNeill shows that while our global economy and ecology have become completely interlocked they have remained separate in our institutions and in the minds of our policymakers. The result is a wide range of domestic and international policies that are accelerating the depletion of Earth's basic ecological and economic capital its rivers lakes and oceans its soils and forests its flora and fauna and its ozone shield. These short sighted policies also threaten us in the next century with a greater rise in global warming and sea level than have occurred in the ten thousand years since the last ice age. The authors argue that this environmental degradation and resource depletion will be the principal source of interstate conflict in the post cold war world. Providing a fresh analysis of the issues of global change and taking into account such recent events as the tidal shift in East West relations and the G7 Economic Summit in Houston Beyond Interdependence shows how industrialized nations can take unilateral action to address environmental threats while improving macroeconomic efficiency and international competitiveness. It also demonstrates how developed nations can negotiate a series of mutually advantageous bargains with Eastern European and Third World nations. With its incisive analysis and far reaching recommendations for policy reform Beyond Interdependence shows us how we can act urgently but intelligently to advance our common future. Elgar Encyclopedia of

L. Turner, William C. Clark, Robert W. Kates, John F. Richards, Jessica T. Mathews, William B. Meyer, 1993-01-29 The Earth as Transformed by Human Action is the culmination of a mammoth undertaking involving the examination of the toll our continual strides forward technical and social take on our world The purpose of such a study is to document the changes in the biosphere that have taken place over the last 300 years to contrast global patterns of change to those appearing on a regional level and to explain the major human forces that have driven these changes The first section deals strictly with the major human forces of the past 300 years and the second is a detailed account of the transformations of the global environment wrought by human action The final section examines a range of perspectives and theories that purport to explain human actions with regard to the biosphere
