The Road Story and the Rebel, This cultural history reveals the unique qualities of road stories and follows the evolution from the Beats postwar literary adventures to today's postmodern reality television shows Tracing the road story as it moves to both LeRoi Jones's critique of the Beats romanticization of blacks as well as to the mainstream in the 1960s with CBS's Route 66 Mills also documents the rebel subcultures of novelist Ken Kesey and the Merry Pranksters who used film and LSD as inspiration on a cross country bus trip and she examines the sexualization of male mobility and biker mythology in the films Scorpio Rising The Wild Angels and Easy Rider Mills addresses how the filmmakers of the 1970s Coppola Scorsese and Bogdanovich flourished in New Hollywood with road films that reflected mainstream audiences and how feminists Joan Didion and Betty Friedan subsequently critiqued them A new generation of women and minority storytellers gain clout and bring genre remapping to the national consciousness Mills explains as the road story evolves from such novels as Song of Solomon to films like Thelma

Houston,William V. Lombardi,2009-08-25 This book is a compelling reference guide for book clubs on the work of Joan Didion with summaries of her major works and discussion questions Reading Joan Didion is the ideal way to enter this extraordinary and versatile author s world a world that counts among its citizens burned out hippies cynical and delusional players in the film and music scene and even members of the Charles Manson family In addition to looking closely at major works of fiction Reading Joan Didion also focuses on Didion the essayist critic and founding member of the New Journalism Movement which uses fiction like narrative techniques to go deeper into subjects that traditional objective reporting allows Also covered is the rich screenwriting partnership of Didion and husband John Gregory Dunne and the overwhelming late career success of The Year of Magical Thinking written in the aftermath of Dunne s shocking death and completed just before the author s daughter also passed away unexpectedly Minimalism and Affect in American Literature, 1970-2020 Oliver Haslam,2024-09-05 Theorizes the development of a minimalist mode in American fiction since 1970 frequently seen to interrogate US postmodernity Minimalism and Affect in American Literature 1970 2020 responds to existing studies of literary minimalism by pursuing three original and interrelated objectives It provides a more inclusive and precise definition of minimalism that enables further inquiry into the mode It also exposes the presence of minimalism beyond critical demarcations that attempt to limit the aesthetic to a particular school medium movement form or decade Finally it argues that writers of American literary minimalism are uniquely privileged in their ability to formalize precarity and threatening cultural currents into the fragile construct that is ordinary life Building upon theories of affect and the everyday Minimalism and Affect in American Literature 1970 2020 analyses minimalist aesthetics within the works of canonical minimalists alongside writers more frequently associated with other movements Through readings of Ernest Hemingway Joan Didion Raymond Carver Paul Auster and Don DeLillo among others and cultural phenomena ranging from sedation to telephony this book exposes the persistence and political importance of minimalism within American literature from the 20th century into the 21st

Memory and the Built Environment in 20th-Century American Literature Alice Levick, 2021-05-20 From the paving of the Los Angeles River in 1938 and the creation of the G I Bill in 1944 to the construction of the Interstate Highway System during the late 1950s and the brownstoning movement of the 1970s throughout the mid 20th century the United States saw a wave of changes that had an enduring impact on the development of urban spaces Focusing on the relationship between processes of demolition and restoration as they have shaped the modern built environment and the processes by which memory is constructed hidden or remade in the literary text this book explores the ways in which history becomes entangled with the urban space in which it plays out Alice Levick takes stock of this history both in the form of its externalised concretised manifestation and its more symbolic representation as depicted in the mid 20th century work of a selection of American writers Calling upon access to archival material and interviews with New York academics authors local historians and urban planners this book locates Freud's Uncanny in the cracks between the absent and present invisible and visible memory and history as they are presented in city narratives demonstrating both the passage of time and the imposition of 20th century modernism With reference to the works of D J Waldie Joan Didion Hisaye Yamamoto Raymond Chandler Marshall Berman Gil Cuadros Paule Marshall L J Davis and Paula Fox Memory and the Built Environment in 20th Century American Literature unpacks how time becomes visible in Los Angeles Sacramento Lakewood and New York in the decades just before and after the Second World War questioning how these spaces provide access to the past in both narrative and spatial forms and how at times this access is blocked

Politics, Desire, and the Hollywood Novel Chip Rhodes, 2008-09 The story of what happens when a serious writer goes to Hollywood has become a cliché the writer is paid well but underappreciated treated like a factory worker and forced to write bad formulaic movies Most fail become cynical drink to excess and at some point write a bitter novel that attacks the film industry in the name of high art Like many too familiar stories this one neither holds up to the facts nor helps us understand Hollywood novels Instead Chip Rhodes argues these novels tell us a great deal about the ways that Hollywood has shaped both the American political landscape and American definitions of romance and desire Rhodes considers how novels about the film industry changed between the studio era of the 1930s and 1940s and the era of deregulated film making that has existed since the 1960s He asserts that Americans are now driven by cultural rather than class differences and that our mainstream notion of love has gone from repressed desire to abnormal desire to finally strictly business Politics Desire and the Hollywood Novel pays close attention to six authors Nathanael West Raymond Chandler Budd Schulberg Joan Didion Bruce Wagner and Elmore Leonard who have toiled in the film industry and written to tell about it More specifically Rhodes considers both screenplays and novels with an eye toward the different formulations of sexuality art and ultimately political action that exist in these two kinds of storytelling

International Postmodernism Johannes Willem Bertens, Hans Bertens, Douwe Fokkema, 1997 Containing more than fifty essays by major literary scholars International Postmodernism divides into four main sections The volume starts off with a section of eight introductory studies dealing with the subject from different points of view followed by a section that deals with postmodernism in other arts than literature while a third section discusses renovations of narrative genres and other strategies and devices in postmodernist writing The final and fourth section deals with the reception and processing of postmodernism in different parts of the world Three important aspects add to the special character of International Postmodernism The consistent distinction between postmodernity and postmodernism equal attention to the making and diffusion of postmodernism and the workings of literature in general and the focus on the text and the reader i e the reader s knowledge experience interests and competence as crucial factors in text interpretation This comprehensive study does not expressly focus on American postmodernism although American interpretations of postmodernism are a major point of reference The recognition that varying literary and cultural conditions in this world are bound to produce endless varieties of postmodernism made the editors Hans Bertens and Douwe Fokkema opt for the title International Postmodernism
