The Martial Imagination Jimmy L. Bryan, 2013-10-01

Martial experiences and the mythologies that surround them have profoundly affected the ways in which Americans think of themselves Wars identify the heroes who help define national character provide the stories for the grand narratives of belonging and sacrifice and serve as markers for essential moments of transformation However only in the last several years have scholars begun using the term cultural history of American warfare to identify the study of how public discourse formulates these defining myths and narratives This volume brings together scholarship from diverse fields in a common mission to demonstrate the usefulness and significance of studying the cultural history of American warfare The Martial Imagination Cultural Aspects of American Warfare canvasses the American war experience from the Revolution to the War on Terror examining how it infuses legitimacy and conformity with an urgency that contorts ideas of citizenship nationhood gender and other pliable categories The multidisciplinary scholarship in this volume represents the varied perspectives of cultural history American studies literary criticism war and society media studies and public culture analysis illustrating the rich dialogues that epitomize the cultural history of American warfare Bringing together both recognized and emerging scholars this book is the first anthology to feature essays on this topic comprising research from twelve authors who represent a wide range of experiences and disciplines Their work uncovers new and surprising understandings of the American war experience that reveal the ways in which culture makers have grappled with the trauma of war salvaged meaning from the meaningless or advanced some ulterior agenda Zoo Studies Tracy McDonald, Daniel

Vandersommers, 2019-06-19 Do both the zoo and the mental hospital induce psychosis as humans are treated as animals and animals are treated as humans How have we looked at animals in the past and how do we look at them today How have zoos presented themselves and their purpose over time In response to the emergence of environmental and animal studies anthropologists sociologists philosophers theorists literature scholars and historians around the world have begun to explore the significance of zoological parks past and present Zoo Studies considers the modern zoo from a range of approaches and disciplines united in a desire to blur the boundaries between human and nonhuman animals The volume begins with an account of the first modern mental hospital La Salpêtrière established in 1656 and the first panoptical zoo the menagerie at Versailles created in 1662 by the same royal architect the final chapter presents a choreographic performance that imagines the Toronto Zoo as a place where the human body can be inspired by animal bodies From beginning to end through interdisciplinary collaboration this volume decentres the human subject and offers alternative ways of thinking about zoos and their inhabitants This collection immerses readers in the lives of animals and their experiences of captivity and asks us to reflect on our own assumptions about both humans and animals An original and groundbreaking work Zoo Studies will change the way readers see nonhuman animals and themselves Zoo Renewal Lisa Uddin, 2015-04-01 Why do we feel bad at the zoo In a fascinating counterhistory of American zoos in the 1960s and 1970s Lisa Uddin revisits the familiar narrative of zoo reform from naked cages to more naturalistic enclosures She argues that reform belongs to the story of cities and feelings toward many of their human inhabitants In Zoo Renewal Uddin demonstrates how efforts to make the zoo more natural and a haven for particular species reflected white fears about the American city and pointedly how the shame many visitors felt in observing confined animals drew on broader anxieties about race and urban life Examining the campaign against cages renovations at the National Zoo in Washington D C and the San Diego Zoo and the cases of a rare female white Bengal tiger and a collection of southern white rhinoceroses Uddin unpacks episodes that challenge assumptions that zoos are about other worlds and other creatures and expand the history of U S urbanism Uddin shows how the drive to protect endangered species and to ensure larger safer zoos was shaped by struggles over urban decay suburban growth and the dilemmas of postwar American whiteness In so doing Zoo Renewal ultimately reveals how feeling bad or good at the zoo is connected to our feelings about American cities and their residents
