Race Place And Globalization Youth Cultures In A Changing World:

Race, Place and Globalization Anoop Nayak, 2003-10-01 What does it mean to be young in a changing world How are migration settlement and new urban cultures shaping young lives And in particular are race place and class still meaningful to contemporary youth cultures This path breaking book shows how young people are responding differently to recent social economic and cultural transformations From the spirit of white localism deployed by de industrialized football supporters to the hybrid multicultural exchanges displayed by urban youth young people are finding new ways of wrestling with questions of race and ethnicity Through globalization is whiteness now being displaced by black culture in fashion music and slang and if so what impact is this having on race politics Moreover what happens to those people and places that are left behind by changes in late modernity By developing a unique brand of spatial cultural studies this book explores complex formations of race and class as they arise in the subtle textures of whiteness respectability and youth subjectivity This is the first book to look specifically at young ethnicities through the prism of local global change Eloquently written its riveting ethnographic case studies and insider accounts will ensure that this book becomes a benchmark publication for writing on race in years to come

Youth Cultures and Subcultures Sarah Baker, Brady Robards, 2016-02-11 This volume critically examines subculture in a variety of Australian contexts exploring the ways in which the terrain of youth cultures and subcultures has changed over the past two decades and considering whether subculture still works as a viable conceptual framework for studying youth culture Richly illustrated with concrete case studies the book is thematically organised into four sections addressing i theoretical concerns and global debates over the continued usefulness of subculture as a concept ii the important place of belonging in subcultural experience and the ways in which belonging is played out across an array of youth cultures iii the gendered experiences of young men and women and their ways of navigating subcultural participation and iv the ethical and methodological considerations that arise in relation to researching and teaching youth culture and subculture Bringing together the latest interdisciplinary research to combine theoretical considerations with recent empirical studies of subcultural experience Youth Cultures and Subcultures will appeal to scholars and students across the social sciences

The Subcultural Imagination Shane Blackman, Michelle Kempson, 2016-06-17 The Subcultural Imagination discusses young adults in subcultures and examines how sociologists use qualitative research methods to study them

Through the application of the ideas of C Wright Mills to the development of theory reflexive ethnography this book analyses the experiences of young people in different subcultural settings as well as reflecting on how young people in subcultures interact in the wider context of society biography and history From Cuba to London and Bulgaria to Asia this book delves into urban spaces and street corners young people s parties gigs BDSM fetish clubs school the home and feminist zines to offer a picture of live sociology in practice In three parts the volume explores history biography and subculture practising reflexivity in the field epistemologies pedagogies and the subcultural subject The book offers cutting edge theory and rich empirical research on social class gender and ethnicities from both established and new researchers across diverse disciplinary backgrounds It moves the subcultural debate beyond the impasse of the term s relevance to one where researchers are fully engaged with the lives of the subcultural subjects This innovative edited collection will appeal to scholars and students in the areas of sociology youth studies media and cultural studies communication research methods and ethnography popular music studies criminology politics social and cultural theory and gender studies Youth Cultures, Transitions, and Generations Dan Woodman, Andy Bennett, 2016-04-29 Within contemporary youth research there are two dominant streams a transitions and a cultures perspective This collection shows that it is no longer possible to understand the experience of young people through these prisms and proposes new conceptual foundations for youth studies capable of bridging the gap between these approaches Loud and proud Hilary Pilkington, 2016-04-29 This electronic version has been made available under a Creative Commons BY NC open access license Loud and proud is an ethnographic study of grassroots activists in the English Defence League EDL Setting the findings within contemporary debates on race and racism Islamophobia social movements and the far right the author draws on interviews informal conversations and extensive observation at EDL events to explore and explain the gap between the public image of the movement as a violent Islamophobic and racist organisation and individual activists understanding of it as one big family Presenting them neither as duped by a charismatic leader nor working class anti heroes this book introduces EDL activists as individuals with real lives whose diverse trajectories in and out of activism are embedded in personal life stories The book will be of value to those researching or studying in the disciplines of sociology political science and anthropology as well as those with an interest in contemporary political issues and the populist and radical right Searching for a Better Life SORCHA Mahony, 2018-05-22 Life in Bangkok for young people is marked by profound interlocking changes and transitions This book offers an ethnographic account of growing up in the city s slums struggling to get by in a rapidly developing and globalizing economy and trying to fulfil one s dreams At the same time it reflects on the issue of agency exploring its negative potential when exercised by young people living under severe structural constraint It offers an antidote to neoliberal ideas around personal responsibility and the assumed potential for individuals to break through structures of constraint in any sustained way Battle for the Flag Amelia Johns, 2015-07-01 Ten years after the Cronulla riots the violence racism and branding of young bodies with signs and symbols of Australian nationalism along with the reprisal attacks by Lebanese Australian youth continues to inflame discussions about race relations in Australia with many conversations shifting away from ideas of multiculturalism and cultural diversity and towards patriotism localism security and fear of the predominantly Muslim Other Battle for the Flag contextualises and challenges the narrative by drawing upon participant observation and interviews conducted with local residents of diverse backgrounds By paying attention to the voices of bystanders and those involved the riot is identified as an unstable and fluid formation where the Australian flag the beach and whiteness itself was co-opted into a much more contingent contested and subcultural formation than hitherto described Islamic Studies Series Volume 18

New Approaches to Crime in French Literature, Culture and Film Louise Hardwick, 2009 The notion of crime crosses generic disciplinary and cultural frontiers In an era of identity fraud eco crime and global terrorism this collection moves towards a reconsideration of crime in the French and Francophone literary and cultural imagination How have our conceptions of criminal behaviour developed How has the French genre of crime fiction encompassing but not limited to the polar the roman policier and film noir evolved and reinvented itself The volume adopts a number of theoretical approaches which range from sociological and criminological discourse to literary criticism and postcolonial theory by Chamoiseau Durkheim Deleuze Foucault Glissant Krafft-Ebing and Todorov In a wide-ranging series of innovative and challenging readings it examines ideas which include the evolving concept of crime in literature from Voltaire and censorship through to scientific constructions of criminality in the nineteenth century and in the postcolonial era both within and outside metropolitan France The volume also explores textual crimes in contemporary Martinican women's writing crime as a genre in Andrzej Walicki and Serge Arcout and Jean Meckert Sebastien Japrisot and Dominique Manotti and visual responses to crime by artist Jacques Monory and filmmaker Didier Bivel
