The Experimenters Eva Díaz, 2014-12-25 In the years immediately following World War II Black Mountain College an unaccredited school in rural Appalachia became a vital hub of cultural innovation Practically every major artistic figure of the mid twentieth century spent some time there Merce Cunningham Ray Johnson Franz Kline Willem and Elaine de Kooning Robert Motherwell Robert Rauschenberg Dorothea Rockburne Aaron Siskind Cy Twombly the list goes on and on Yet scholars have tended to view these artists time at the College as little more than prologue a step on their way to greatness With The Experimenters Eva Díaz reveals the importance of Black Mountain College and especially of three key teachers Josef Albers John Cage and R Buckminster Fuller to be much greater than that Díaz's focus is on experimentation Albers

Cage and Fuller she shows taught new models of art making that favored testing procedures rather than personal expression These methodologies represented incipient directions for postwar art practice elements of which would be sampled and often wholly adopted by Black Mountain students and subsequent practitioners The resulting works which interrelate art and life in a way that imbues these projects with crucial relevance not only reconfigured the relationships among chance order and design they helped redefine what artistic practice was and could be for future generations Offering a bold compelling new angle on some of the most widely studied creative figures of modern times The Experimenters does nothing less than rewrite the story of art in the mid twentieth century Office of Education Research Reports, 1956-65 Educational Research Information Center (U.S.),1967 Office of Education Research Reports, 1956-65, ED 002 747-ED 003 960 Educational Research Information Center (U.S.),1967 Office of Education Research Reports Educational Resources Information Center (U.S.),1967 Education Andrew J. Courtice An American Citizen,2016-02 Despite the expenditure of over 607 2 billion yearly and the best professional efforts of over 3 1 million teachers statistics from the Center for Educational Reform 2011 and several recent major Department of Education Programs purported to solve all our educational shortfalls in short order the American Educational System AES continues to fail virtually all American students with unsatisfactory educational outcomes that will last lifetimes and deeply impact our global presence This inability to implement much needed change occurs because at its root the AES is a series of givens that have created a caste like situation where students are unable to perform to their potential because of inflexible system constraints This book proposes a new paradigm for the AES based on existing capabilities aimed directly at the American ideal of life liberty and happiness read that as preparation for opportunity and life for every student Interestingly the resulting solutions can be achieved within the existing resources and capabilities The author structured this book into three highly documented step by step discussions 1 A review of the elements of today s caste environment that require attention 2 A discussion of the paradigm elements that are needed to change the AES culture and environment and 3 A vision of how these changes would impact the entire AES as a system not just as single focuses that always seem to miss the mark Chapter by chapter the text builds a case for establishing an AES that is so successful that it would be virtually invisible within the American Democracy we all seek to prosper in and enjoy Office of Education Research Reports, 1956-1965 United States. Morrow,2021-09-29 This book explores the pedagogical applications of critical thinking in art education and scholarship In the first part of the book the author delves into the ways that arts based educational research has incorporated critical thinking in order to illuminate the context for the subsequent study The second half of the book focuses on the essay as a genre used in creative nonfiction and film in order to enact the concept of critical thinking in art education In this way the book sheds light on a new landscape of thinking arts education and thinking scholarship through the essay that is practiced in creative nonfiction and cinema
