Racism And Ethnicity Critical Issues In New Zealand Society:

Racism and Ethnicity Paul Spoonley, 1988 Narratives of Migrant and Refugee Discrimination in New Zealand Angela McCarthy, 2022-08-31 This book explores the question of whether the conceptualisation of New Zealand as a welcoming nation is accurate Examining historical and contemporary narratives of migrant and refugee discrimination it considers the economic social political cultural and historical contexts from which discrimination emerges and its repercussions Alert to race and ethnicity gender age class religion and inter ethnic migrant conflict this volume traverses an array of discriminatory practices including xenophobia racism and sectarianism and responses to them With rich evidence fascinating new insights and engagement comparatively and transnationally with global themes of exploitation exclusion and inequalities Narratives of Migrant and Refugee Discrimination in New Zealand will appeal to scholars across the humanities and social sciences with interests in migration and diaspora studies race and ethnicity and refugee studies Meaningful Inconsistencies Neriko Musha Doerr, 2009 In the late twentieth century the categorization of individuals in ethnic terms affected by neoliberal reforms and the prioritization of market forces has transformed our institutions and wreaked havoc around the world Especially stark in societies that recognize their bi or multicultural make up such categorization influences how individuals view themselves and are viewed by others in the educational arena A small town in Aotearoa New Zealand with its contemporary shift toward official biculturalism and extensive free marketization of schooling is a prime example This important volume The Routledge Handbook of Architecture, Urban Space and Politics, Volume II Nikolina Bobic, Farzaneh Haghighi, 2024-11-22 Architecture and the urban are connected to challenges around violence security race and ideology spectacle and data The first volume of this handbook extensively explored these oppressive roles This second volume illustrates that escaping the corporatized and bureaucratized orders of power techno managerial and consumer oriented capitalist economic models is more urgent and necessary than ever before Herein lies the political role of architecture and urban space including the ways through which they can be transformed and alternative political realities constituted The volume explores the methods and spatial practices required to activate the political dimension and the possibility for alternative practices to operate in the existing oppressive systems while not being swallowed by these structures Fostering new political consciousness is explored in terms of the following themes Events and Dissidence Biopolitics Ethics and Desire Climate and Ecology Urban Commons and Social Participation Marginalities and Postcolonialism Volume II embraces engagement across disciplines and offers a wide range of projects and critical analyses across the so called Global North and South This multidisciplinary collection of 36 chapters provides the reader with an extensive resource of case studies and ways of thinking for architecture and urban space to become more emancipatory Chapter 1 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution CC BY 4.0 license Yearbook of New Zealand Jurisprudence, 2005 Understanding

Teaching and Learning Baljit Kaur, 2012-12-17 How do children individually and collectively make meanings of their learning experiences How can teachers become aware of children's meaning making on an ongoing basis Is it possible and useful to create an integrated theory of student learning How can classroom research enhance critical understandings of the situated nature of learning and teaching while taking into account the systemic and educational policy contexts How do differences such as class race culture gender and sexualities interact with student learning How can teachers respond effectively to the realities of today's diverse classrooms What are the current and emerging issues in classroom research These are just some of the questions this book grapples with It pays tribute to Professor Graham Nuthall's 1935-2004 research contributions a pioneering and internationally renowned classroom researcher of teaching and learning from New Zealand It has been written by emerging and experienced classroom researchers from several countries as part of a project aimed at building on and extending Nuthall's research and promoting the conducting teaching and supervision of classroom research The authors engage critically with theoretical methodological and pedagogical possibilities of their research using Nuthall's work as a springboard As a result all authors make links between theory and practice Further several leading international researchers contribute comments on future directions for classroom research and its relevance for teaching and learning Understanding teaching and Learning Classroom Research Revisited would be of interest to practicing or prospective teachers and teacher educators as well as scholars and students of teaching and learning Critical Issues in Anti-racist Research Methodologies George Jerry Sefa Dei, Gurpreet Singh Johal, 2005 Anti racism studies have blossomed over the years with scholarship and political work reinforcing each other to cement anti racist change But how do we understand anti racist research How is anti racist research methodology different from other methods of research investigation What are the principles of anti racism research This edited collection attempts to provide some answers by bringing together works that examine the perils and desires of anti racist research with a particular focus on the notion of difference and a serious consideration of the race gender class and sexuality intersections implications of educational research Routledge Library Editions: Education Mini-Set L Sociology of Education Various, 2021-06-23 Mini set L Sociology of Education re issues 48 volumes originally published between 1928 and 1990 The books in this mini set discuss Teaching and social change research processes in education class race culture and education marxist perspectives in the sociology of education the family and education the sociology of the classroom and school organization Political Expression and Ethnicity Kayleen M. Hazlehurst, 1993-02-28 Examination of the political manifestation of Maori ethnicity no Australian reference Towards Successful Schooling (RLE Edu L Sociology of Education) Hugh Lauder, Cathy Wylie, 2012-05-23 The editors have compiled this critical and comparative study of changes which took place in the New Zealand education system in the second half of the twentieth century For other Western societies who have felt the impact of New Right policies the New Zealand case is interesting because it provides some indication of how policies of decentralization in education might be used to develop egalitarian and democratic educational policies In recent years there have been major changes to educational systems in the Western world Often these changes have been justified by reference to successful educational practices in other countries However it is not always possible simply to abstract educational practices from one context and apply them in another successfully Moreover claims that policies in one country are more successful than those in another have to be treated cautiously there are always problems in making valid comparisons between the educational performances of different countries It is important therefore that critical and comparative studies are made of educational systems which take full account of the contexts in which they are embedded Routledge International Handbook of Critical Issues in Health and Illness Kerry Chamberlain, Antonia Lyons, 2021-07-27 The Routledge International Handbook of Critical Issues in Health and Illness is a multidisciplinary reference book that brings together cutting edge health and illness topics from around the globe It offers a range of theoretical and critical perspectives to provide contemporary insights into complex health issues that can offer ways to address inequitable patterns of illness and ill health This collection written by an international pool of expert academics from a range of disciplinary backgrounds is unique in providing theoretical and critical analyses on key health topics considering power and broader social structures that influence health and illness outcomes The chapters are organised in three parts The first covers medical contexts here chapters provide commentary and critical analysis of the history of medicine medicalisation pharmaceuticalisation services and care medical technology diagnosis screening personalised medicine and complementary and alternative medicine The second part covers life contexts chapters include a range of life contexts that have implications for health including gender sexuality reproduction disability ethnicity indigeneity inequality ageing and dying The third part covers shifting contextual domains chapters consider contemporary areas of life that are rapidly changing including bioethics digital health migration medical travel geography and place commercialisation globalisation and climate change The Routledge International Handbook of Critical Issues in Health and Illness is a key contemporary reference text for scholars students researchers and professionals across disciplines including sociology psychology anthropology geography medicine public health and health science Towards a Grammar of Race Arcia Tecun, Lana Lopesi, Anisha Sankar, 2022-10-21 A search for new ways to talk about race in Aotearoa New Zealand brought together this powerful group of scholars writers and activists For these authors attempts to confront racism and racial violence often stall against a failure to see how power works through race across our modern social worlds The result is a country where racism is all too often left unnamed and unchecked voices are erased the colonial past ignored and silence passes for understanding By bringing what is unspoken into focus Towards a Grammar of Race seeks to articulate and confront ideas of race in Aotearoa New Zealand an exploration that includes racial capitalism colonialism white supremacy and anti Blackness A recurring theme across the book is the inescapable entanglement of local and global manifestations of race Each of the contributors brings their own experiences and insights to the complexities of life in a racialised society and together their words make an important contribution to our shared and future lives on these shores Contributors to this book Pounamu Jade Aikman Faisal Al Asaad Mahdis Azarmandi Simon Barber Garrick Cooper Morgan Godfery Kassie Hartendorp Guled Mire Tze Ming Mok Adele Norris Nathan Rew Vera Seyra Beth Teklezgi Selome Teklezgi and Patrick Thomsen Mapping the Language of Racism Margaret Wetherell, Jonathan Potter, 1992 Divided into two parts this book reviews and criticizes sociological and psychological theoretical approaches to the topic of racism and introduces the challenges to them posed by discourse analysis It examines how white New Zealanders make sense of their own history and actions towards the Maori minority The Boundaries of Mixedness Erica Chito Childs, 2021-05-14 The Boundaries of Mixedness tackles the burgeoning field of critical mixed race studies bringing together research that spans five continents and more than ten countries Research on mixedness is growing yet there is still much debate over what exactly mixed race means and whether it is a useful term Despite a growing focus on and celebration of mixedness globally particularly in the media societies around the world are grappling with how and why crossing socially constructed boundaries of race ethnicity and other markers of difference matter when considering those who date marry raise families or navigate their identities across these boundaries What we find collectively through the ten studies in this book is that in every context there is a hierarchy of mixedness both in terms of intimacy and identity This hierarchy of intimacy renders certain groups as more or less marriable socially constructed around race ethnicity caste religion skin color and or region Relatedly there is also a hierarchy of identities where certain races languages ethnicities and religions are privileged and valued differently These differences emerge out of particular local histories and contemporary contexts yet there are also global realities that transcend place and space The Boundaries of Mixedness is a significant new contribution to mixed race studies for academics researchers and advanced students of Ethnic and Racial Studies Sociology History and Public Policy This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Intercultural Studies Exploring the Social and Academic Experiences of International Students in Higher Education Institutions Bista, Krishna, Foster, Charlotte, 2016-02-26 Cross cultural experiences in university settings have a significant impact on students lives by enriching the learning process and promoting cultural awareness and tolerance While studying abroad offers students unique learning opportunities educators must be able to effectively address the specific social and academic needs of multicultural learners Exploring the Social and Academic Experiences of International Students in Higher Education Institutions is a pivotal reference source for the latest research on the issues surrounding study abroad students in culturally diverse educational environments Featuring various perspectives from a global context on ensuring the educational structural and social needs of international students are met this book is ideally designed for university faculty researchers graduate students policy makers and academicians working with transnational students The Historical Globalization of Colorism Ronald E Hall, 2022-01-01 This topical book shows that racism by skin color is much more embedded and prevalent in the modern world than racism by race In the aftermath of globalization humanity has experienced unprecedented levels of interaction This book presents evidence to show that in the 21st century which is dependent on ever expanding communication technologies and new forms of visual media actually exacerbate historical mores of colorism in the lives of humanity i e African Asian Latinx Native and European descent The book discusses the historical roots and current values of idealization of light skin skin bleaching practices stereotypes of skin color developed through migration and cultural assimilation and health and educational consequences of colorism

Comparing Super-Diversity Fran Meissner, Steven Vertovec, 2017-10-02 The concept of super diversity has received considerable attention since it was introduced in Ethnic and Racial Studies in 2007 reflecting a broadening interest in finding new ways to talk about contemporary social complexity This book brings together a collection of essays which empirically and theoretically examine super diversity and the multi dimensional shifts in migration patterns to which the notion refers These shifts entail a worldwide diversification of migration channels differentiations of legal statuses diverging patterns of gender and age and variance in migrants human capital Across the contributions super diversity is subject to two modes of comparison a side by side studies contrasting different places and emergent conditions of super diversity and b juxtaposed arguments that have differentially found use in utilizing or criticizing super diversity descriptively methodologically or with reference to policy and public practice The contributions discuss super diversity and its implications in nine cities located in eight countries and four continents This book was originally published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies
