Racial and Geographic Disparities in the Federal Death Penalty System United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on the Judiciary. Subcommittee on the Constitution, Federalism, and Property Rights, 2002 Women and Capital Punishment in the United States David V. Baker, 2015-11-26 The history of the execution of women in the United States has largely been ignored and scholars have given scant attention to gender issues in capital punishment This historical analysis examines the social political and economic contexts in which the justice system has put women to death revealing a pattern of patriarchal domination and female subordination The book includes a discussion of condemned women granted executive clemency and judicial commutations an inquiry into women falsely convicted in potentially capital cases and a profile of the current female death row population Race, Racism, and American Law Derrick Bell, 1992 From Lynch Mobs to the Killing State Charles J. Ogletree, Austin Sarat, 2006-05 Situates the linkage between race and the death penalty in the history of the U S Since 1976 over forty percent of prisoners executed in American jails have been African American or Hispanic This trend shows little evidence of diminishing and follows a larger pattern of the violent criminalization of African American populations that has marked the country s history of punishment In a bold attempt to tackle the looming question of how and why the connection between race and the death penalty has been so strong throughout American history Ogletree and Sarat headline an interdisciplinary cast of experts in reflecting on this disturbing issue Insightful original essays approach the topic from legal historical cultural and social science perspectives to show the ways that the death penalty is racialized the places in the death penalty process where race makes a difference and the ways that meanings of race in the United States are constructed in and through our practices of capital punishment From Lynch Mobs to the Killing State not only uncovers the ways that race influences capital punishment but also attempts to situate the linkage between race and the death penalty in the history of this country in particular the history of lynching In its probing examination of how and why the connection between race and the death penalty has been so strong throughout American history this book forces us to consider how the death penalty gives meaning to race as well as why the racialization of the death penalty is uniquely American      Racist America Joe R. Feagin, Kimberley Ducey, 2025-07-04 The fifth edition of Racist America is thoroughly revised and updated focusing on systemic racism and antiracism issues especially those arising since the fourth edition 2019 Expanding the discussion on racialized intersectionality as well as on the white racial frame elite white male dominance system and antiracist action this book details how these racism realities continue to impact black Latino Asian Indigenous and white Americans The book explains how and why the Black Lives Matter movement and other antiracist protests have erupted how and why Latino Asian and Indigenous Americans have responded to expanding racist discrimination and how and why a diverse array of Americans has demanded major societal responses to dismantle entrenched white racism      Race, Ethnicity, and Crime Dianne Williams, 2012 Melting pot or tossed salad the U S criminal justice system may prove to be fueling intolerance rather than enabling society to accommodate racial and ethnic differences This fresh new textbook to balance theory and the real world addressing topics relating to race ethnicity criminality and criminalization looking at the criminal justice system the media and the death penalty In addition to information on crime and incarceration rates White collar crime and the typical criminal the discussion of minorities and public perceptions is set within a broader context including the issues of terrorism and human trafficking where race and ethnicity are also vital to public perceptions the manual is designed for junior colleges and four year colleges including those offering distance learning courses It is a thought provoking combination of facts and questions the pedagogical focus is on collaborative problem based learning with foundational support for the development of critical thinking and analytical skills      Race, Class, and the Death Penalty Howard W. Allen, Jerome M. Clubb, 2009-01-01 In Race Class and the Death Penalty Howard W. Allen and Jerome M. Clubb examine historical trends in the use of capital punishment in the United States Employing empirical data the authors explore how frequently the death penalty has been used and how its frequency of use has changed where the death penalty was used most often the offenses charged and the characteristics of the executed Not surprisingly their findings indicate that minority groups particularly African Americans and those of lower social and economic status in general have been executed in disproportionate numbers The authors conclude that while the use of the death penalty has progressively declined and the range of capital offenses has narrowed disparities in the use of capital punishment between social groups and regions that appeared in the colonial period have persisted into the twenty first century      The Death Penalty Megan Manzano, 2017-12-15 Is capital punishment morally justified Although the issue generates strong opinions there are no easy answers when it comes to taking the life of a human being Supporters of the death penalty believe it deters law breaking and is the only punishment strong enough for horrific crimes such as child murder and genocide Opponents argue that it violates human rights and point to its finality in the face of judicial system error and unfairness This resource presents a fascinating progression of current viewpoints that reflect the many facets of the death penalty debate

Killing with Prejudice R.J. Maratea, 2019-03-26 A history of the McCleskey v Kemp Supreme Court ruling that effectively condoned racism in capital cases In 1978 Warren McCleskey a black man killed a white police officer in Georgia He was convicted by a jury of 11 whites and 1 African American and was sentenced to death Although McCleskey s lawyers were able to prove that Georgia courts applied the death penalty to blacks who killed whites four times as often as when the victim was black the Supreme Court upheld the death sentence in McCleskey v Kemp thus institutionalizing the idea that racial bias was acceptable in the capital punishment system After a thirteen year legal journey McCleskey was executed in 1991 In Killing with Prejudice R J Maratea chronicles the entire litigation process which culminated in what has been called the Dred Scott decision of our time Ultimately the Supreme Court chose to overlook compelling empirical evidence that revealed the discriminatory manner in which the assailants of African Americans are systematically undercharged and the aggressors of white victims are far more likely to receive a death sentence He draws a clear line from the lynchings of the Jim Crow era to the contemporary acceptance of the death penalty and the problem of mass incarceration today The McCleskey decision underscores the racial socioeconomic and gender disparities in modern American capital punishment and the case is fundamental to understanding how the death penalty functions for the defendant victims and within the American justice system as a whole
