Weaver-Hightower, Christine Skelton, 2013-09-04 Gender studies are a key lens through which education has been examined in the past forty years having become an accepted and popular subfield in educational foundations studies Moreover scholars in gender and education have made tremendous contributions well beyond education influencing humanities and social sciences scholars across the academy Hearing the stories of these scholars their development education important works and thoughts on the future offers unique insights into the genesis and growth of the field and gives new scholars an overview of advances made Leaders in Gender and Education Intellectual Self Portraits does just that showing the history of gender and education through the eyes of 16 of its leaders By recounting their experiences and scholarly work they trace the development of feminist and profeminist research on girls on boys and on the issues shaping both gender and education issues like race sexuality neoliberalism globalization and more Importantly the volume has a global focus including scholars from the United States Canada the United Kingdom and Australia This diversity gives readers a broad sense of the progress of gender scholarship in education around the world Each essay provides students and researchers alike with not only background on the 16 scholars included but also the lists of major works chosen by contributors themselves direct readers to some of the most important scholarship on gender and education Taken together further the contributors thoughts on the future of the field provide glimpses of productive directions for studies of gender and education

Gender, Race, and the Politics of Role Modelling Wayne Martino,Goli Rezai-Rashti,2012-03-12 This book provides an illuminating account of teachers own reflections on their experiences of teaching in urban schools It was conceived as a direct response to policy related and media generated concerns about male teacher shortage and offers a critique of the call for more male role models in elementary schools to address important issues regarding gender race and the politics of representation By including the perspectives of minority teachers and students and by drawing on feminist queer and anti racist frameworks this book rejects the familiar tendency to resort to role modelling as a basis for explaining or addressing boys disaffection with schooling Indeed the authors argue on the basis of their research in urban schools in Canada and Australia that educational policy concerned with male teacher shortage and the plight of disadvantaged minority boys would benefit from engaging with analytic perspectives and empirical literature that takes readers beyond hegemonic discourses of role modelling A compelling case is presented for the need to disarticulate discourses about role modelling from a politics of representation that is committed to addressing the reality of the impact of racial and structural inequalities on both minority teachers and students participation in the education system The book also provides insight into the persistence of gender inequality as it relates to the status of elementary school teaching as women s work rhetoric there has been concern over underachievement of working class young males specifically white working class boys The historic persistence of this pattern and the ominous implication of these trends on the long term life chances of white working class boys has led to a growing chorus that something must be done to intervene This book provides an in depth sociological study exploring the subjectivities within the neoliberal ideology of the school environment in order to expand our understanding of white working class disengagement with education The chapters discuss how white working class boys in three educational sites enact social and learner identities focusing on the practices of meaning making and identity work that the boys experienced and the disjunctures and commonalities between them The book presents an analysis of the varying tensions influencing the identity of each boy and the consequences of these pressures on their engagement with education Drawing on Bourdieu's theoretical tools and a model of egalitarian habitus Identity Neoliberalism and Aspiration Educating white working class boys will be of interest to academics researchers and postgraduate students in the field of sociology of education and those from related disciplines studying class and gender
