In The Typhoon's Eye Bles Chavez-Bernstein, 2020-09-29 In The Typhoon's Eye is a story of childhood and growing up amidst struggle, sacrifice and concession to a stringent reality while keeping the dreams of youth alive. The imagery of Sandig hill with its vast greenery and lush ambiance shaped the perspective of the author as a young artist. Readers will share her personal journey in nostalgic local colors that are rendered by the sound of the church bells tolling, waking up the lazy town of Ocampo, the solemn procession on Easter, the crowded Sunday market and the seductive scents of native delicacies sold on the streets. Alcohol and post-traumatic stress disorder clouded the expression of parental love, resulting in the severe upbringing of the author and her siblings. Chavez Bernstein has crafted her coming-of-age tale in a profoundly insightful prose. This story is rich in pathos that can grip your heart with truthful tales of human interest. Love at first sight was as real as the disrupted lives in her parents' generation during the Second World War, which blossomed again among those born in the following generation. In The Typhoon's Eye is a memoir portraying the author's young life and her courageous treatment of life's adversities. Her perseverance, passion, relentless faith and unbreakable love of family highlight this poignant story.

Monsters of Our Own Making Marina Warner, 2007-02-23 In Monsters of Our Own Making Marina Warner explores the dark realm where ogres devour children and bogeymen haunt the night. She considers the enduring presence and popularity of male figures of terror, establishing their origins in mythology and their current relation to ideas about sexuality and power, youth and age.

Trauma and Memory Studies: Responses from India and Beyond Simi Malhotra, Sheikh Sana Assad, Farhana Tasnim, Somya Charan Pahadi, Sango Bidani, 2025-09-20 This edited volume offers a comprehensive revaluation of Trauma and Memory Studies, foregrounding perspectives from India and beyond. It critically interrogates the prevailing Eurocentric paradigm within the field, advocating for the amplification and contextualization of voices originating from South Asian spatial and temporal contexts. Departing from conventional West North-centric narratives, the text prioritizes the narratives of historically marginalized survivor groups encompassing individuals affected by pivotal events such as the 26/11 terror attacks in Mumbai, the Bengal famine, the dispersion of the Indian diaspora and the experiences of incarcerated populations in Iran, Kenya, Palestine etc. Through an in-depth exploration of societal mechanisms for remembrance and coping strategies vis-à-vis traumatic episodes such as the Jallianwala Bagh massacre, the book unveils the intricate interplay of political, cultural and social dynamics. It explores the complicated dynamics of post-colonial and post-conflict societies in India by using a range of interdisciplinary methodologies such as examining artistic expressions, oral histories and digital media. It discusses the ongoing debate between hegemonic historical narratives and the often marginalized voices of subaltern communities. This book serves as an indispensable resource for academics, students and researchers committed to the exploration of trauma and memory within non-Western contexts.
