Crisis of Race in Higher Education William F. Tate IV,Nancy Staudt,Ashley Macrander,2016-12-22 The compendium of writings in this edited volume sheds light on the event Race Ethnicity A Day of Discovery and Dialogue at Washington University in St Louis and the work current students faculty and staff are doing to improve inclusivity on campus and in St Louis Compelling Interest Mitchell J. Chang,Daria Witt,James Jones,Kenji Hakuta,2003-03-12 In recent years American colleges and universities have become the locus of impassioned debates about race conscious social policies as conflicting theories clash over the ways to distribute the advantages of higher education in a fair and just manner Just below the surface of these policy debates lies a complex tangle of ideologies histories grievances and emotions that interfere with a rational analysis of the issues involved As never before the need for empirical research on the significance of race in American society seems essential to solving the manifest problems of this highly politicized and emotionally charged aspect of American higher education The research evidence presented in this book has a direct relevance to those court cases that challenge race

conscious admission policies of colleges and universities Though many questions still need to be addressed by future research the empirical data collected to date makes it clear that affirmative action policies do work and are still very much needed in American higher education This book also provides a framework for examining the evidence pertaining to issues of fairness merit and the benefits of diversity in an effort to assist courts and the public in organizing beliefs about race and opportunity

Diversity Leadership in Higher Education Adalberto Aguirre, Jr., Ruben O. Martinez, 2006 Promoting diversity as a core value among social groups is one of the major challenges faced by institutions of higher education in the United States By focusing on racial and ethnic minorities in higher education this monograph provides a view of diversity as a positive and dynamic social force in society that promotes its integration as a core value and process Diversity leadership challenges higher education to move beyond co optation strategies in which diversity is viewed as a descriptive and static organizational element to the adoption of transformational strategies in which diversity is viewed as a dynamic and positive process Through the promotion and development of diversity leadership institutional leadership is seen as building capacity to promote inclusive learning and workplace environments in colleges and universities As demographic shifts in US society create an ever expanding context in which the well being of the nation becomes increasingly linked to the social and cultural groups that have been systematically excluded from full participation in American society the need for positive cultural and structural changes that foster their inclusion in higher education becomes an important challenge to address This volume provides an overview of the context for diversity leadership roles and practices in higher education It argues for an alignment between institutions of higher education and the diverse populations they serve in this country This is volume 32 number 3 of the ASHE Higher Education Report a bi monthly journal published by Jossey Bass See our entire list of ASHE Higher Education Report titles for a wide variety of critical issues facing Higher Education today

Diversity and Inclusion on Campus Rachelle Winkle-Wagner, Angela M. Locks, 2019-10-21 This new and updated second edition of Diversity and Inclusion on Campus Supporting Students of Color in Higher Education provides an exploration of the range of college experiences from gaining access to higher education to successfully persisting through degree programs By bridging research theory and practice related to the ways that peers faculty administrators staff and institutions can and do influence racially and ethnically diverse students experiences Winkle Wagner and Locks examine how and why it is imperative to have an understanding of the issues that affect students of color in higher education This new edition also includes features such as New case studies and examples throughout that allow readers to take institutional level and student level approaches to the chapter topics Updated citations and theory across chapters New topical coverage including discussion of college affordability an exploration of a variety of institution types and the role of merit in maintaining and perpetuating racial inequality in higher education End of chapter questions that encourage readers to explore chapter concepts in more detail This second edition is an invaluable resource for future and current higher education and student affairs practitioners

What Makes Racial Diversity Work in Higher Education Frank W. Hale, 2023-07-03 A unique reference describing successful diversity initiatives in higher education Higher education like the nation is facing major demographic changes Our colleges and universities recognize they not only have to be more inclusive but that they have to provide an environment that will effectively retain and develop the growing population of ethnically and racially diverse students How ready are they and what should they be doing Frank W Hale Jr known as the Dean of Diversity for his pioneering efforts in establishing Ohio State as one of the institutions graduating the most Black Ph D s has gathered twenty two leading scholars and administrators from around the country who describe the successful diversity programs they have developed Recognizing the importance of diversity as a means of embracing the experiences perspectives and expertise of other cultures this book shares what has been most effective in helping institutions to create an atmosphere and a campus culture that not only admits students faculty and staff of color but accepts and welcomes their presence and participation This is a landmark reference for every institution concerned with inclusivity and diversity The successes it presents offers academic leaders much they can learn from and ideas and procedures they can adapt as they discuss and develop their own campus policies and initiatives Contributors Samuel Betances Donald Brown Carlos E Cort s Myra Gordon Linda S Greene Frank W Hale Jr Margaret N Harrigan William B Harvey Freeman A Hrabowski III Lee Jones William Brit Kirwan Paul Kivel Antoinette Miranda JoAnn Moody Leslie N Pollard Neil L Rudenstine William E Sedlacek Mac A Stewart M Rick Turner Clarence G Williams Raymond A Winbush

Race and Higher Education Annie Howell, Frank Tuitt, 2003-01-01 The contributors to Race and Higher Education guide educators toward an understanding of how changes in the student population call for new approaches to classroom instruction and address the need for new pedagogical practices in increasingly diverse college classrooms Over the last few decades U S colleges and universities have witnessed increasing diversity in their student bodies Yet faculty members operating on the notion that one pedagogy fits all students continue to employ traditional modes of instruction This adherence to outdated pedagogies has created potentially harmful learning environments for all students and particularly for students of color Race and Higher Education addresses this persistent problem guiding educators toward a better understanding of how changes in the student population have resulted in the need for new approaches to classroom instruction By including voices from inside classrooms along with analyses from scholarly researchers this volume provides college and university teachers administrators students and scholars with a critical instrument for improving higher education

The Racial Crisis in American Higher Education William A. Smith, Philip G. Altbach, Kofi Lomotey, 2012-02-01 Why is it that as we enter the twenty first century the nation s predominantly white colleges and universities continue to be settings where people of color feel unwelcome and marginalized The contributors to this volume dissect a variety of structural and attitudinal factors that are prevalent in the higher education community organizational constructs and value orientations which seem to hark more to the past than to the future

They comment on the political social and economic factors that have shaped academic culture and buttressed its quietly efficient maintenance of racially discriminatory practices The American system of higher education is often regarded as the best in the world Smith Altbach and Lomotey have edited a volume that implicitly asks how much better still it could be if it embraced people of color and provided them with a supportive and nurturing environment one which encouraged them to reach their fullest creative and intellectual potential Indeed this will probably be the most significant challenge that the academy faces in the twenty first century William B Harvey Vice President and Director Office of Minorities in Higher Education American Council on Education Washington D C

Ethnic Studies and Multiculturalism Thomas J. La Belle, 1996-01-01 La Belle and Ward address a major question confronting American higher education How do colleges and universities best prepare students for common citizenship in a diverse democratic state while also nurturing their groups cultures values and institutional participation The authors clarify current debates about diversity and the content of curriculum what one commentator calls the culture wars The book includes an overview of ethnicity intergroup relations and related concepts the history and development of multiculturalism and ethnic studies in higher education in the United States and an analysis of the issues related to diversity in higher education particularly as they relate to tensions between ethnic studies and multicultural efforts

Promoting Racial and Ethnic Diversity in the Faculty, 2010 Diversity in American Higher Education Lisa M. Stulberg, Sharon Lawner Weinberg, 2012-05-23 Diversity has been a focus of higher education policy law and scholarship for decades continually expanding to include not only race ethnicity and gender but also socioeconomic status sexual and political orientation and more However existing collections still tend to focus on a narrow definition of diversity in education or in relation to singular topics like access to higher education financial aid and affirmative action By contrast Diversity in American Higher Education captures in one volume the wide range of critical issues that comprise the current discourse on diversity on the college campus in its broadest sense This edited collection explores legal perspectives on diversity and affirmative action higher education s relationship to the deeper roots of K 12 equity and access policy politics and practice s effects on students faculty and staff Bringing together the leading experts on diversity in higher education scholarship Diversity in American Higher Education redefines the agenda for diversity as we know it today Modeling Mentoring Across Race/Ethnicity and Gender Caroline Sotello Viernes Turner, Juan Carlos González, 2023-07-03 While mentorship has been shown to be critical in helping graduate students persist and complete their studies and enter upon and succeed in their academic careers the under representation of faculty of color and women in higher education greatly reduces the opportunities for graduate students from these selfsame groups to find mentors of their race ethnicity or gender Recognizing that mentoring across gender race and ethnicity inserts levels of complexity to this important process this book both fills a major gap in the literature and provides an in depth look at successful mentorships between senior white and under represented scholars and emerging women scholars and scholars of color Following a comprehensive review of the literature this book presents chapters written by scholars who share in depth descriptions of their cross gender and or cross race ethnicity mentoring relationships Each article is co authored by mentors who are established senior scholars and their former prot g s with whom they have continuing collegial relationships Their descriptions provide rich insights into the importance of these relationships and for developing the academic pipeline for women scholars and scholars of color Drawing on a comparative analysis of the literature and of the narrative chapters the editors conclude by identifying the key characteristics and pathways for developing successful mentoring relationships across race ethnicity or gender and by offering recommendations for institutional policy and individual mentoring practice For administrators and faculty concerned about diversity in graduate programs and academic departments they offer clear models of how to nurture the productive scholars and teachers needed for tomorrow's demographic of students for underrepresented students they offer compelling narratives about the rewards and challenges of good mentorship to inform their expectations and the relationships they will develop as protégés

Strategic Plan to Ensure Racial and Ethnic Diversity in Connecticut Public Higher Education
 Connecticut. Board of Governors for Higher Education, 1985

Strategic Plan to Ensure Racial and Ethnic Diversity in Connecticut Public Higher Education, 2007. Annual Report
 Connecticut. Department of Higher Education, 2007

Increasing the participation of minority groups at public colleges and universities is a longstanding goal of the Board of Governors for Higher Education as first outlined in its 1983 Strategic Plan to Ensure Racial and Ethnic Diversity in Connecticut Public Higher Education. The minority groups defined by the plan are Hispanic Latino African American Asian American and Native American listed in order of their current proportional presence in the state's population. Since enactment of the Strategic Plan, students attending and graduating from Connecticut's public colleges and universities have become more racially and ethnically diverse and 2006 continues a trend of year to year incremental progress. The number of minority group members among both enrolled students and degree recipients at the undergraduate level reached record levels. There has also been a steady increase in the number of minority group members employed as professionals at public institutions. The overall trends are:

- 1 In fall 2006, minorities numbered 24,278 or 25.3 percent of all undergraduate students enrolled in the state's public institutions of higher education, exceeding their proportional presence in the state's population for the ninth consecutive year.
- 2 During the 2005-06 academic year, minority students received 2,476 or 18.9 percent of all undergraduate degrees (associate and bachelor's degrees) conferred by the state's public colleges and universities.
- 3 Among full-time professionals employed by the state's public institutions of higher education, 1,444 were minority group members at the end of 2006.

Despite impressive growth over the course of the past 23 years, disproportional levels of achievement in minority enrollment, graduation, and employment persist. Persistent areas of racial/ethnic disparity in Connecticut's public higher education include:

- 1 Hispanic Latinos are the only minority group whose overall undergraduate enrollment level has not reached its proportion of the state's population.
- 2 Hispanic Latino and African American students are overrepresented in their enrollment at community colleges and underrepresented at universities.
- 3 Disproportionate numbers of Hispanic Latino and African American students who enroll in college fail to attain an undergraduate degree.
- 4 Hispanic Latinos are underrepresented in each of the professional/occupational categories within the professional workforce of the public institutions of higher education.

This report summarizes the activities and progress achieved in 2006 to ensure that Connecticut's public colleges and universities are representative of the state's racial and ethnic diversity. Contains 25 tables and 6 graphs.
