Mist On The Saltings:

Mist on the Saltings Henry Wade, 2016-07-28 Hilary and John Pansel have muddled along in their cottage in the small community of Bryde by the Sea for ten years hopeful that John's paintings will ignite a flame of interest in the art world Now Hilary is being pursued by a successful writer from London Dallas Fiennes who has retreated to Norfolk to write another bestseller to replenish his bank account For Dallas Hilary is no more than an amusement one of many but when John becomes jealous of Dallas's attentions Hilary is driven into the writer's arms Then Fiennes is found dead and John Pansel is the prime suspect

Down from London Carolyn W. de la L. Oulton, 2022-02-15 In the first hundred years of the UK rail network the seaside figures as a nerve centre managing and making visible the period's complex interplay between health death gender and sexuality This monograph discusses around 130 novels of the railway age to show how the seaside infiltrates a diverse range of literature subverting the boundaries between high and low literary culture The seaside holiday galvanises innovative literary forms including early twentieth century holiday crime and romance fiction which has its origins in the sensational strategies of mid nineteenth century authors Where reading takes place is at least as important as what is read and case studies on literary Brighton and Dickensian Kent explore the occasionally fraught relationship between seaside towns and the metropolis as London visitors are represented in and are the target audience for literary accounts of the seaside holiday The act of reading by the sea is itself overdetermined and problematic a dilemma that is managed in part through the development of text free literary tourism in the late nineteenth century Deploying strategies from literary criticism histories of reading libraries and the book and literary tourism this book recovers seaside reading as both a literary sub genre and a deeply contested mode of engagement

The Long Arm of the Law Martin Edwards, 2018-01-02 Mystery crime fiction written in the Golden Age of Murder Tired of newspaper headlines that accuse cops of malfeasance or worse Veteran editor Edwards has the perfect antidote 15 reprints of stories from 1908 to 1966 showing English police officers at generally their most sterling Kirkus Reviews In classic British crime fiction dazzling detective work is often the province of a brilliant amateur whereas the humble police detective cuts a hapless figure The twelve stories collected here strike a blow for the professionals with teasing mysteries to challenge a hard working police officer's persistence and scrupulous attention to detail As in his previous anthologies for the British Library Crime Classics series Martin Edwards introduces readers to fascinating neglected gems of British crime writing as well as uncovering lesser known stories by the great novelists of the golden age Each of these stories combines realism with entertainment skilfully blending the conduct of a criminal investigation with a compelling murder mystery plot
