Racially Biased Policing Lorie A. Fridell, 2001 Producing Bias-Free Policing Lorie A. Fridell, 2016-08-03 This Brief provides specific recommendations for police professionals to reduce the influence of implicit bias on police practice which will improve both effectiveness in a shift towards evidence based rather than bias based practices and police legitimacy The author is donating her proceeds from this book to the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial Fund nleomf.org

Racially Biased Policing Lorie A. Fridell, Police Executive Research Forum, United States. Department of Justice. Office of Community Oriented Policing Services, 2001 The Encyclopedia of Police Science Jack R. Greene, 2007 First published in 1996 this work covers all the major sectors of policing in the United States Political events such as the terrorist attacks of September 11 2001 have created new policing needs while affecting public opinion about law enforcement This third edition of the Encyclopedia examines the theoretical and practical aspects of law enforcement discussing past and present practices

Commerce, Justice, Science, and Related Agencies Appropriations for 2015 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Commerce, Justice, Science, and Related Agencies, 2014 Police Leadership in a Democracy James Isenberg, 2017-07-27 Every day the media floods the airwaves with their often contradictory version of the role and behavior of the police force Based on this you might think that police officers either brutally enforce their own interpretation of the nation's laws or use all the modern tools available to carefully and persistently uncover the special clues that lead Law Enforcement and Justice Administration Clyde L. Social Consciousness in Legal Decision Making Richard L. Wiener, Brian H. Bornstein, Robert Schopp, Steven L. Willborn, 2007-05-11 This book invites the legal and psychology communities to work together in solving some of our most pressing social problems It examines four controversial areas involving people's perceptions of others The book is therefore a guide to understanding the valuable contribution of social scientific research in policy formulation in the law and it addresses the role of psychology in substantive law and legal decision making Encyclopedia of Law Enforcement Larry E

Reisig, Robert J. Kane, 2014 The police are perhaps the most visible representation of government They are charged with what has been characterized as an impossible mandate control and prevent crime keep the peace provide public services and do so within the constraints of democratic principles The police are trusted to use deadly force when it is called for and are allowed access to our homes in cases of emergency In fact police departments are one of the few government agencies that can be mobilized by a simple phone call 24 hours a day 7 days a week They are ubiquitous within our society but their actions are often not well understood Racialized Policing Elizabeth Comack, 2012-03-01T00:00:00Z Policing is a controversial subject generating considerable debate One issue of concern has been racial profiling by police that is the alleged practice of targeting individuals and groups on the basis of race Racialized Policing argues that the debate has been limited by its individualized frame As well the concentration on police relations with people of colour means that Aboriginal people's encounters with police receive far less scrutiny Going beyond the interpersonal level and broadening our gaze to explore how race and racism play out in institutional practices and systemic processes this book exposes the ways in which policing is racialized Situating the police in their role as reproducers of order Elizabeth Comack draws on the historical record and contemporary cases of Aboriginal police relations the shooting of J J Harper by a Winnipeg police officer in 1988 the Starlight Tours in Saskatoon and the shooting of Matthew Dumas by a Winnipeg police officer in 2005 as well as interviews conducted with Aboriginal people in Winnipeg's inner city communities to explore how race and racism inform the routine practices of police officers and define the cultural frames of reference that officers adopt in their encounters with Aboriginal people In short having defined Aboriginal people as troublesome police respond with troublesome practices of their own Arguing that resolution requires a fundamental transformation in the structure and organization of policing Racialized Policing makes suggestions for re framing the role of police and the order they reproduce

Race, Ethnicity, and Policing Stephen K Rice, Michael D White, 2010-03-01 From Rodney King and driving while black to claims of targeting of undocumented Latino immigrants relationships surrounding race ethnicity and the police have faced great challenge Race Ethnicity and Policing includes both classic pieces and original essays that provide the reader with a comprehensive even handed sense of the theoretical underpinnings methodological challenges and existing research necessary to understand the problems associated with racial and ethnic profiling and police bias This path breaking volume affords a holistic approach to the topic guiding readers through the complexity of these issues making clear the ecological and political contexts that surround them and laying the groundwork for future discussions The seminal and forward thinking twenty two essays clearly illustrate that equitable treatment of citizens across racial and ethnic groups by police is one of the most critical components of a successful democracy and that it is only when agents of social control are viewed as efficient effective and legitimate that citizens will comply with the laws that govern their society The book includes an introduction by Robin S Engel and contributions from leading scholars including Jeffrey A Fagan James J Fyfe Bernard E Harcourt Delores Jones Brown Ramiro Martinez Jr Karen F Parker Alex R Piquero Tom R Tyler Jerome H Skolnick Ronald Weitzer and many others

Constitutional Law Jacqueline Kanovitz, 2014-09-19 Presents an up to date analysis of critical constitutional issues Special attention is given to issues of greatest concern to criminal justice personnel detention arrest search and seizure interrogations and confessions self incrimination due process and right to counsel Also includes constitutional aspects of criminal and civil liabilities of justice personnel and constitutional and civil rights in the workplace Part II presents key cases to assist in interpreting the constitutional provisions

Racial Profiling Michael L. Birzer, 2012-11-14 Many racial minority communities claim profiling occurs frequently in their neighborhoods Police authorities for the most part deny that they engage in racially biased police tactics A handful of books have been published on the topic but they tend to offer only anecdotal reports offering little reliable insight Few use a qualitative methodol

Police Theory in America Robert C. Wadman, 2009 measurement of effective policing is based on a quick response to crime that has already been committed the value of crime prevention has become an afterthought in America s police departments The middle chapters outline these issues and identify the strategies to improve police community relationships and adjust the measurements for effective policing The concluding chapters identify strategies designed to facilitate police department organizational change Using terms from the discipline of economics a micro strategy and a macro strategy are outlined A new theory of policing concludes the book The book is intended primarily as a textbook for criminal justice students but it will also prove useful to police departments police academies city managers and elected officials responsible for police administration and community safety

Police Power and Race Riots Cathy Lisa Schneider, 2014-07-17 Three weeks after Lyndon Johnson signed the Civil Rights Act of 1964 a New York City police officer shot and killed a fifteen year old black youth inciting the first of almost a decade of black and Latino riots throughout the United States In October 2005 French police chased three black and Arab teenagers into an electrical substation outside Paris culminating in the fatal electrocution of two of them Fires blazed in Parisian suburbs and housing projects throughout France for three consecutive weeks Cathy Lisa Schneider explores the political legal and economic conditions that led to violent confrontations in neighborhoods on opposite sides of the Atlantic half a century apart Police Power and Race Riots traces the history of urban upheaval in New York and greater Paris focusing on the interaction between police and minority youth Schneider shows that riots erupted when elites activated racial boundaries police engaged in racialized violence and racial minorities lacked alternative avenues of redress She also demonstrates how local activists who cut their teeth on the American race riots painstakingly constructed social movement organizations with standard nonviolent repertoires for dealing with police violence These efforts along with the opening of access to courts of law for ethnic and racial minorities have made riots a far less common response to police violence in the United States today Rich in historical and ethnographic detail Police Power and Race Riots offers a compelling account of the processes that fan the flames of urban unrest and the dynamics that subsequently quell the fires The Changing

Environment for Policing, 1985-2008 David H. Bayley, 2010 Our thesis is that policing in the mid 1980s was perceived to be in crisis and there was a strong sense that fundamental changes were needed in the way it was delivered In contrast police are considered to be performing well 20 years later by both practitioners and outside observers Crime has been falling for almost 18 years and any new challenges including terrorism appear to be manageable without the invention of new strategies for the delivery of police services Past experience contains the lessons needed for the future In our view this assessment may be mistaken not because existing policies are defective in controlling crime but because the institutions that provide public safety are changing in profound ways that are not being recognized
