Autobiography Sidonie Smith, 2001 Character and Conversion in Autobiography Patrick Riley, 2004 Thinking of conversion as a radical turning point or fulcrum on which incompatible configurations of character are precariously balanced Riley examines both historically and tropologically the paradoxes of identity and life writing that conversion raises

Emmeline Pankhurst June Purvis, 2003-09-02 Emmeline Pankhurst was perhaps the most influential woman of the twentieth century Today her name is synonymous with the votes for women campaign and she is remembered as the most brave and inspirational suffrage leader in history In this absorbing account of her life both before and after the campaign for women s suffrage June Purvis documents her early political work her active role within the suffrage movement and her role as a wife and mother within her family This fascinating full length biography of Emmeline Pankhurst the first for nearly seventy years draws upon new approaches to feminist biography to place her within the context of her family and friends It is based upon an unrivalled range of primary sources including personal interviews with her surviving family Subjectivity Ruth Robbins, 2005-04-20 Who do you think you are In Subjectivity Ruth Robbins explores some of the responses to this fundamental question In readings of a number of autobiographical texts from the last three centuries Robbins offers an approachable account of formations of the self which demonstrates that both psychology and material conditions often in tension with one another are the building blocks of modern notions of selfhood Key texts studied include William Wordsworth s Prelude Thomas De Quincey s Confessions of an English Opium Eater James Joyce s A Portrait of the Artist as a Young Man Oscar Wilde s De Profundis Jung Chang s Wild Swans Robbins also argues that our subjectivity far from being the secure possession of the individual is potentially fragile and contingent She shows that the versions of subjectivity authorized by the dominant culture are full of gaps and blindspots that undo any notion of universal human nature subjectivity is culturally and historically specific we are in part what the culture in which we live permits us to be Concise and easy to follow this introduction to the concept of subjectivity and the theories surrounding it shows that in spite of the insecurity of selfhood there is still much to be gained from the textual encounter with other selves It is essential reading for all those studying autobiography or autobiographical writing Writing Feminist Lives Malin Lidström Brock,2017-05-05 This book draws attention to the controversy that surrounds Betty Friedan Germaine Greer Gloria Steinem and Simone de Beauvoir s lives and the important role that their life stories have played in their feminist writing Directly and indirectly the four women have contributed to battles over feminism s meaning through autobiographically informed political writing Inevitably therefore their biographers are also participants in these battles yet not always on the same side as their subjects Writing Feminist Lives introduces a further fold of nuance into considerations of biography and feminism by showing that the biographers of the four women have made methodological choices that reflect their loyalty to or their scepticism towards competing ideological definitions of the exemplary feminist life Writing Out of Limbo Nina Sichel,Elaine Neil Orr,Faith Eidse,2011-09-22 Crossing borders and boundaries countries and cultures they are the children of the military diplomatic corps international business education and missions communities They are called Third Culture Kids or Global Nomads and the many benefits of their lifestyle expanded worldview multiplicity of languages tolerance for difference are often mitigated by recurring losses of relationships of stability of permanent roots They are part of an accelerating demographic that is only recently coming into visibility In this groundbreaking collection writers from around the world address issues of language acquisition and identity formation childhood mobility and adaptation memory and grief and the artist s struggle to articulate the experience of growing up global And woven like a thread through the entire collection runs the individual s search for belonging and a place called home This book provides a major leap in understanding what it s like to grow up among worlds It is invaluable reading for the new global age Warrior Poet Alexis De Veaux,2004 The long awaited first biography of the author of The Cancer Journals an American icon of womanhood poetry African American arts and survival Making Trouble Lynne Segal,2017-06-06 What happens when angry young rebels become wary older women ageing in a leaner meaner time a time which exalts only the new in a ruling orthodoxy daily disparaging all it portrays as the old Delving into her own life and those of others who left their mark on it Lynne Segal tracks through time to consider her generation of female dreamers what formed them how they left their mark on the world where they are now in times when pessimism seems never far from what remains of public life Searching for answers she studies her family history sexual awakening ethnic belonging as well as the peculiarities of the time and place that shaped her own political journeys with all their urgency significance pleasures and absurdities Reflective Reading and the Power of Narrative Karyn Sproles,2018-07-11

Reflective Reading and the Power of Narrative Producing the Reader is an interdisciplinary exploration into the profound power of narratives to create and recreate how we imagine ourselves. It posits that the process of producing a text also produces the reader. Written from the perspective of a psychoanalytic feminist, Sproles considers a wide array of examples from literature, popular culture, and her own experiences to illustrate what she calls reflective reading: a metacognitive reading practice that recognizes the workings of the unconscious to push the reader toward a potentially transformational engagement with narrative. This may manifest as epiphany, recovery from loss, or resolution of repressed trauma. Each chapter draws on examples of characters and authors who model a reflective reading process, from Jane Austen and Virginia Woolf to Johnny Cash and Alison Bechdel. By reclaiming the role of the unconscious, Karyn Sproles reinvigorates the theoretical work begun by reader response criticism and develops a deep understanding of identification and transference as an integral part of the reading process. For students and researchers of cultural studies, psychoanalysis, gender studies, and feminist literature and theory, Reflective Reading and the Power of Narrative offers innovative and accessible ideas on the relationship between reader and text. Celebrity Memoir Hannah Yelin, 2020-11-10. In this timely analysis of the economics of access that surround contemporary female celebrity, Hannah Yelin reveals a culture that requires women to be constantly baring all in physical exposure and psychic confessions. As famous women tell their story in their own words, constellations of ghostwriters, intermediaries, and market forces undermine assertions of authorship and access to the real woman behind the public image. Yelin's account of the presence of the ghostwriter offers a fascinating microcosm of the wider celebrity machine, with insights pertinent to all celebrity mediation. Yelin surveys life-writing genres, including fiction, photo diary, comic strip, and art anthology, as well as more traditional autobiographical forms, covering a wide range of media platforms and celebrity contexts, including reality TV, YouTube, pop stardom, and porn, glamour, modelling. Despite this diversity, Yelin reveals seemingly inescapable conventions, as well as spaces for resistance. Celebrity Memoir from Ghostwriting to Gender Politics offers new insights on the curtailment of women's voices, with ramifications for literary studies of memoir, feminist media studies, celebrity studies, and work on the politics of production in the creative industries.

Adaptation, Intermediality and the British Celebrity Biopic Márta Minier, Maddalena Pennacchia, 2016-03-23. Beginning with the premise that the biopic is a form of adaptation and an example of intermediality, this collection examines the multiplicity of source texts and the convergence of different media in this genre alongside the concurrent issues of fidelity and authenticity that accompany this form. The contributors focus on big and small screen biopics of British celebrities from the late twentieth and twenty-first centuries, attending to their myth-making and myth-breaking potential. Related topics are the contemporary British biopic's participation in the production and consumption of celebrated lives and the biopic's generic fluidity and hybridity, as evidenced in its relationship to such forms as the bio docudrama Offering case studies of film biographies of literary and cultural icons including Elizabeth I Elizabeth II Diana Princess of Wales John Lennon Shakespeare Jane Austen Beau Brummel Carrington and Beatrix Potter the essays address how British identity and heritage are interrogated in the re telling and showing of these lives and how the reimagining of famous lives for the screen is influenced by recent processes of manufacturing celebrity

Outsider Biographies Ian H. Magedera, 2014-09-01 Concerning itself with biography and bio fiction written in English and in French and also taking in American and Australian subjects Outsider Biographies focuses on writers who have a criminal record and on notorious criminals who authors of bio fiction consider as writers It pursues an understanding of the formal effects of life writers struggles between championing their subjects and a deep ambivalence towards their subjects crimes The book analyses the challenge that these literary outsiders present to the mainstream French and English language traditions where many biographers assign merit to productive lives well lived The book s approach illuminates both differences in those traditions from the mid eighteenth to the twenty first century and a convergence between them evident in the experimental cum fictional devices in recent English language biography Outsider Biographies advances wide ranging new interpretations of the biographical writing on each of its seven subjects but does so in a way that invites the reader picking up the book out of a passion for just one of those subjects to follow the thread onto another and yet another
