Reading Rilke William H. Gass,2013-08-07 The greatly admired essayist novelist and philosopher author of Cartesian Sonata Finding a Form and The Tunnel reflects on the art of translation and on Rainer Maria Rilke's Duino Elegies and gives us his own translation of Rilke's masterwork After nearly a lifetime of reading Rilke in English William Gass undertook the task of translating Rilke's writing in order to see if he could in that way get closer to the work he so deeply admired With Gass's own background in philosophy it seemed natural to begin with the Duino Elegies the poems in which Rilke's ideas are most fully expressed and which as a group are important not only as one of the supreme poetic achievements of the West but also because of the way in which they came to be written in a storm of inspiration Gass examines the genesis of the ideas that inform the Elegies and discusses previous translations He writes as well about Rilke the man his character his relationships his life Finally his extraordinary translation of the Duino Elegies offers us the experience of reading Rilke with a new and fuller understanding Animals, Machines, and AI Erika Quinn,Holly Yanacek,2021-11-08 Sentient animals machines and robots abound in German literature and culture but there has been surprisingly limited scholarship on non human life forms in German studies This volume extends interdisciplinary research in emotion studies to examine non humans and the affective relationships between humans and non humans in modern German cultural history In recent years fascination with emotions developments in robotics and the burgeoning of animal studies in and beyond the academy have given rise to questions about the nature of humanity Using sources from the life sciences literature visual art poetry philosophy and photography this collection interrogates not animal or machine emotions per se but rather uses animals and machines as lenses through which to investigate human emotions and the affective entanglements between humans and non humans The COVID 19 pandemic made us more keenly aware of the importance of both animals and new technologies in our daily lives and this volume ultimately sheds light on the centrality of non humans in the human emotional world and the possibilities that relationships with non humans offer for enriching that world Watch our talk with the editors Erika Quinn and Holly Yanacek here https://youtu.be/RBMwXah_Om8

The Beautiful Animal Michael Lewis, 2018-06-20 Can philosophy conceive of a perfect animal Can it think of the animal as anything other than an imperfect human The book attempts to rethink the Hegelian dialectic so as to render it capable of assigning a proper place to the animal and in particular the beautiful animal and to rework the philosophy of nature so as to encompass the fossil The fossil itself teaches philosophy and in particular the dialectic how it must modify itself in order to encompass the beautiful animal in the form of what we term the fossilised dialectic resistant to the spiritualisation which will always leave the animal behind If philosophy can admit the animal in this way we might then ask what philosophy can learn from this animal that will have taken up residence in its home What does a specifically domestic animal teach us At the very least it shows us that the function we give to the furnishings of the house is not the only one and perhaps therefore that there is no single unique function In this way animals teach us the most philosophical lesson there is to see the world as it is in itself

The Art of Looking Lance Esplund, 2018-11-27 A veteran art critic helps us make sense of modern and contemporary art The landscape of contemporary art has changed dramatically during the last hundred years from Malevich's 1915 painting of a single black square and Duchamp's 1917 signed porcelain urinal to Jackson Pollock's midcentury drip paintings Chris Burden's Shoot 1971 in which the artist was voluntarily shot in the arm with a rifle Urs Fischer's You 2007 a giant hole dug in the floor of a New York gallery and the conceptual and performance art of today's Ai Weiwei and Marina Abramovic The shifts have left the art viewing public understandably perplexed In The Art of Looking renowned art critic Lance Esplund demonstrates that works of modern and contemporary art are not as indecipherable as they might seem With patience insight and wit Esplund guides us through the last century of art and empowers us to approach and appreciate it with new eyes Eager to democratize genres that can feel inaccessible Esplund encourages viewers to trust their own taste guts and common sense The Art of Looking will open the eyes of viewers who think that recent art is obtuse nonsensical and irrelevant as well as the eyes of those who believe that the art of the past has nothing to say to our present Brilliant Beginnings Roselyne De Ayala, Jean-Pierre Gueno, 2000-11 An exquisitely produced compilation of letters artworks musical compositions of more than 80 famous artists writers musicians written or conceived when they were children or adolescents

A Balthus Notebook Guy Davenport, 2020-08-11 In his 1989 book on Balthus the storied and controversial artist who worked in Paris throughout the twentieth century Guy Davenport gives one of the most nuanced literary and compelling readings of the work of this master Reading it today highlights the change in perspectives on sexuality and nudity in art in the past thirty years Written over several years in his notebooks Davenport's distinct reflections on Balthus's paintings try to explain why his work is so radical and why it has so often come under scrutiny for its depiction of girls and women Davenport throws the lens back on the viewer and asks is it us or Balthus who reads sexuality into these paintings For Davenport the answer is clear Balthus may indeed show us periods in adolescent development that are uncomfortable to view but the eroticization exists primarily on the part of the viewer Arguing that Balthus's figures are erotic only if we make them so and that their innocence is more present than anything pornographic in them Davenport posits that the paintings hold up a mirror to our own perversities and force us difficultly to confront them He writes The nearer an artist works to the erotic politics of his own culture the more he gets its concerned attention Gauguin's naked Polynesian girls brown and remote escape the scandal of Balthus's although a Martian observer would not see the distinction Davenport's critique helps us understand Balthus in our times something we need more than ever as we crucially confront sexual politics in visual art
