Crime and Society in England Clive Emsley, 2013-09-13 Acknowledged as one of the best introductions to the history of crime in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries Crime and Society in England 1750 1900 examines the developments in policing the courts and the penal system as England became increasingly industrialised and urbanised The book challenges the old but still influential idea that crime can be attributed to the behaviour of a criminal class and that changes in the criminal justice system were principally the work of far sighted humanitarian reformers In this fourth edition of his now classic account Professor Emsley draws on new research that has shifted the focus from class to gender from property crime to violent crime and towards media constructions of offenders while still maintaining a balance with influential early work in the area Wide ranging and accessible the new edition examines the value of criminal statistics the effect that contemporary ideas about class and gender had on perceptions of criminality changes in the patterns of crime developments in policing and the spread of summary punishment the increasing formality of the courts the growth of the prison as the principal form of punishment and debates about the decline in corporal and capital punishments Thoroughly updated throughout the fourth edition also includes for the first time illuminating contemporary illustrations The Photo-beacon, 1893 "Art in the North of England, 1979?2008 " Gabriel N. Gee, 2017-07-05 Based on rare archival material and numerous interviews with practitioners Art in the North of England 1979 2008 analyses the relation between political and economic changes stemming from the 1980s and artistic developments in the principal cities of the North of England in the late 20th century Looking in particular at the art scenes of Liverpool Manchester Leeds Sheffield and Newcastle Gabriel Gee unveils a set of powerful aesthetic reactions to industrial change and urban reconstruction during this period on the part of artists including John Davies Pete Clarke the Amber collective Richard Wilson Karen Watson Nick Crowe Ian Rawlinson John Kippin and the contribution of organisations such as Projects UK Locus East Street Arts the Henry Moore Sculpture Trust and the Bluecoat Gallery in Liverpool While the geographical focus of this study is highly specific a key concern throughout is the relationship between regional national and international artistic practices and identities Of interest to all scholars and students concerned with the developments of British art in the second half of the 20th century the study is also of direct pertinence to observers of global narratives which are here described and analysed through the concept of trans industriality

Television and British Cinema Hannah Andrews, 2014-05-07 Undertaking a thorough and timely investigation of the relationship between television and cinema in Britain since 1990 Hannah Andrews explores the convergence between the two forms at industrial cultural and intermedial levels and the ways in which the media have also been distinguished from one another through discourse and presentation From Sea Charts to Satellite Images David Buisseret, 1990-06-22 The authors write authoritatively and crisply How to use maps in teaching is spelled out carefully but the authors also manage to sketch in the background of American mapping so the book is both a manual and a history Commentaries are sprinkled with stimulating new ideas for instance on how to use bird's eye views and country atlases in the classroom and there are didactic discussions on maps showing the walking city and the impact of the street car. An extraordinarily wide range of maps is depicted which makes for good browsing, pondering and close study. This is a very good, highly attractive and worthwhile book; it will have great impact on the use of old and new maps in teaching. As well, this is a tantalizing survey of mapping the United States and will whet the appetites of students and encourage them to learn more about maps and their origins. John Warkentin Cartographica Directory of Museums, Galleries and Buildings of Historic Interest in the UK Keith W.

Reynard, 2004-03-01 This unique and important directory incorporates some 3 200 entries. It covers all types and sizes of museums, galleries of paintings, sculpture and photography and buildings and sites of particular historic interest. It also provides an extensive index listing over 3 200 subjects. The directory covers national collections and major buildings but also the more unusual, less well known and local exhibits and sites. The Directory of Museums, Galleries and Buildings of Historic Interest in the United Kingdom is an indispensable reference source for any library, an ideal companion for researcher and enthusiast alike and an essential purchase for anyone with an interest in the cultural and historical collections of the UK. Features include: Alphabetically listed entries which are also indexed by subject for ease of reference. Entries include the name and address of the organization, telephone and fax numbers, email and internet addresses, a point of contact, times of opening and facilities for visitors. A breakdown of the collections held by each organization giving a broad overview of the main collection as a whole. Details of special collections are provided and include the period covered as well as the number of items held. Avery Index to Architectural Periodicals, 1995 Avery Library, 1997-02 Liverpool and Manchester

Photographic Journal, 1994 Understanding and Responding to Child Sexual Exploitation Helen Beckett, Jenny Pearce, 2017-12-15 The issue of child sexual exploitation (CSE) has received intense scrutiny in recent years following a number of high profile legal cases, serious case reviews and inquiries. This has resulted in increasing expectations that those working in the field will know how to appropriately manage and respond to this form of abuse. Of course, this is no easy task given the widely acknowledged difficulties of identifying and responding to sexual abuse and the particular complexities associated with the 'grey dynamic' within CSE and the predominantly older age of children affected by it. This edited collection draws on the latest research evidence and academic thinking around CSE to consider issues of understanding and response. Written by researchers from The International Centre Researching Child Sexual Exploitation, Violence and Trafficking at the University of Bedfordshire, Part I considers issues of understanding and conceptualisation, Part II considers the practical implications of some of this thinking, sharing learning from research and evaluation on prevention, identification and response. Understanding and Responding to Child Exploitation presents critical learning for academics and students and for those working in the fields of policy, practice and commissioning. It is relevant to a wide range of disciplines including social care, youth work, education, criminology, health and social policy. The Costume Technician's Handbook Rosemary

Ingham,Liz Covey,2024-03-11 Since its first publication in 1980 The Costume Technician s Handbook has established itself as an indispensable resource in classrooms and costume shops Ingham and Covey draw on decades of hands on experience to provide the most complete guide to developing costumes that are personally distinctive and artistically expressive No other book covers the same breadth of necessary topics for every aspect of costuming from the basics of setting up a costume shop to managing one and everything in between

Advances in Multimodal Interfaces - ICMI 2000 Tieniu Tan,Yuanchun Shi,Wen Gao,2003-06-29 Multimodal Interfaces represents an emerging interdisciplinary research direction and has become one of the frontiers in Computer Science Multimodal interfaces aim at efficient convenient and natural interaction and communication between computers in their broadest sense and human users They will ultimately enable users to interact with computers using their everyday skills These proceedings include the papers accepted for presentation at the Third International Conference on Multimodal Interfaces ICMI 2000 held in Beijing China on 14-16 October 2000 The papers were selected from 172 contributions submitted worldwide Each paper was allocated for review to three members of the Program Committee which consisted of more than 40 leading researchers in the field Final decisions of 38 oral papers and 48 poster papers were made based on the reviewers comments and the desire for a balance of topics The decision to have a single track conference led to a competitive selection process and it is very likely that some good submissions are not included in this volume The papers collected here cover a wide range of topics such as affective and perceptual computing interfaces for wearable and mobile computing gestures and sign languages face and facial expression analysis multilingual interfaces virtual and augmented reality speech and handwriting multimodal integration and application systems They represent some of the latest progress in multimodal interfaces research
