A Time for Mission Samuel Escobar, 2013-07-14 Christian mission in the twenty first century has become the responsibility of a global church The heart of mission is the drive to cross geographical cultural and social barriers in order to share the good news of Jesus Christ with all peoples Drawing on his involvement in missionary work over many years Samuel Escobar explores how the church spreads the Christian faith God's Word forms the foundation for his reflections while he uses insights from theological and historical studies as well as from the social sciences to gain a clearer understanding of the church's missionary calling His stimulating and challenging analysis contributes significantly to a global evangelical dialogue on mission today and in the future

The Frontier Mission and Social Transformation in Western Honduras Nancy Johnson Black, 2016-05-18 The Frontier Mission and Social Transformation in Western Honduras deals with the interaction between Mercedarian missionaries and the indigenous Lenca Indian population of western Honduras during the early sixteenth to mid eighteenth centuries Using an anthropological perspective it relies heavily on previously neglected ecclesiastical archival material in conjunction with preliminary archaeological evidence as an integral source of data A fine grained description of the local processes of missionization in a frontier region examines the organization operation and goals of the Mercedarian mission province located in the colonial Audiencia of Guatemala Summary data concerning aspects of Lenca society and physical environment relevant to investigation of mission activities are provided The importance of this study lies in its ability to explain mission development in frontier settings as well as to trace transformations within a mission order over almost a 250 year period

Ritsema van Eck,2019-09-16 In The Holy Land in Observant Franciscan Texts c 1480 1650 Marianne Ritsema van Eck analyses the development of the complex Observant Franciscan engagement with the Holy Land during the early modern period During these eventful centuries friars of the Franciscan establishment in Jerusalem increasingly sought to cultivate strong ideological ties between themselves and the Holy Land participating actively in contemporary literatures of geographia sacra and Levantine pilgrimage and travel It becomes clear how the friars constructed a collective memory using the ideological canon of their order featuring Bonaventurian theology marvels of the east cartography apocalyptic visions of history calls for Crusade and finally a pilgrimage possessio of the Holy Land by Francis

Crossing Parish Boundaries Timothy B. Neary,2016-10-14 Controversy erupted in spring 2001 when Chicago s mostly white Southside Catholic Conference youth sports league rejected the application of the predominantly black St Sabina grade school Fifty years after Brown v Board of Education interracialism seemed stubbornly unattainable and the national spotlight once again turned to the history of racial conflict in Catholic parishes. It's widely understood that midcentury working class white ethnic Catholics were among the most virulent racists but as Crossing Parish Boundaries shows that's not the whole story. In this book Timothy B. Neary reveals the history of Bishop Bernard Sheil's Catholic Youth Organization (CYO) which brought together thousands of young people of all races and religions from Chicago's racially segregated neighborhoods to take part in sports and educational programming. Tens of thousands of boys and girls participated in basketball, track and field and the most popular sport of all, boxing, which regularly filled Chicago Stadium with roaring crowds. The history of Bishop Sheil and the CYO shows a cosmopolitan version of American Catholicism, one that is usually overshadowed by accounts of white ethnic Catholics aggressively resisting the racial integration of their working class neighborhoods. By telling the story of Catholic sponsored interracial cooperation within Chicago, Crossing Parish Boundaries complicates our understanding of northern urban race relations in the mid twentieth century.

The Dynamics of Christian Mission Paul Everett Pierson, 2009 In this text Paul E. Pierson, Dean Emeritus of the School of Intercultural Studies at Fuller Theological Seminary, guides the reader through a missiological view of history from Christ to the present. Pierson particularly highlights the contexts by which the biblical faith moved into new and different cultures. Today the Christian faith is the most geographically and culturally diverse worldwide movement that exists. Paul E. Pierson's book illuminates how this amazing fact has come about and how the trend will continue. Exploring the Next Frontier Matthew Wilhelm Kapell, 2016-02-19 The 1960s and early 70s saw the evolution of Frontier Myths even as scholars were renouncing the interpretive value of myths themselves. Works like Joe Haldeman's The Forever War exemplified that rejection, using his experiences during the Vietnam War to illustrate the problematic consequences of simple mythic idealism. Simultaneously, Americans were playing with expanded and revised versions of familiar Frontier Myths though in a contemporary context through NASA's lunar missions, Star Trek and Gerard K. O'Neill's High Frontier. This book examines the reasons behind the exclusion of Frontier Myths to the periphery of scholarly discourse and endeavors to build a new model for understanding their enduring significance. This model connects NASA's failed attempts to recycle earlier myths wholesale to Star Trek's revision of those myths and rejection of the idea of a frontier paradise to O'Neill's desire to realize such a paradise in Earth's orbit. This new synthesis defies the negative connotations of

Frontier Myths during the 1960s and 70s and attempts to resuscitate them for relevance in the modern academic context

Edgar, Susan E. Edgar, 2003-12-15 The story of the missions is a compelling human drama that is a vital piece not only of California history but also of American history Indeed many keys to California's past lie in the stories of the 20 missions that stretch along the state's west coast from San Diego to San Francisco This vital series is compatible with the mission based curriculum used in fourth grade California classrooms It resonates equally with all social studies programs that explore the defunct notion of colonialism and its controversial role in the history of the United States and with curricula that seek to explore the interaction of different cultures and the rights and voices of indigenous peoples
