Obama and the Biracial Factor Andrew J Jolivet, 2012-02-01 Since the election in 2008 of Barack Obama to the Presidency of the United States there have been a plethora of books films and articles about the role of race in the election of the first person of color to the White House None of these works though delves into the intricacies of Mr Obama's biracial background and what it means Obama and the Biracial Factor is the first book to explore the significance of mixed race identity as a key factor in the election of President Obama and examines the sociological and political relationship between race power and public policy in the United States with an emphasis on public discourse and ethnic representation in his election Jolivet and his co authors bring biracial identity and multiraciality to forefront of our understanding of racial projects since his election Additionally the authors assert the salience of mixed race identity in U S policy and the on going impact of the media and popular culture on the development implementation and interpretation of government policy and ethnic relations in the U S and globally Obama and the Biracial Factor speaks to a wide array of academic disciplines ranging from political science and public policy to sociology and ethnic studies

Ethnic American Literature Emmanuel S. Nelson, 2015-02-17 Unlike any other book of its kind this volume celebrates published works from a broad range of American ethnic groups not often featured in the typical canon of literature This culturally rich encyclopedia contains 160 alphabetically arranged entries on African American Asian American Latino a and Native American literary traditions among others The book introduces the uniquely American mosaic of multicultural literature by chronicling the achievements of American writers of non European descent and highlighting the ethnic diversity of works from the colonial era to the present The work features engaging topics like the civil rights movement bilingualism assimilation and border narratives Entries provide historical overviews of literary periods along with profiles of major authors and great works including Toni Morrison Maxine Hong Kingston Maya Angelou Sherman Alexie A Raisin in the Sun American Born Chinese and The House on Mango Street The book also provides concise overviews of genres not often featured in textbooks like the Chinese American novel African American young adult literature Mexican American autobiography and Cuban American poetry

Red and Yellow, Black and Brown Joanne L. Rondilla, Rudy P. Guevarra, Paul Spickard, 2017-07-03 Red and Yellow Black and Brown gathers together life stories and analysis by twelve contributors who express and seek to understand the often very different dynamics that exist for mixed race people who are not part white The chapters focus on the social psychological and political situations of mixed race people who have links to two or more peoples of color Chinese and Mexican Asian and Black Native American and African American South Asian and Filipino Black and Latino a and so on Red and Yellow Black and Brown addresses questions surrounding the meanings and communication of racial identities in dual or multiple minority situations and the editors highlight the theoretical implications of this fresh approach to racial studies

Negotiating Latinidad Frances R. Aparicio, 2019-10-15 Longstanding Mexican and Puerto Rican populations have helped make people of mixed nationalities MexiGuatamalans CubanRicans and others an important part of Chicago s Latina o scene Intermarriage between Guatemalans Colombians and Cubans have further diversified this community within a community Yet we seldom consider the lives and works of these Intralatino as when we discuss Latino as in the United States In Negotiating Latinidad a cross section of Chicago s second generation Intralatino as offer their experiences of negotiating between and among the national communities embedded in their families Frances R. Aparicio s rich interviews reveal Intralatino as proud of their multiplicity and particularly skilled at understanding difference and boundaries Their narratives explore both the ongoing complexities of family life and the challenges of fitting into our larger society in particular the struggle to claim a space and a sense of belonging in a Latina o America that remains highly segmented in scholarship The result is an emotionally powerful theoretically rigorous exploration of culture hybridity and transnationalism that points the way forward for future scholarship on Intralatino a identity

Paint the White House Black

Michael P. Jeffries, 2013-02-13 *Barack Obama's election as the first black president in American history forced a reconsideration of racial reality and possibility. It also incited an outpouring of discussion and analysis of Obama's personal and political exploits. Paint the White House Black fills a significant void in Obama-themed debate, shifting the emphasis from the details of Obama's political career to an understanding of how race works in America. In this groundbreaking book, race rather than Obama is the central focus. Michael P. Jeffries approaches Obama's election and administration as common cultural ground for thinking about race. He uncovers contemporary stereotypes and anxieties by examining historically rooted conceptions of race and nationhood, discourses of biracialism, and Obama's mixed heritage, the purported emergence of a post-racial society, and popular symbols of Michelle Obama as a modern black woman. In so doing, Jeffries casts new light on how we think about race and enables us to see how race in turn operates within our daily lives. Race is a difficult concept to grasp with outbursts and silences that disguise its relationships with a host of other phenomena. Using Barack Obama as its point of departure, Paint the White House Black boldly aims to understand race by tracing the web of interactions that bind it to other social and historical forces.*

Mixed Race Amnesia Minelle Mahtani, 2014-11-10 Mixed Race Amnesia is an ambitious and critical look at how multiraciality is experienced in the global north. Drawing on a series of interviews, acclaimed geographer Minelle Mahtani explores some of the assumptions and attitudes people have around multiraciality. She discovers that in Canada, at least, people of mixed race are often romanticized as being the embodiment of a post-racial future, an ideal that is supported by government policy and often internalized by people of mixed race. As Mahtani reveals, this superficial celebration of multiraciality is often done without any acknowledgment of the freight and legacy of historical racism. Consequently, a strategic and collective amnesia is taking place, one where complex diasporic and family histories are being lost while colonial legacies are being reinforced. Mahtani argues that in response, a new anti-colonial approach to multiraciality is needed, and she equips her readers with the analytical tools to do this. Race and Role Rena M.

Heinrich, 2023-06-16 Race and Role: The Mixed Race Asian Experience in American Drama explores the shifting identities of multiracial Asian figures in theater and through theater's generative power, exposes the absurd tenacity with which society clings to a tenuous racial scaffolding. Douglas in the Twenty-First Century Sue Ann Barratt, Aleah N.

Ranjitsingh, 2021-05-28 Identity is often fraught for multiracial Douglas people of both South Asian and African descent in the Caribbean. In this groundbreaking volume, Sue Ann Barratt and Aleah N. Ranjitsingh explore the particular meanings of a Douglas identity and examine Douglas maneuverability both at home and in the diaspora. The authors scrutinize the perception of Douglasness over time, contemporary Douglas negotiations of social demands, their expansion of ethnicity as an intersectional identity, and the experiences of Douglas within the diaspora outside the Caribbean. Through an examination of how Douglas experience their claim to multiracialism and how ethnic identity may be enforced or interrupted, the authors firmly situate this analysis in ongoing debates about multiracial identity. Based on interviews with over one hundred Douglas

Barratt and Ranjitsingh explore the multiple subjectivities Douglas express confirm challenge negotiate and add to prevailing understandings Contemplating this Dougla in the Twenty First Century adds to the global discourse of multiethnic identity and how it impacts living both in the Caribbean where it is easily recognizable and in the diaspora where the Dougla remains a largely unacknowledged designation This book deliberately expands the conversation beyond the limits of biraciality and the Black white binary and contributes nuance to current interpretations of the lives of multiracial people by introducing Douglas as they carve out their lives in the Caribbean

The Interethnic Imagination Caroline Rody,2009 Rody proposes a new paradigm for understanding the changing terrain of contemporary fiction She claims that what we have long read as ethnic literature is in the process of becoming interethnic Examining an extensive range of Asian American fictions she offers readings of three especially compelling examples

The Oxford Handbook of Philosophy of Social Science Harold Kincaid,2012-08-23 The philosophy of the social sciences considers the underlying explanatory powers of the social or human sciences such as history economics anthropology politics and sociology The type of questions covered includes the methodological the nature of observations laws theories and explanations to the ontological whether or not these sciences can explain human nature in a way consistent with common sense beliefs This Handbook is a major comprehensive look at the key ideas in the field is guided by several principles The first is that the philosophy of social science should be closely connected to and informed by developments in the sciences themselves The second is that the volume should appeal to practicing social scientists as well as philosophers with the contributors being both drawn from both ranks and speaking to ongoing controversial issues in the field Finally the volume promotes connections across the social sciences with greater internal discussion and interaction across disciplinary boundaries

Redefining American Identity B. Railton,2011-04-11 Using five personal narratives and in contrast to both the traditional and multicultural narratives this book suggest cross cultural transformation has been at the core of America since the first moments of contact

Between Black and Brown Rebecca Romo,G. Reginald Daniel,J Sterphone,2024 Between Black and Brown explores the experiences of Blaxicans individuals with African American and Mexican American heritage as they navigate American culture which often clings to monoracial categorizations

War Baby / Love Child Laura Kina,Wei Ming Dariotis,2013-01-17 War Baby Love Child examines hybrid Asian American identity through a collection of essays artworks and interviews at the intersection of critical mixed race studies and contemporary art The book pairs artwork and interviews with nineteen emerging mid career and established mixed race mixed heritage Asian American artists including Li lan and Kip Fulbeck with scholarly essays exploring such topics as Vietnamese Amerasians Korean transracial adoptions and multiethnic Hawai i As an increasingly ethnically ambiguous Asian American generation is coming of age in an era of optional identity this collection brings together first person perspectives and a wider scholarly context to shed light on changing Asian American cultures Watch the trailer <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=kJp0MDtKqyY> list http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=UUge4MONgLfncQ1w1C_BnHcw index 2 feature plcp

Troubling the Family Habiba Ibrahim, 2012 Troubling the Family argues that the emergence of multiracialism during the 1990s was determined by underlying and unacknowledged gender norms Opening with a germinal moment for multiracialism the seemingly massive and instantaneous popular appearance of Tiger Woods in 1997 Habiba Ibrahim examines how the shifting status of racial hero for both black and multiracial communities makes sense only by means of an account of masculinity Ibrahim looks across historical events and memoirs beginning with the Loving v Virginia case in 1967 when miscegenation laws were struck down to reveal that gender was the starting point of an analytics that made categorical multiracialism and multiracial politics possible Producing a genealogy of multiracialism's gendered basis allows Ibrahim to focus on a range of stakeholders whose interests often ran against the grain of what the multiracial movement of the 1990s often privileged the sanctity of the heteronormative family the labor of child rearing and more precise forms of racial tabulation all of which when taken together could form the basis for creating so called neutral personhood Ibrahim concludes with a consideration of Barack Obama as a representation of the resurrection of the assurance that multiracialism extended into the 2000s a version of personhood with no memory of its own gendered legacy and with no self account of how it became so masculine that it can at once fill the position of political leader and the promise of the end of politics

At Home and Abroad La Vinia Delois Jennings, 2010-07-27 Featuring new critical essays by scholars from Europe South America and the United States At Home and Abroad presents a wide ranging look at how whiteness defined in terms of race or ethnicity forms a category toward which people strive in order to gain power and privilege Collectively these pieces treat global spaces whose nation building and identity formation have turned on biological and genealogical exigencies to whiten themselves Drawing upon racialized national practices implemented prior to and during the twentieth century each of the essays enlists literature or performance to reflect the sociopolitical imperatives that secured whiteness in the respective locations they study They range from examinations of whiteness in the literature of Appalachia and contemporary Argentinean poetry to an analysis of performances memorializing the colonial experience in Italy and an exploration into the white rap music of Eminem and contemporary multiracial passing As the contributors show literary and performance representations have the power to chronicle histories that reflect the behaviors and lived realities of our selves Whether whiteness in addition to its physical manifestation presents itself as identity symbol racism culture social formation political imposition legal imposition or pathology it has been outed into the visible even in national spaces where the term whiteness has yet to be translated and entered into the official lexicon The ten essays collected here provide powerful insights into where and how the race for biological and genealogical whiteness persists in various geopolitical realms and the ways in which Nordic whites as well as ethnic whites and nonwhites resecure its ascendance La Vinia Delois Jennings is professor of English at the University of Tennessee Knoxville Her recent critical study Toni Morrison and the Idea of Africa won the 2008 Toni Morrison Society Prize for Best Single Authored Book on the Nobel laureate and Pulitzer Prize winning author
