Missing Macleans:

The Missing Macleans Geoffrey Hoare, 1955 SCOTT Copy 1 From the John Holmes Library collection     A Spy Named Orphan: The Soviet Agent Who Stole the West's Greatest Secrets Roland Philipps, 2018-05-01 A lively and beautifully engineered biography John Banville New York Review of Books Donald Maclean was one of the most treacherous spies of the Cold War era a member of the infamous Cambridge Five spy ring yet the extent of this shrewd secretive man's betrayal has never fully been explored Drawing on formerly classified files A Spy Named Orphan documents the extraordinary story of a model diplomat leading a chilling double life until his exposure and defection to the USSR Philipps describes a man prone to alcoholic rages who rose through the ranks of the British Foreign Office while secretly transmitting through his Soviet handlers reams of diplomatic and military intelligence on the atom bomb and the shape of the postwar world A mesmerizing tale of blind faith and fierce loyalty alongside dangerous duplicity and human vulnerability Philipps's narrative will stand as the definitive account of the man codenamed Orphan     The Missing Macleans Geoffrey Hoare, 2016-05-06 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work was reproduced from the original artifact and remains as true to the original work as possible Therefore you will see the original copyright references library stamps as most of these works have been housed in our most important libraries around the world and other notations in the work This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work As a reproduction of a historical artifact this work may contain missing or blurred pages poor pictures errant marks etc Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant     Ruth Ellis: My Sister's Secret Life Muriel Jakubait, Monica Weller, 2012-11-01 The secret double life of Ruth Ellis and the Establishment cover up that led to her unjust hanging Ruth Ellis the last woman to be hanged in Britain was convicted fifty years ago for shooting her lover David Blakely The case became a notorious part of British criminal history and was turned into the film Dance with a Stranger The story that has been perpetuated ever since is that of a peroxide tart who killed in a fit of passion Yet crucial questions were left unasked in the original trial Ruth Ellis's sister Muriel Jakubait knew her longest of all She has never given up her search for justice Now after fifty years she has decided to reveal the hard facts about their shared upbringing and seek to piece together the full true story of her sister As she is at pains to point out the jealous killer tag has never been substantiated This is a story of power espionage lies loyalty poverty sex and betrayal It suggests a third man may have pulled the trigger for the fatal shots And that he belonged to a web of espionage into which Ruth Ellis fell long before the shooting Above all it indicates that Ruth was being run by Stephen Ward at least a decade before his name became public in the Profumo Scandal

Muriel's motive is about more than proving her sister Ruth's innocence. It's about reclaiming the right to tell the story of her own family stripped bare of the many tabloid myths that have accrued over the decades. She shows that Ruth was somebody damaged at a very early age who strove to make something of herself only to be caught up in something much bigger and end up paying with her life.

A Curious Peril Lara Vetter, 2019-09-09 Choice Outstanding Academic Title A Curious Peril examines the prose penned by modernist writer H. D. in the aftermath of World War II, a little known body of work that has been neglected by scholars and argues that the trauma H. D. experienced in London during the war profoundly changed her writing. Lara Vetter reveals a shift in these writings from classical escapist settings to politically aware explorations of gender, spirituality, nation and imperialism. Impelled by the shocking political crises of the early 1940s and increasingly sensitive to imperialist logics, H. D. began to write about the history of modern Europe using innovative forms and genres. She directed her well known interest in mysticism and otherworldly themes toward the material world of empire building and perpetual war. Vetter contends that H. D.'s postwar work is essential to understanding the writer's entire career, marking her entrance into late modernism and even foretelling crucial aspects of postmodernism.

Special Bibliographic Series US Army Military History Research Collection, 1978

Burgess and Maclean John Fisher, 1977 Examines the Cambridge Spy Ring which passed information to the Soviet Union during World War II and was active from the 1930s until at least into the early 1950s, coming to light after the defection of Donald Maclean and Guy Burgess to the Soviet Union in 1951.

Spying on the Nuclear Bear Michael S. Goodman, 2007 Based on previously unavailable sources, this book reveals the Anglo-American intelligence effort to penetrate the most secret domain of the Soviet government: its nuclear weapons program.

God Save the Queen US Army Military History Institute, Lawrence James-Alexander Lentz, 1979

Encyclopedia of Cold War Espionage, Spies, and Secret Operations R. C. S. Trahair, Robert L. Miller, 2013-10-18 The only updated Cold War spy encyclopedia in print.

The End of Religion Kathleen McPhillips, Naomi Goldenberg, 2020-10-22 Feminist theory has enhanced and expanded the agency, influence, status and contributions of women throughout the globe. However, feminist critical analysis has not yet examined how the assumption that religion is natural, timeless, universal and omnipresent supports sexist and race-based oppression. This book proposes radical new thinking about religion in order to better comprehend and confront the systematic disempowerment of women and marginalized groups. Utilising feminist and post-colonial analysis of access, equity and violence, contributors draw on recent critical theory to collapse accepted boundaries between religion and secularity with the aim of understanding that religion is a technology of governance in its function, meaning and history. The volume includes case studies focusing on how the category of religion is deployed to perpetuate male hegemony and racist inequities in Australia, Mexico, the United States, Britain and Canada. This trenchant feminist critique and academic analysis will be of key interest to scholars and students of Religion, Sociology, Political Science and Gender Studies.
