Racism Matters:

Racism Matters William D. Wright, 1998-09-24 This work offers a new discussion of racism in America that focuses on how White people have been affected by their own racism and how it impacts upon relations between Blacks and Whites This study draws attention to how racism is distinctly different from race and it shows how since the late 17th century most Whites have been afflicted by their own racism as evidenced by considerable delusional thinking dehumanization alienation from America and psychological and social pathology White people have created and maintained a White racist America which is the antithesis of liberty equality justice and freedom Black people continue to be the primary victims of this culture Although racism in America has changed since the 1950s and 1960s from a blatant and violent White racist America to a less violent and more subtle White racist America racism still severely hampers the ability of most Blacks to develop and be free The continuing racist context in which Blacks live requires that they organize and use effective group power or Black Power to help themselves One obstacle to Black achievement is the use of intelligence tests which are wholly unscientific and represent a manifestation of subtle White racism A challenge to the writing on race in this country this work focuses on the victims and not the perpetrators

Why Race Still Matters Alana Lentin, 2020-04-22 Why are you making this about race This question is repeated daily in public and in the media Calling someone racist in these times of mounting white supremacy seems to be a worse insult than racism itself In our supposedly post racial society surely it's time to stop talking about race This powerful refutation is a call to notice not just when and how race still matters but when how and why it is said not to matter Race critical scholar Alana Lentin argues that society is in urgent need of developing the skills of racial literacy by jettisoning the idea that race is something and unveiling what race does as a key technology of modern rule hidden in plain sight Weaving together international examples she eviscerates misconceptions such as reverse racism and the newfound acceptability of race realism bursts the I'm not racist but justification complicates the common criticisms of identity politics and warns against using concerns about antisemitism as a proxy for antiracism Dominant voices in society suggest we are talking too much about race Lentin shows why we actually need to talk about it more and how in doing so we can act to make it matter less

Race Matters, Animal Matters Lindgren Johnson, 2017-11-08 Race Matters Animal Matters challenges one of the grand narratives of African American studies that African Americans rejected racist associations of blackness and animality through a disassociation from animality Analyzing canonical texts written by Frederick Douglass Charles Chesnutt Ida B Wells and James Weldon Johnson alongside slaughterhouse lithographs hunting photography and sheep husbandry manuals Lindgren Johnson argues instead for a critical African American tradition that at pivotal moments reconsiders and recuperates discourses of animality weaponized against both African Americans and animals Johnson articulates a theory of fugitive humanism in which these texts flee both white and human exceptionalism even as they move within and seek out a revised humanist space The focus for example is not on how African Americans shake off animal associations in demanding recognition of their humanity but on how they hold fast to animality and animals in making such a move revising the human itself as they go and undermining the binaries that helped to produce racial and animal injustices Fugitive humanism reveals how an interspecies ethics develops in these African American responses to violent dehumanization Illuminating those moments in which the African American canon exceeds human exceptionalism Race Matters Animal Matters ultimately shows how these black engagements with animals and animality are not subsequent to efforts for racial justice a mere extension of the abolitionist or antilynching movements but to the contrary are integral to those efforts This black authored temporality challenges widely accepted humanist approaches to the relationship between racial and animal justice as it anticipates and even critiques the valuable insights that animal studies and posthumanism have to offer in our current moment
