Racing The Iditarod Trail:

Racing the Iditarod Kristen Rajczak Nelson, 1900-01-01 It's hard to fathom what it would be like crossing 1100 miles 1770 km of Alaskan wilderness on a dogsled. The frigid conditions alone would make many adventurers think twice about this challenge. Throw in unexpected encounters with angry moose and dangerous journeys across melting lakes and readers have an idea of what the remarkable race called the Iditarod is all about. From its heroic beginnings to its most amazing winners, all aspects of this dogsled race are covered with special attention to the real athletes: the dogs. The Iditarod Ian

Young, 2003 Recalls the history of the Iditarod dogsled race including some of its greatest mushers and dogs and explains how teams and volunteers prepare for and run this famous Alaskan race. Racing the Iditarod Trail Ruth Crisman, 1993 Describes the annual 1049 mile sled dog race in Alaska and the dramatic life or death event that prompted the Iditarod.

Iditarod Alaska Burt Bomhoff, 2005-01-01 For many Alaska's golden years were at the turn of the last century when gold miners and fur traders plied the rivers and trails of this great Alaska in search of adventure and fortune. Men, tough guys who had character, traveled by foot, riverboat, and dog team through a land where few could survive, much less thrive. It wasn't just the adventure; it was the grandeur of Alaska: the deep woods, the open tundra, and the rugged mountains. And it was also the life that meant so much: The fellowship of friends sitting around a campfire talking of things simple but important, things of the deep woods where the wolves howled and the northern lights danced across a clear black star-studded sky. This same life these people and the husky sled dogs were found along the Iditarod race trail during the 1980s. Burt describes the life in a small wilderness cabin, the comradery of friends around a campfire, the dogs, the characters, and the great Alaska wilderness. It brings back fond memories for us who lived it and tells in detail of these great times for others who want to know what it was really like. Running with Champions Lisa Frederic, 2012-02-29 An inspiring book about dedication, the love of dogs, and the physical endurance and mental toughness needed to run the Iditarod sled dog race from a female perspective. Lisa Frederic didn't set out to run the Iditarod. She just fell in love with the event and wanted to help. She ended up working as a volunteer for the Trail Committee at various checkpoints. Then she helped Iditarod champion Jeff King train his puppies. She had never mushed before. She was a rookie, but a rookie with heart and drive. She started out with short races and eventually raced the 1049 miles from Anchorage to Nome in the Iditarod. Her story speaks to everyone who has ever followed a dream and found that the dream realized is even bigger than the imagined one. Iditarod Tricia Brown, 2014-02-03 For sled
