Race In The Making Cognition Culture And The Childs Construction Of Human Kinds:

Race in the Making Lawrence A. Hirschfeld, 1996 Race in the Making provides a new understanding of how people conceptualize social categories and shows why this knowledge is so readily recruited to create and maintain systems of unequal power Hirschfeld argues that knowledge of race is not derived from observations of physical difference nor does it develop in the same way as knowledge of other social categories Instead his central claim is that racial thinking is the product of a special purpose cognitive competence for understanding and representing human kinds The book also challenges the conventional wisdom that race is purely a social construction by demonstrating that a common set of abstract principles underlies all systems of racial thinking whatever other historical and cultural specificities may be associated with them Starting from the commonplace observation that race is a category of both power and the mind Race in the Making directly tackles this issue Through a sustained exploration of continuity and change in the child's notion of race and across historical variations in the race concept Hirschfeld shows that a singular commonsense theory about human kinds constrains the way racial thinking changes whether in historical time or during childhood After surveying the literature on the development of a cultural psychology of race Hirschfeld presents original studies that examine children's and occasionally adults' representations of race He sketches how a jointly cultural and psychological approach to race might proceed showing how this approach yields new insights into the emergence and elaboration of racial thinking Race in the Making

Viale,2012-05-24 This book deals with the cognitive foundation of the theory of social action The social sciences are still guided by models of social action far from the empirical reality of the psychology of action While economics seems to have made greater progress in accepting the changes to the theory of action derived from cognitive science see for example the 2002 Nobel prize for economics awarded to Daniel Kahneman sociology is still being oriented on the dualism of hermeneutics vs structuralism which leaves very little room for a cognitive theory of social action The unique features of the book are its combination of epistemology philosophy of mind and cognitive science in order to renew and overcome the limits of the current methodologies of social science and in particular methodological individualism Methodological cognitivism is proposed as an alternative to the holistic character of structuralism to the intentionalist and rationalist features of methodological individualism and to the relativistic character of hermeneutics and ethnomethodology Welfare, Ethnicity and Altruism Frank Salter,2013-03-07 Welfare Ethnicity and Altruism applies the controversial theory of Ethnic Nepotism first formulated by Iren us Eibl Eibesfeldt and Pierre van den Berghe to the modern welfare state both are authors in this volume This theory states that ethnic groups resemble large families whose members are prone to cooperate due to kin altruism Recent empirical findings in economics and political science offer confirmatory evidence The book presents two separate studies that compare welfare expenditures around the world both indicating that the more ethnically mixed a population becomes the greater is its resistance to redistributive policies These results point to profound inconsistencies within ideologies of both left and right regarding ethnicity Yellow: Race In America Beyond Black And White Frank H. Wu,2002 A leading voice in the Asian American community tackles what it means to be Asian American in contemporary America This explosive book examines the current state of civil rights in the U S through the unique experiences of Asian Americans and how they view the democratic process Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,1998 Books in Print Supplement ,2002 Il bisogno di Dio.
