Decolonizing Rhetoric and Composition Studies Iris D. Ruiz, Raúl Sánchez, 2016-10-15 This book brings together Latinx scholars in Rhetoric and Composition to discuss keywords that have been misused or appropriated by forces working against the interests of minority students For example in educational and political forums rhetorics of identity and civil rights have been used to justify ideas and policies that reaffirm the myth of a normative US culture that is white Eurocentric and monolingually English Such attempts amount to a project of neo colonization if we understand colonization to mean not only the taking of land but also the taking of culture of which language is a crucial part The editors introduce the concept of epistemic delinking and argue for its use in conceptualizing a kind of rhetorical and discursive decolonization and contributors offer examples of this decolonization in action through detailed work on specific terms Specifically they draw on their training in rhetoric and on their own experiences as people of color to help reset the field's agenda They also theorize new keywords to shed light on the great varieties of Latinx writing rhetoric and literacies that continue to emerge and circulate in the culture at large in the hope that the field will feel more urgently the need to recognize, theorize and teach the intersections of writing pedagogy and politics

Living Rhetoric and Composition Duane H. Roen, Stuart C. Brown, Theresa Jarnagi Enos, 1998-11 Approximately 20 short personal narratives that trace the history of the composition and rhetoric field describe its current state and relate the journeys of the contributing authors through the discipline

Reading, Writing, and the Rhetorics of Whiteness Wendy Ryden, Ian Marshall, 2013-03 In this volume Ryden and Marshall bring together the field of composition and rhetoric with critical whiteness studies to show that in our post race era whiteness and racism not only survive but actually thrive in higher education As they examine the effects of racism on contemporary literacy practices and the rhetoric by which white privilege maintains and reproduces itself Ryden and Marshall consider topics ranging from the emotional investment in whiteness to the role of personal narrative in reconstituting racist identities to critiques of the foundational premises of writing programs steeped in repudiation of despised discourses Marshall and Ryden alternate chapters to sustain a multi layered dialogue that traces the rhetorical complexities and contradictions of teaching English and writing in a university setting Their lived experiences as faculty and administrators serve to underscore the complex code of whiteness even as they push to decode it and demonstrate how their own pedagogical practices are raced and racialized in multiple ways Collectively the essays ask instructors and administrators to consider more carefully the pernicious nature of whiteness in their professional activities and how it informs our practices

Publisher's note Race(ing) Around in Rhetoric and Composition Circles Michelle T. Johnson, 2009 Race ing around in rhetoric and composition circles Racial literacy as the way out

National Healing Claude Hurlbert, 2013-02-01 In National Healing author Claude Hurlbert persuasively relates nationalism to institutional racism and contends that these are both symptoms of a national ill health afflicting American higher education and found even in the field of writing studies Teachers and scholars even in progressive fields like composition are unwittingly at odds with their own most liberatory purposes he says and he advocates consciously broadening our understanding of rhetoric and writing instruction to include rhetorical traditions of non Western cultures Threading a personal narrative of his own experiences as a student professor and citizen through a wide ranging discussion of theory pedagogy and philosophy in the writing classroom Hurlbert weaves a vision that moves beyond simple polemic and simplistic multiculturalism National Healing offers a compelling new aesthetic epistemological and rhetorical configuration

Interests and Opportunities

Steve Lamos,2011-09-30 In the late 1960s colleges and universities became deeply embroiled in issues of racial equality To combat this hundreds of new programs were introduced to address the needs of high risk minority and low income students In the years since university policies have flip flopped between calls to address minority needs and arguments to maintain Standard English Today anti affirmative action and anti access sentiments have put many of these high risk programs at risk In Interests and Opportunities Steve Lamos chronicles debates over high risk writing programs on the national level and locally at the University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign Using critical race theorist Derrick Bell s concept of interest convergence Lamos shows that these programs were promoted or derailed according to how and when they fit the interests of underrepresented minorities and mainstream whites administrators and academics He relates struggles over curriculum pedagogy and budget and views their impact on policy changes and course offerings Lamos finds that during periods of convergence disciplinary and institutional changes do occur albeit to suit mainstream standards In divergent times changes are thwarted or undone often using the same standards To Lamos understanding the past dynamics of convergence and divergence is key to formulating new strategies of local action and story changing that can preserve and expand race consciousness and high risk writing instruction even in adverse political climates

Reinventing (with) Theory in Rhetoric and Writing Studies

Andrea Alden,Kendall Gerdes,Judy Holiday,Ryan Skinnell,2019-10-21 Reinventing with Theory in Rhetoric and Writing Studies collects original scholarship that takes up and extends the practices of inventive theorizing that characterize Sharon Crowley s body of work Including sixteen chapters by established and emerging scholars and an interview with Crowley the book shows that doing theory is a contingent and continual rhetorical process that is indispensable for understanding situations and their potential significance and for discovering the available means of persuasion For Crowley theory is a basic building block of rhetoric produced by and within specific times and locations as a means of opening other ways of believing or acting Doing theory in this sense is the practice of surveying the common sense of the community doxa and discovering the available means of persuasion invention The ultimate goal of doing theory is not to prescribe certain actions but to ascertain what options exist for rhetors to see the world differently to discover new possibilities for thought and action and thereby to effect change in the world The scholarship collected in Reinventing with Theory in Rhetoric and Writing Studies takes Crowley's notion of theory as an invitation to develop new avenues for believing and acting By reinventing the understanding of theory and its role in the field this collection makes an important contribution to scholarship in rhetorical studies and writing studies It will be valuable to scholars teachers and students interested in diverse theoretical directions in rhetoric and writing studies as well as in race gender and disability theories religious rhetorics digital rhetoric and the history of rhetoric Publication supported in part by the Texas Tech University Humanities Center Contributors Jason Barrett Fox Geoffrey Clegg Kirsti Cole Joshua Daniel Wariya Diane Davis Rebecca Disrud Bre Garrett Catherine C Gouge Debra Hawhee Matthew Heard Joshua C Hilst David G Holmes Bruce Horner William B Lalicker Jennifer Lin LeMesurier James C McDonald Timothy Oleksiak Dawn Penich Thacker J Blake Scott Victor J Vitanza Susan Wyche
